2. A brief description of the properties of Claimant and each of its subsidiary public utility companies used for the generation, transmission, and distribution of electric energy for sale, or for the production, transmission, and distribution of natural or manufactured gas, indicating the producing fields, gas manufacturing plants, and electric and gas distribution facilities, including all such properties which are outside the State in which Claimant and its subsidiaries are organized and all transmission or pipelines which deliver or receive electric energy or gas at the borders of such State.

2.1 Claimant and its subsidiaries, other than Pacific Gas and Electric Company, are not public utility companies for the purposes of the Public Utility Holding company Act of 1935 and do not own any such properties.

2.2 Pacific Gas and Electric Company is a public utility company. Pacific Gas and Electric Company owns and operates the following generation plants, all located in California:

Generation Type	County Location	Number of Units	Net Operating Capacity (MW)
Nuclear:
Diablo Canyon	San Luis Obispo	2	2,174
Hydroelectric:
Conventional	16 counties in northern and central California	107	2,684
Helms pumped storage	Fresno	3	1,212
Hydro electric subtotal		110	3,896
Fossil fuel:
Humboldt Bay ⁽¹⁾	Humboldt	2	105
Hunters Point ⁽²⁾	San Francisco	2	215
Mobile turbines	Humboldt	2	30
Fossil fuel subtotal		6	350
Total		118	6,420

- (1) The Humboldt Bay facilities consist of a retired nuclear generation unit, or Humboldt Bay Unit 3, and two operating fossil fuel-fired plants.
- (2) In July 1998, Pacific Gas and Electric Company reached an agreement with the City and County of San Francisco regarding the Hunters Point fossil fuel-fired plant, which has been designated as a "must run" facility by the California Independent System Operator to support system reliability. The agreement expresses Pacific Gas and Electric Company's intention to retire the plant when it is no longer needed.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company's electricity distribution network extends throughout all or a part of 46 of California's 58 counties, comprising most of northern and central California. At December 31, 2004, Pacific Gas and Electric Company owned 18,610 circuit miles of interconnected transmission lines operated at voltages of 500 kV to 60 kV and transmission substations with a capacity of 46,036 MVA. Electricity is transmitted across these lines and substations and is then distributed to customers through 123,054 circuit miles of distribution lines and substations with a capacity of 24,877 MVA. In 2004, Pacific Gas and Electric Company delivered 82,936 GWh to its customers, including 9,210 GWh delivered to direct access customers. Pacific Gas and Electric Company is interconnected with electric power systems in the Western Electricity Coordinating Council which includes 14 western states, Alberta and British Columbia, Canada, and parts of Mexico.

In connection with electricity industry restructuring, the California investor-owned electric utilities relinquished control, but not ownership, of their transmission facilities to the ISO, in 1998. The FERC has jurisdiction over these transmission facilities, and the revenue requirements and rates for transmission service are set by the FERC. The ISO, which is regulated by the FERC, controls the operation of the transmission system and provides open access transmission service on a nondiscriminatory basis. On July 8, 2003, the National Energy & Gas Transmission, Inc., or NEGT, formerly known as PG&E National Energy Group, Inc., a subsidiary of PG&E Corporation, filed a voluntary petition for relief under the provisions of Chapter 11 in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Maryland, Greenbelt Division. In anticipation of NEGT's Chapter 11 filing, PG&E Corporation's representatives, who previously served as directors of NEGT, resigned on July 7, 2003 and were replaced with directors who are not affiliated with PG&E Corporation. As a result, PG&E Corporation no longer retained significant influence over NEGT. Effective July 8, 2003, NEGT's results were no longer consolidated with those of PG&E Corporation and on October 29, 2004, NEGT's plan of reorganization became effective, at which time NEGT emerged from Chapter 11 and PG&E Corporation's equity ownership in NEGT was cancelled. At December 31, 2004, PG&E Corporation owned only PG&E National Energy Group, LLC, previously the holding company for all of NEGT and as such, no longer owned any claimant that holds interest directly or indirectly in an EWG.
