FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS: NO ASSURANCES INTENDED

This Report contains certain forward-looking statements regarding Global Concepts, its business and financial prospects. These statements represent Management's present intentions and its present belief regarding the company's future. Nevertheless, there are numerous risks and uncertainties that could cause our actual results to differ materially from the results suggested in this Report. Factors that might cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those discussed in the section entitled "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations - Risk Factors that May Affect Future Results." Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. We undertake no obligation to revise or publicly release the results of any revision to these forward-looking statements.

PART 1

Item 1. BUSINESS

Global Concepts, Ltd. was organized in 1998 under the name "Transportation Logistics Int'l, Inc." During its first five years, it was engaged in a number of transportation-related businesses. Those were gradually terminated or sold, and in July 2003 the last of our transportation-related subsidiaries terminated operations. Since July 2003 we have changed our corporate name, and expanded our focus. We have been investigating business opportunities in a wide variety of fields, and we continue to do so. Since June 2004 we have invested in three businesses, each of which is now a subsidiary of Global Concepts. These three are now the business operations of Global Concepts.

Our parent company, Global Concepts, has only three employees: our Chairman, our Secretary, and his administrative assistant. The executive offices of Global Concepts are leased from the family of our Secretary, Michael Margolies, for a fee of $1,000 per month.

COMPAGNIE LOGISTIQUE DE TRANSPORTS AUTOMOBILES

On October 1, 2004 Global Concepts acquired sixty percent (60%) of the capital stock of Compagnie Logistique de Transports Automobiles ("CLTA"). The remaining 40% is owned by four French individuals, two of whom are the senior management of CLTA. CLTA is a French corporation whose executive offices are located in Nugent sur Oise, France.

Over 90% of CLTA's business arises from its contract with Compagnie D'Affretement et de Transport ("CAT"), the company responsible for all distribution of Peugeot and Citroen automobiles in Europe. CLTA warehouses the vehicles, completes the final dealer preparation work before the automobiles are delivered, and delivers the automobiles to dealerships throughout Europe. CLTA also performs brake installation and testing of new cars for Peugeot. CLTA has the exclusive contract to perform the warehousing and vehicle preparation services required by CAT. It currently performs about 12% of the distribution work required by CAT, but believes that portion can increase if CLTA obtains the funds needed to purchase additional vehicle transporters.

CLTA currently leases a fleet of 63 auto transporters as well as 38 other vehicles used in its warehousing and preparation activities. CLTA's immediate plans are to expand its fleet of auto transporters in order to increase its share of CAT's distribution business. CLTA is also actively pursuing other firms in the same or similar business as potential acquisition targets, its goal being to accomplish the same end as purchasing a larger fleet. Since the business potential from its relationship with CAT is considerable, CLTA has no immediate plans to initiate any other lines of business.

CLTA's largest expense, after rent and labor, is insurance. For 2005 CLTA will maintain policies with three insurers, and pay over 288,000 Euros (@ $375,000).

CLTA's administrative offices and its warehousing location are located in a facility leased by CLTA in Chambly, France for a term ending June 2013. CLTA also has long-term leases for two parking facilities.

CLTA currently has 136 full-time employees. None of them is represented by a union.

ADVANCED MEDICAL DIAGNOSTICS, LLC

Advanced Medical Diagnostics LLC was organized in the Fall of 2003. In June 2004 Global Concepts acquired 100% of the equity in Advanced Medical Diagnostics.

Advanced Medical Diagnostics has developed a kit which enables an individual to test his or her blood for evidence of HIV infection. The test is manually-performed and visually read. It can be completed in less than 15 minutes with the blood obtained from a finger puncture. Properly utilized, the test will identify the presence of HIV-1 infection and/or HIV-2 infection with over 99% accuracy.

Human Immunodeficiency Viruses type 1 and type 2 ("HIV") are etiological agents of the acquired immunodeficiency syndrome ("AIDS"). HIV has been isolated from patients with AIDS, AIDS-related complex, and from healthy individuals at high risk for AIDS. Infection with HIV is followed by an acute flu-like illness. This phase may remain unnoticed and the relationship to HIV infection may not be clear in many cases. The acute phase is typically followed by an asymptomatic carrier state, which progresses to clinical AIDS in about 50% of infected individuals within ten years after seroconversion. Serological evidence of HIV infection may be obtained by testing for HIV antigens or antibodies in serum of individuals suspected of HIV infection. Antigens can generally be detected only during the acute phase and during the symptomatic phase of AIDS. Antibodies to HIV-1 and/or HIV-2 can be detected throughout virtually the total infection period, starting at or shortly after the acute phase and lasting until the end stage of AIDS. Therefore the use of highly sensitive antibody assays is the primary approach in serodiagnosis of HIV infection.

