Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Array BioPharma Inc. (Array) and Amgen Inc. (Amgen) have entered into a Collaboration and License Agreement as of December 13, 2009 (the Agreement) granting Amgen the exclusive worldwide right to develop and commercialize Array's all-molecule glucokinase activator, ARRY-403. Under the Agreement, Array is responsible for completing Phase 1 clinical trials on ARRY-403. Array will also conduct further research funded by Amgen to create second generation glucokinase activators. Amgen is responsible for further development and commercialization of ARRY-403 and any resulting second generation compounds. The Agreement also provides Array with an option to co-promote any approved drugs with Amgen in the U.S. with certain limitations.

In consideration for the rights granted to Amgen under the Agreement, Amgen will pay Array an up-front fee of $60,000,000. Amgen will also pay Array for research on second generation compounds based on the number of full-time-equivalent scientists working on the discovery program. Array is also entitled to receive up to approximately $666 million in aggregate milestone payments if all clinical and commercialization milestones specified in the Agreement for ARRY-403 and at least one backup compound are achieved, as well as royalties on sales of any approved drugs developed under the Agreement. The Agreement will be in effect on a product-by-product and county-by-country basis until no further payments are due under the Agreement with respect to the applicable product in the applicable country, unless terminated earlier. Either party may terminate the Agreement in the event of a material breach of a material obligation under the Agreement by the other party upon 90 days prior notice, and Amgen may terminate the Agreement at any time upon notice of 60 or 90 days depending on the development activities going on at the time of such notice. The parties have also agreed to indemnify each other for certain liabilities arising under the Agreement.

This Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements, including statements about Array's potential to earn future milestone and royalty payments under its Agreement with Amgen and future plans to progress and develop ARRY-403. These statements involve significant risks and uncertainties, including those discussed in Array's most recent annual report filed on form 10-K, in Array's quarterly reports filed on Form 10-Q, and in other reports filed by Array with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Because these statements reflect Array's current expectations concerning future events, actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of many factors. These factors include, but are not limited to, risks associated with Array's dependence on its collaborators for the clinical development and commercialization of its out-licensed drug candidates and the ability of its collaborators and of Array to meet objectives tied to milestones and royalties. Array is providing this information as of December 14, 2009. Array undertakes no duty to update any forward-looking statements to reflect the occurrence of events or circumstances after the date of such statements or of anticipated or unanticipated events that alter any assumptions underlying such statements.
