Item 8.01. Other Events.

As previously reported by Laureate Education, Inc. (the Company), on January 24, 2018, a new Higher Education Law (the New Law) was passed by the Chilean Congress that would have prohibited for-profit organizations, such as the Company, from controlling universities in Chile. On March 27, 2018, the Chilean Constitutional Court (the Court) announced that it has declared unconstitutional the provision of the New Law that would have prohibited for-profit organizations from controlling universities. The Court stated that it would issue its written decision not later than April 26, 2018.

The Company is currently considering the decision of the Court and the impact that it will have on the application of the New Law to the Company and to the relationships that it maintains with the three non-profit Chilean universities accounted for as variable interest entities that are part of the Laureate International Universities network, and it will review the written decision of the Court once it is released. The Company's continuing evaluation of the impact of the New Law or additional guidance that may be issued regarding the implementation of the New Law may result in changes to its expectations regarding its ability to continue to account for the three Chilean non-profit universities as consolidated entities or whether it will be required to deconsolidate those entities.

SIGNATURES

Pursuant to the requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the registrant has duly caused this report to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned hereunto duly authorized.