Our "HIV (1+2) Rapid Self-Test Kit" contains an immunoassay for the qualitative detection of antibodies to HIV-1 and HIV-2 in human whole blood. The test is comprised of a single use test device and a single use vial containing a pre-measured amount of a buffered developer solution. Each component is sealed in separate compartments of a single couch to form the test. A fingerstick whole blood specimen is collected and transferred into the sterile pipette, two drops from the pipette are deposited into the well of the test cassette. Two drops of the developed solution are then added to the test cassette well. As the diluted specimen flows through the test cassette, it re-hydrates the protein-A gold colorimetric reagent contained in the device. As the specimen continues up the strip, it encounters the T zone. If the specimen contains antibodies that react with the antigens immobilized on the nitrocellulose membrane, a reddish-purple line will appear, indicating the presence of antibodies to HIV in the specimen.

Advanced Medical Diagnostics owns no proprietary technology. The components of its HIV (1+2) Rapid Self-Test Kit are available to the public, and their utility for testing the presence of HIV infection is well-known. What Advanced Medical Diagnostics has added to the progress of medicine in this area is to organize the components into a kit that Advanced Medical Diagnostics is able to market profitably at a wholesale price of $5.20. To develop the kit, Advanced Medical Diagnostics has spent approximately $80,000 on research and development.

The relatively low price of the kit makes it particularly attractive in the "Third World" countries of Africa, Asia and Latin America. In many of these countries AIDS is rapidly becoming a social and economic catastrophe. Still other countries in these regions are seeking pro-active solutions to prevent the spread of AIDS. For this reason, Advanced Medical Diagnostics has been engaged in active discussions with governments in each of these regions regarding distribution of the kit. Within recent months both China and Peru have approved the kit for sale in their countries. Others are expected to follow in the near future. To date, however, we have received only preliminary orders for testing quantities of the kits, which do not produce significant revenues.

Advanced Medical Diagnostics has no plans to seek approval to market the HIV (1+2) Rapid Self-Test Kit in either the United States or the European Union. The cost of obtaining approval in these countries precludes us from doing so. Our market for the foreseeable future will include Asia, Africa and Latin America only. We have engaged dealers in each of those regions to market the HIV (1+2) Rapid Self-Test Kit, primarily to governments and non-governmental-organizations.

The HIV (1+2) Rapid Self-Test Kit is manufactured for Advanced Medical Diagnostics by a single contractor located in China. Our arrangement with the manufacturer requires that we post a letter of credit in the amount that we will pay for the kits. We are not able at this time, therefore, to maintain an inventory of kits, but must manufacture to order using our customer's credit to support our credit.

Advanced Medical Diagnostics employs five individuals, only one of whom is employed full-time. It will add additional employees as sales warrant. Its offices are located in an office building in East Orange owned by members of its management, and are provided free-of-charge.

J & J MARKETING, LLC

On October 1, 2004 Global Concepts acquired 80% of the equitable interest in J&J Marketing. The remaining 20% is owned by the founders of J&J Marketing, Jane and Michael Schub. The Schubs retained an option to repurchase the interest they sold to Global Concepts if, prior to May 15, 2005, Global Concepts enters bankruptcy proceedings or is party to a merger or acquisition or sale of assets in which it is not the surviving entity.

J&J Marketing produces and sells a line of six skin care products, including cleanser, facial scrub, toner, moisturizer, lifting mask, and moisturizing eye serum. The products are all natural with many organic ingredients. They are free of chemicals and preservatives. J&J Marketing sells them under the trademark "Savage Beauty(TM)."

The market for personal care products in the United States is dominated by a small number of industry giants, such as Avon, Proctor & Gamble, and Estee Lauder. Entry into that market is extremely difficult. J&J Marketing is seeking to enter the portion of that market devoted to natural and organic products, a niche which is more hospitable to small start-up brands. Nevertheless, even in that niche, J&J Marketing will face a considerable number of well-established brands, such as Kiss My Face, Weleda and Dr. Hauska that have already developed a presence in the market and can apply substantial financial resources to the task of preserving their market position.

