forward-looking statements, as defined in the safe harbor provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements, including without limitation, statements relating to the Company's financial performance and growth prospects, are subject to certain risks and uncertainties, which could cause actual results to differ materially from historical results or those anticipated. Among the risks and factors that could cause actual results to differ materially are: the Company's ability to control Guangxi Yuchai Machinery Company Limited ("Yuchai"); the Company's ability to consolidate Yuchai's financial results; changes in the capital markets and interest rates; political, economic and social conditions in China such as government policies with respect to foreign investment, economic growth, inflation and the availability of credit; the effects of competition in the diesel engine market; the effects of inflation; the ability of Yuchai to control its expenses, capital expenditures and receivables, finance its working capital and capital expenditures and commercially introduce new products in the future; the Company's ability to successfully implement the agreement it reached with Yuchai in July 2003; the effects of uncertainties in the Chinese legal system which could limit the legal protections available to foreign investors, including with respect to the enforcement of foreign judgments in China; and the effects of China becoming a member of the World Trade Organization. Although the Company believes the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are based upon reasonable assumptions, the Company can give no assurance that its expectations will be attained. In addition to the foregoing factors, a description of certain other risks and uncertainties which could cause actual results to differ materially can be found in the section captioned "Risk Factors" in the Company's Annual Report on Form 20-F filed with the SEC under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which are based on the current view of management on future events. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
