Compensation for Directors

On February 28, 2010, Mr. Dov Hershberg provided the Board of Directors with a letter under which he voluntarily and irrevocably (i) waived all Compugen stock options held by him solely to the extent that such options would vest after December 31, 2010; and (ii) waived any and all additional cash or additional stock options that would otherwise be due to him as a director of the Company for service prior to January 1, 2011.

External and Independent Directors

The Companies Law requires Israeli companies with shares that have been offered to the public either in or outside of Israel to appoint at least two external directors. No person may be appointed as an external director if that person or that person's relative, partner, employer, any person to whom that person reports, directly or indirectly, or any entity under the person's control, has or had, on or within the two years preceding the date of that person's appointment to serve as an external director, had any affiliation with the company or any entity controlling, controlled by or under common control with the company. The term affiliation includes:

- an employment relationship;
- a business or professional relationship maintained on a regular basis;
- control; and
- service as an office holder.

No person may serve as an external director if that person's position or business activities create, or may create, a conflict of interest with that person's responsibilities as an external director or may otherwise interfere with his/her ability to serve as an external director. If, at the time external directors are to be appointed, all current members of the board of directors are of the same gender, then at least one external director must be of the other gender.

The Companies Law requires that at least one external director must have financial and accounting expertise and the other external directors must possess certain professional qualifications that are promulgated by regulations to the Companies Law. These regulations provide that external directors with financial and accounting expertise must possess a high level of understanding in accounting and business matters, to the extent that they are able to read and understand financial statements in depth and to facilitate a discussion regarding the manner in which financial data is presented. An external director with professional qualifications must have an academic degree in either economics, business administration, accounting, law, public administration, or he or she must have another academic degree, or must have completed other higher education studies related to the main business of the company, or he or she must have at least five years of experience in at least two of the following: (a) a senior position in the business administration of a corporation with a significant scope of business; (b) a senior position in the public service; or (c) a senior position relating to the company's main business. Each company's board of directors must determine each external director's qualifications based on his or her education, experience and skills regarding financial matters and knowledge of financial statements in accordance with the Companies Law and Israeli securities laws.

External directors are to be elected by a majority vote at a shareholders' meeting, provided that either:

- A majority of shares voted at the meeting, including at least one-third of the shares held by non-controlling shareholders voted at the meeting, vote in favor of election of the director; abstaining votes shall not be counted in this vote, or
- The total number of shares held by non-controlling shareholders voted against the election of the director does not exceed one percent of the aggregate voting rights in the company.

The initial term of an external director is three years and such term may be extended for one, and only one, additional three years' term.

External directors may be removed only by a court, upon determination that the external directors to be so removed ceased to meet the statutory qualifications for their appointment or if they violate their duty of loyalty to the company; or by the same percentage of shareholders, acting through a shareholders' meeting, as is required for their election, or if the board of directors has determined that the external directors to be so removed ceased to meet the statutory qualifications for their appointment or if they violate their duty of loyalty to the company. Such determination by the board of directors is to be made in the first meeting of the board of directors to be convened following learning of the said cessation or violation. Each committee of a company's board of directors must include at least one external director.

An external director is entitled to compensation as provided in regulations adopted under the Companies Law and is otherwise prohibited from receiving any other compensation, directly or indirectly, in connection with service provided as an external director or any other services to the company.

Professor Yair Aharonowitz, Dr. Arie Ovadia and Professor Joshua Shemer currently serve as our external directors under Israeli law and as our independent directors under Nasdaq Stock Market Listing Rules. They all serve on our audit committee.

In addition to the requirements of the Companies Law as described above, since our shares are listed on the Nasdaq Capital Market, a majority of our directors must be independent (as defined by the Nasdaq Stock Market Listing Rules), and our audit committee must be comprised of at least three members, all of whom must be independent (subject to limited exceptions).

The Board of Directors will present the following resolution at the Meeting:

“RESOLVED that Prof. Ruth Arnon, Mr. Martin Gerstel, Mr. Dov Hershberg and Mr. Alex Kotzer are hereby elected to serve as members of the Board of Directors of the Company for a period commencing on the date of the Meeting and until the next annual meeting of the shareholders of the Company or until their respective successors are duly elected and qualified; and

That each of Prof. Yair Aharonowitz, Dr. Arie Ovadia, and Prof. Joshua Shemer is hereby elected to serve as external director of the Company pursuant to the Companies Law, for a period commencing on the date of the Meeting and until the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Company to be held in the year 2013 and the due election of the respective successors.”

The election of all director nominees requires the affirmative vote of shareholders present in person or by proxy and holding Ordinary Shares amounting in the aggregate to at least a majority of the votes actually cast with respect to such proposal and, in addition, the election of Prof. Yair Aharonowitz, Dr. Arie Ovadia and Prof. Joshua Shemer as external directors requires that either: (i) said majority include at least one-third of the voting power of the non-controlling shareholders who are present in person or by proxy and who vote on such proposal; or (ii) the total votes cast in opposition to the proposal by the non-controlling shareholders does not exceed 1% of all the voting power in the Company.

The Board of Directors recommends that the shareholders vote “FOR” the election of each of Prof. Ruth Arnon, Mr. Martin Gerstel, Mr. Dov Hershberg and Mr. Alex Kotzer as directors of the Company and each of Prof. Yair Aharonowitz, Dr. Arie Ovadia and Prof. Joshua Shemer as external directors of the Company.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, upon approval by the shareholders of the proposed compensation set forth in the prior paragraph, Mr. Gerstel will irrevocably waive (i) receipt of any such cash bonus for 2009, and (ii) any other director fees or options to which he would otherwise be entitled to as Chairman or as a member of the Board of Directors of the Company.

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the Company represented at the Meeting in person or by proxy and voting thereon is necessary for approval of this proposal.