J&J Marketing will attempt to compete in this market by combining an emphasis on the purity of its contents with sophisticated product packaging. Our goal is to present a product that is equally at home in health food store or a luxury boutique, thus differentiating our products from the more "earthy" character often associated with natural products. We are also seeking to build a place in the market by developing advantageous marketing relationships with brokers and independent sales representatives, and the kind of specialty stores where the style of our products will be advantageous. Our largest customer to date, for example, has been the specialty food chain, Whole Foods Market.

J&J Marketing commenced operations in 2002, as a part-time activity of its founders, Jane and Michael Schub. With the acquisition of J&J Marketing by Global Concepts in October 2004, our plan is to secure the funding that will enable this business to expand into a substantial business operation. To date we have marketed our products direct to stores, since we lacked sufficient inventory to permit us to engage a distributor. Now, however, J&J Marketing is engaged in redesigning our packaging in a manner which will substantially reduce production costs. This redesign will then be implemented in a production run of each product that will enable us to engage one or more distributors for Savage Beauty(TM). Once we have a distributor engaged, we will be able to market to the larger mass market retailers.

Our products are manufactured to our order by an FDA- approved manufacturer located in South Carolina. We have not incurred any research and development expense, since product formulation was carried out by the manufacturer under our direction. We presently carry a $2 million product liability policy, which we consider sufficient for our current level of operations.

The operations of J&J Marketing are conducted from offices in New York State provided by Jane and Michael Schub free of charge. Until we obtain funds sufficient to expand our operations, Jane and Michael Schub will remain the only employees of J&J Marketing, and neither of them will be employed on a full-time basis.

(c) Dividends

The Company has never paid or declared any cash dividends on its Common Stock and does not anticipate doing so in the foreseeable future. The Company intends to retain any future earnings for the operation and expansion of the business. Any decision as to future payment of dividends will depend on the available earnings, the capital requirements of the Company, its general financial condition and other factors deemed pertinent by the Board of Directors.

(d) Sale of Unregistered Securities

In October 2004 Global Concepts issued a total of 100,000 shares of common stock to the owners of J&J Marketing, LLC. The securities were issued in consideration for their transfer to Global Concepts of ownership of J&J Marketing LLC. The shares were valued at the market price on the date on which the shares were issued. The sales were exempt pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Act since the sales were not made in a public offering and were made to individuals who had access to detailed information about Global Concepts and who were acquiring the shares for their own accounts. There were no underwriters.

In November 2004 Global Concepts sold two 5% Secured Convertible Debentures in the principal amount of $200,000 each. The sale was made to Cornell Capital Partners, LP in consideration of $360,000. The issuance was exempt pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Act since the issuance was not made in a public offering and was made to an entity whose principals had access to detailed information about Global Concepts and which was acquiring the shares for its own account. There were no underwriters.

In November 2004 Global Concepts issued a total of 4,545,454 shares of common stock to Cornell Capital Partners, LP and Newbridge Securities Corporation. (e) Repurchase of Equity Securities

The Company did not repurchase any of its equity securities that were registered under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act during the 4th quarter of 2004.

Item 6. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF RESULTS OF OPERATIONS AND

FINANCIAL CONDITION

Results of Operations

Global Concepts

Effective as of June 30, 2003, the Company terminated the operations of Xcalibur Xpress, the only operation which had been continuing prior to that date. The Company liquidated the assets of Xcalibur Xpress and used the proceeds to reduce its debts. In its financial statements for 2004 the Company recorded a $167,000 "gain from discontinued operations of subsidiary."

The only revenue recorded by the Company for the first nine months of 2004 was $10,350 that it was paid for consulting services rendered. Between June 1, 2004 and October 1, 2004, however, the Company acquired three new businesses: Advanced Medical Diagnostics LLC, Compagnie Logistique de Transports Automobiles ("CLTA"), and J&J Marketing, LLC. Advanced Medical Diagnostics has not generated any revenue to date. CLTA and J&J Marketing were acquired on October 1, 2004 and, accordingly, their financial results for the fourth quarter of 2004 are reflected in the Company's consolidated financial statements for 2004.

The financial results from J&J Marketing for 2004 were negligible. Accordingly, the results of operations reported for 2004 effectively represent the results of CLTA. CLTA carries on its business operations in Euros. In the following discussion, the financial results realized by CLTA have been expressed in U.S. Dollars at the conversion rate in effect on December 31, 2004.

For the year ended December 31, 2004, the Company reported gross revenue of $5,286,000, almost entirely from CLTA. It incurred $4,208,000 in direct costs in producing those revenues, yielding a gross profit of $1,078,000.

The gross profit from operations of CLTA exceeded the operating expenses incurred by Global Concepts that were or will be settled in cash. However, because it had little cash for most of 2004, Global Concepts settled some of its larger debts by issuing stock. This resulted in an expense of $3,662,000 attributable to stock-based compensation. Because of that expense, Global Concepts incurred a net loss of $3,955,000 for 2004.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Global Concepts at December 31, 2004 had a working capital deficit of $2,232,000, primarily due to liabilities in excess of $1.2 million continuing from the period prior to its acquisition of CLTA. CLTA itself has adequate working capital to carry on its operations.

The sale of the 5% Convertible Debenture in November 2004 provided funds to Global Concepts that were used, in part, to repay a portion of the $500,000 loan that Global Concepts took for the purpose of acquiring CLTA. Another part of the proceeds was used to pay a deposit on additional vehicles to be used by CLTA. Global Concepts, therefore, has no significant cash assets and no source of credit. This may result in difficulties paying the creditors of Global Concepts, unless cash flow from CLTA is sufficient to service the debt of its parent.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

In preparing our financial statements we are required to formulate working policies regarding valuation of our assets and liabilities and to develop estimates of those values. In our preparation of the financial statements for 2004, there were three estimates made which were (a) subject to a high degree of uncertainty and (b) material to our results:

- o Our determination, detailed in Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, that we should record a valuation allowance for the full value of the deferred tax asset created by our net operating loss carryforward. The primary reason for the determination was our lack of certainty as to if and when Global Concepts would commence profitable operations.
- o Our determination, referred to in Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, concerning the allowance for doubtful accounts that we maintain. As needed based on each customer's circumstances, we reserve an allowance for losses we may incur as a result of the customer's inability to make required payments. Any increase in the allowance results in a corresponding increase in our general and administrative expenses. In establishing this allowance, and then evaluating the adequacy of the allowance for doubtful accounts each quarter, we analyze historical bad debts, customer concentrations, customer credit-worthiness, current economic trends and changes in our customer payment terms. If the financial condition of one or more of our customers deteriorates, resulting in their inability to make payments, or if we otherwise underestimate the losses we incur as a result of our customers' inability to pay us, we could be required to increase our allowance for doubtful accounts which could adversely affect our operating results.
- o Our determination, described in Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, regarding the allocation of the purchase price of CLTA among liquid assets, fixed assets and goodwill. We made a preliminary allocation based on results to date, but will finalize the allocation as we accumulate more historical information on which to base a determination as to the fair value of the assets acquired. If our final determination results in an increased allocation to goodwill, and we determine that the goodwill is impaired, we could incur a write-down of the book value in 2005 (depending on our determination of the fair value of the goodwill), which would adversely affect our operating results.

We have made no material changes to our critical accounting policies in connection with the preparation of financial statements for 2004.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any "off-balance sheet arrangements," as defined in the Regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Risk Factors That May Affect Future Results

Our expectations regarding the future of Global Concepts will be realized only if we are able to avoid the adverse effects of many risks and contingencies. You should carefully consider the risks described below before buying our common stock. If any of the risks described below actually occurs, that event could have a substantial adverse effect on our future financial results. Those adverse results, in turn, could cause the trading price of our common stock to decline, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Edgar Filing: GLOBAL CONCEPTS, LTD. - Form 10KSB

We may be unable to satisfy our current debts.

Our debts are far in excess of the book value of our assets. We are engaged in efforts to negotiate compromises and extensions with major creditors. If those negotiations are unsuccessful, however, our business will fail.

We lack capital to fund our operations.

At the beginning of 2004 Global Concepts had no operating businesses. At the end of the year we acquired three business operations. All three of them, however, will require capital in order to prosper. We have no capital at this time.

The issuance of shares under our agreements with Cornell Capital Partners could increase our outstanding shares.

Cornell Capital Partners owns a 5% Secured Convertible Debenture that it may convert into Global Concepts common stock. At the market price on May 18, 2005, the debenture could be converted into over 6,000,000 shares. The likely result of Cornell Capital Partners selling such large quantities of stock to the public would be a steep reduction in the market price of Global Concepts common stock. Since the conversion feature of the 5% Secured Convertible Debenture is determined by the market price, a reduction in the market price could result in even larger numbers of shares being issued, if Global Concepts were to take advantage of the full line of credit.

None of our subsidiaries has sufficient business history to permit a reliable estimate of its future prospects.

Our business operations are carried out by three subsidiaries. Advanced Medical Diagnostics was only recently organized and has no reported revenue. J&J Marketing was a part-time family business until we acquired it, and has minimal reported revenue. CLTA has a considerable business history, but only recently emerged from legal proceedings in France that substantially reorganized it. None of these companies, therefore, can point to a meaningful history of operations. In each of these companies we will face all of the risks of a start-up company, including uncertainty about access to the market, uncertainty about our ability to service the market, and uncertainty about our ability to operate efficiently.

We may not be able to effectively manage a subsidiary in France.

Our largest business operation is CLTA. CLTA is a French company with all of its business operations located in France. Its primary customers are French. No one associated with Global Concepts has any significant experience managing a business in France. It may occur that our ignorance about French business practices will prevent us from adequately overseeing the operations of this subsidiary.

Our largest subsidiary has one primary customer, and would be seriously affected by any interruption of its business with that customer.

CLTA is the only subsidiary of Global Concepts that currently generates more than nominal revenues. Over 90% of CLTA's business consists of warehousing, servicing and delivering automobiles for the company that distributes Peugeot and Citroen in Europe. If that business relationship were damaged, or if CLTA's customer suffered a serious business reverse, the adverse effect on CLTA's business could be dramatic.

Edgar Filing: GLOBAL CONCEPTS, LTD. - Form 10KSB

A downturn in the French economy would be likely to reduce demand for CLTA's services.

-11-

The business of CLTA consists of warehousing and delivering new cars, primarily in France. If the economy of France suffers a recession and the volume of new car sales is reduced, the revenue earned by CLTA will likewise be reduced.

Increased fuel prices will reduce the profits of our transportation subsidiary, CLTA.

A significant portion of the business of CLTA - and the area in which its plans for expansion are focused - consists of transporting automobiles to dealerships in Europe. When fuel oil prices are high, as they are now relative to historical prices, CLTA's profit margins are reduced. If fuel oil prices remain high or climb even higher, it will have an adverse effect on CLTA's financial results.

Our HIV testing kit does not contain any proprietary technology, and could be replicated by competitors.

Our subsidiary, Advanced Medical Diagnostics, LLC developed its HIV (1+2) Rapid Self-Test Kit from readily-available components known to be effective in testing for HIV infection. We are already aware of one U.S. competitor who is following a business plan very similar to ours, distributing an HIV(1+2) testing kit in Asia and Africa. If we or our competitors are successful in marketing testing kits, additional competitors could easily introduce similar kits in competition with us.

Our medical devices subsidiary does not have insurance against product liability claims.

Advanced Medical Diagnostics, LLC is engaged in the business of distributing an HIV home-testing kit in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Advanced Medical Diagnostics does not have an insurance policy that will indemnify it against any product liability claims. Such a claim, if successfully prosecuted, could result in a judgment that Advanced Medical Diagnostics would be unable to pay, forcing it into bankruptcy.

Global Concepts is not likely to hold annual shareholder meetings in the next few years.

Since it became a public company in 2000, Global Concepts has never held an annual meeting of shareholders. The Board of Directors of Global Concepts consists of Michael Margolies, who has served since 2000, and Stanley Chason and Eduardo Rodriguez, who were appointed to the Board by Mr. Margolies. Management does not expect to hold annual meetings of shareholders in the next few years, due to the expense involved. As a result, the shareholders of Global Concepts will have no effective means of exercising control over the operations of Global Concepts.

-12-

The volatility of the market for Global Concepts common stock may prevent a shareholder from obtaining a fair price for his shares.

Edgar Filing: GLOBAL CONCEPTS, LTD. - Form 10KSB

The common stock of Global Concepts is quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board. Trading volume is usually relatively small, and prices vary dramatically from time to time. It is impossible to say that the market price on any given day reflects the fair value of Global Concepts, since the price sometimes moves up or down by 50% in a week's time. A shareholder in Global Concepts who wants to sell his shares, therefore, runs the risk that at the time he wants to sell, the market price may be much less than the price he would consider to be fair.

Only a small portion of the investment community will purchase "penny stocks" such as Global Concepts common stock.

Global Concepts' common stock is defined by the SEC as a "penny stock" because it trades at a price less than $5.00 per share. Global Concepts' common stock also meets most common definitions of a "penny stock," since it trades for less than $1.00 per share. Many brokerage firms will discourage their customers from purchasing penny stocks, and even more brokerage firms will not recommend a penny stock to their customers. Most institutional investors will not invest in penny stocks. In addition, many individual investors will not consider a purchase of a penny stock due, among other things, to the negative reputation that attends the penny stock market. As a result of this widespread disdain for penny stocks, there will be a limited market for Global Concepts' common stock as long as it remains a "penny stock." This situation may limit the liquidity of your shares.

Item 8A. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

The term "disclosure controls and procedures" is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). The term refers to the controls and procedures of a company that are designed to insure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the required time periods. Eduardo Rodriguez, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, performed an evaluation of the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of December 31, 2004. Based on his evaluation, he concluded that the controls and procedures in place at that date were sufficient to assure that material information concerning the Company which could affect the disclosures in the Company's reports filed under the Exchange Act will be disclosed on a timely basis in those reports.

No change in our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) occurred during the period covered by this report that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Directors and Stockholders of Global Concepts, Ltd. and Subsidiaries

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheet of Global Concept, Ltd. and Subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2004 and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficiency) and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2004. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with standards established by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall consolidated financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Global Concepts, Ltd. and Subsidiaries as of December 31, 2004, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2004 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements for December 31, 2004 have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements, the Company has sustained operating losses and accumulated deficit that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's operating and financing plans in regard to these matters are also discussed in the notes. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, Continued

Cash and Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, cash equivalents include time deposits, certificates of deposit and all highly liquid debt instruments with original maturities of three months or less.

Income Taxes

The Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries file a consolidated Federal income tax return. The Company uses the asset and liability method in providing income taxes on all transactions that have been recognized in the consolidated financial statements. The asset and liability method requires that deferred taxes be adjusted to reflect the tax rates at which future taxable amounts will be settled or realized. The effects of tax rate changes on future deferred tax liabilities and deferred tax assets, as well as other changes in income tax laws, are recognized in net earnings in the period such changes are enacted. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to amounts expected to be realized.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated balance sheet for cash, accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, accounts payable, and accrued expenses approximate their fair values due to the short maturities of these financial instruments.

The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated balance sheet for officers loans, notes payable and convertible debentures approximate their fair values based on current rates at which the Company could borrow funds with similar maturities.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from freight brokerage is recognized upon delivery of goods, and direct expenses associated with the cost of transportation are accrued concurrently. Revenue from driver temporary services and leasing is recognized when earned based upon standard billing rates charged by the hours worked. Factoring revenue is recognized when the service is provided. Direct expenses associated with the cost of driver leasing are accrued concurrently. Revenue from subcontracted transportation services is recognized upon completion of each trip. Direct expenses associated with the cost of transportation are accrued concurrently. Monthly provision is made for doubtful receivables, discounts, returns and allowances.

Goodwill

Goodwill is recognized for the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of tangible and identifiable intangible net assets of businesses acquired. The Company adopted SFAS No. 142, "GOODWILL AND OTHER INTANGIBLE ASSETS" in which goodwill is no longer amortized but tested for impairment on at least an annual basis. The carrying value is reviewed if the facts and circumstances, such as significant declines in sales, earnings or cash flows or material adverse changes in the business climate, suggest that it may be impaired. If this review indicates that goodwill will not be recoverable, the impairment is determined by comparing the carrying value of goodwill to fair value. Fair value is determined based on quoted market values, discounted cash flows or appraisals.

Long-lived Assets

The Company assesses long-lived asset for impairment is required under SFAS No. 144, "ACCOUNTING FOR THE IMPAIRMENT OF DISPOSAL OF LONG-LIVED ASSETS". ### NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, Continued

Foreign Currency Transactions

Operations of one of the Company's majority owned subsidiaries are conducted in France and the financial statements of that subsidiary are translated from the Euro, Frances' functional currency, into U. S. Dollars in accordance with SFAS No. 52, "Foreign Currency Translation". Accordingly, all foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated at the period-end exchange rate and all revenues and expenses are translated at the average exchange rate for the period. The effects of translating the financial statements of foreign subsidiaries into U. S. Dollars are reported as a cumulative translation adjustment, a separate component of comprehensive income in stockholders' equity. Foreign currency transaction gains and losses are reported in earnings and consisted of $73,000 of losses in 2004, $0 of losses in 2003.

Earnings (Loss) Per Share

Earnings (Loss) per common share represents the amount of earnings (loss) for the period available to each share of common stock outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted earnings (loss per share reflects the amount of earnings (loss) for the period available to each share of common stock outstanding during the reporting period, while giving effect to all dilutive potential common shares that were outstanding during the period, such as common shares that could result from the potential exercise or conversion of securities into common stock. The computation of diluted earnings (loss) per share does not assume conversion, exercise, or contingent issuance of securities that would have an antidilutive effect on earnings (loss) per share.

NOTE 2 - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The accompanying balance sheets includes assets of $3,435,000 relating to the Company's majority owned subsidiary in Nugent sue Oise, France. Although France is politically and economically stable, it is always possible that unanticipated events in foreign countries could disrupt the Company's operations.

NOTE 3- INCOME TAXES

Deferred income taxes arise from temporary differences resulting from income and expense items reported for financial accounting and tax purposes in different periods. Deferred taxes are classified as current or noncurrent, depending on the classification of the assets and liabilities to which they relate. Deferred taxes arising from temporary differences that are not related to an asset or liability are classified as current or noncurrent depending on the periods in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. In addition deferred taxes are also recognized from operating losses that are available to offset future federal and state income taxes.

The deferred tax assets are attributable to net operating losses.

Deferred taxes consist of the following:

Total deferred tax assets, non current	$ 3,420,000
Total valuation allowance	(3,420,000)
Net deferred tax assets	$ --

During 2004 and 2003 the valuation allowance increased $1,500,000 and $920,000, respectively.

NOTE 5 - STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY, Continued

The Company follows Accounting Principles Board Opinion 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, to account for its stock option plan. An alternative method of accounting for stock options is SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. Under SFAS 123, employee stock options are valued at grant date using the Black-Scholes valuation model, and this compensation cost is recognized ratably over the vesting period. Had compensation cost for the Company's stock option plan been determined as prescribed by SFAS 123, there would have been no effect on the pro forma income statements for 2004 and 2003.

For stock transactions with other than employees, the Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123, "Accounting for Stock Based Compensation". Accordingly, compensation expense of $0 has been recognized for stock options and warrants during 2004 and 2003.

NOTE 6 - ACQUISITIONS

During 2004, the Company acquired three businesses for stock, cash and the assumption of liabilities aggregating $5,064,000. The businesses acquired were (1) a 100% interest in Advanced Medical Diagnostics, LLC, ("AMD"), a development stage enterprise which is developing and marketing the "Advanced Medical Diagnostics HIV (1 & 2) Rapit Test", a diagnostic kit, which permits an individual to test himself for the HIV virus and obtain a result in 15 minutes with a 99.4% accuracy. (2) An 80% interest in J&J Marketing, LLC, ("J&J"), a producer and marketer of a line of skin care products under the trademark "Savage Beauty," and (3) a 60% interest in Compagnie Logistique de Transports Automobiles ("CLTA"), a French corporation in the business of warehousing and completing the final dealer preparation work for automobile manufactures, Peugeot and Citroen. CLTA also performs brake installation and testing of new vehicles for Peugeot.

All of the acquisitions have been accounted for using the purchase method of accounting for business combinations and, accordingly, their results of operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since their respective dates of acquisition.

The acquisition of AMD occurred on June 1, 2004. Under the terms of the acquisition agreement, the Company issued 100,000 shares of its common stock in exchange for 100% of the interest in AMD. The shares were valued at $9,000, their fair market value on the date of the agreement. 76.5% of the membership interest in AMD was acquired from the three officers of AMD. The remaining 23.5% was acquired from the Margolies Family Trust. The trustee of the Margolies Family Trust is the wife of Michael Margolies. Michael Margolies was the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Company as of the date of the acquisition. Additionally, pursuant to the acquisition agreement, the Company issued 50,000 common shares under the Company's 2004 Equity Incentive Plan to the officers of AMD.

Edgar Filing: GLOBAL CONCEPTS, LTD. - Form 10KSB

acquisition agreement, the Company issued 100,000 common shares to the members of J&J in exchange for an 80% ownership interest in J&J. The shares were valued at $6,000, which represents their fair market value on the date of the agreement. In connection with the acquisition, the Company granted to the sellers an option to purchase the Company's interest in J&J. The option may be exercised only in the event of a liquidity event. A liquidity event is defined in the acquisition agreement as a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, a merger or acquisition involving the Company in which it is not the surviving entity, a sale of substantially all of its assets, certain bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings, or the delisting of the common stock of the Company by the OTC Bulletin Board. The exercise price of the option will be the market value of 250,000 shares of the Company's common stock or, if prices are not quoted for the common stock, $12,500. The option expired on May 15, 2005.

The acquisition of CLTA occurred on October 1, 2004. The Company paid $500,000 for 60% of the outstanding shares of CLTA. This acquisition was primarily financed through a loan from a shareholder, which bears no interest and is due on demand. Pursuant to the acquisition agreement, the Company is required to loan $500,000 to CLTA if needed and agreed upon by the Board of Directors by December 31, 2004. As of December 31, 2004, no such loans was made. Further, the Company has agreed to serve as guarantor on the lease of ten trucks/trailers needed by CLTA to fulfill a contract with one of its customers. As a result of the execution of the agreement, a new Board of Directors of CLTA was elected, consisting of five persons, three of which were appointed by the Company and the remaining two seats being occupied by the two minority shareholders of CLTA.

The preliminary allocation of the purchase prices resulted in goodwill of $1,432,000. The Company has not yet obtained all information required to complete the purchase price allocation related to these acquisitions. The final allocation will be completed in 2005.

The following is an allocation showing the estimated fair values of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed as of the dates of the acquisitions:

NOTE 10 - STANDBY EQUITY DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

During 2004, the Company was party to a Standby Equity Distribution Agreement ("SEDA") with Cornell Capital Partners, LP. Pursuant to the SEDA, the Company was entitled to "put" shares of its common stock to Cornell Capital Partners at 98% of the market price, defined in the SEDA as the lowest daily volume weighted average price during the five consecutive trading days after an advance is made by the Company. Cornell Capital Partners was required by the SEDA to pay each advance demanded by the Company, unless (a) there is no prospectus available for Cornell Capital Partners to use in re-selling the shares, (b) the purchase would result in Cornell Capital Partners owning over 9.9% of the Company's outstanding shares or (c) the representations made by the Company in the SEDA proved to be untrue. No advances were made under the SEDA during 2004. Subsequent to December 31, 2004, the SEDA agreement was terminated.

NOTE 11 - NOTE PAYABLE

NOTE 13 - LITIGATION

The Company, several related companies, its chairman and certain employees are defendants in a lawsuit filed by an alleged acquisition candidate for alleged breach of contract. The complaint does not specify an amount for damages. The Company believes the suit is completely without merit and intends to vigorously defend its position.

The Company, several related companies, its chairman and its subsidiaries are defendants in a lawsuit filed by one of its former vendors. At this stage in the proceedings, the probable outcome is unknown. The Company has a counter claim based upon defective services provided by the vendor. The Company believes the settlement of the lawsuit will not exceed amounts already recorded in the financial statements.

The Company and its subsidiaries are defendants in lawsuits filed by its former vendors. The Company has judgements filed against them. These judgements that amounted to $61,000 are included in net liabilities of discontinued operations.

NOTE 14 - CONVERTIBLE DEBENTURES

On November 16, 2004, the Company issued two $200,000 convertible

Edgar Filing: GLOBAL CONCEPTS, LTD. - Form 10KSB

debentures to Cornell Capital Partners, LP in exchange for $400,000. The debentures bear interest at the rate of 5% per annum with the principal and interest due November 16, 2006. At the Company's option, the entire principal amount and all accrued interest may be converted on the due date. Cornell Capital Partners has the option to convert all or any part of the principal and accrued interest at any time. The debenture may be converted into shares of the Company's common stock at the price per share equal to the lesser of (a) an amount equal to 120% of the closing bid price of the common stock on November 16, 2004, or (b) an amount equal to 80% of the lowest closing bid price of the Company's common stock for the five trading days immediately preceding the date of conversion. As the convertible debentures may be converted into common stock at the lower of a fixed rate at the commitment date or a fixed discount to the market price of the underlying common stock at the conversion date, the Company has recognized a beneficial conversion feature. The Company recorded a charge due to the beneficial conversion feature of $156,000 in accordance with EITF Issue No. 98-5, "Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Instruments". The value of the beneficial conversion feature was measured using the intrinsic value and was being amortized to interest expense over the life of the convertible debenture. On January 6, 2005, the Company converted the debenture into a promissory note. Consequently, on that date, the remaining amount of the unamortized discount has been charged to interest expense.

On June 14, 2001, the Company issued a convertible debenture for $200,000 which bears interest at the rate of 20% per annum and is due one year from the date of issue. In accordance with the agreement the debenture is convertible into common stock of the Company at a conversion rate of $.75 from the date of issuance through September 30, 2001. The conversion period has been extended. In addition, the debenture includes warrants to purchase 20,000 shares of common stock at $1.50 that expired on June 30, 2003. Included in accounts payable is $80,000 of accrued interest on this debenture. The convertible debenture are in default and were settled in April 2005.
