Matsushita Announces Restructuring at Refrigeration Unit

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (MEI [NYSE and PCX: MC]), best known for its Panasonic brand products, today announced that the Board of Directors of Matsushita Refrigeration Company (MARCO), a wholly-owned subsidiary of MEI, resolved to implement business restructuring initiatives, which will include establishment of an optimum global manufacturing structure and employee relocations/early retirement initiatives.

Details of the business restructuring are as follows:

1. Establishment of an optimum global manufacturing structure

Background

A severe management environment has persisted in consumer-use refrigerators, MARCO's principal product line, due mainly to intensified competition in global markets, particularly by Chinese and South Korean manufacturers, and continuing price declines in the domestic market.

In response to such severe market conditions, MARCO will strengthen its overseas operations, which are viewed as a growth engine, aiming to increase profitability on a global basis. MARCO will also concentrate management resources into such areas as HFC-free refrigerators and high value-added components and devices, while carrying out business restructuring of its manufacturing locations to achieve an optimum global manufacturing structure.

Details of Restructuring

1) Integration of refrigerator production

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

To meet expected increases in demand for the company's popular HFC-free refrigerators, domestic production of compressor-type refrigerators will be concentrated into the Kusatsu factory, where MARCO intends to establish a highly efficient operation.

Table of Contents

2) Establishment of a new components and devices division

MARCO will merge its compressor division with its cooling and heating components division to form a new components and devices division, with the aim of expanding operations under a unified strategy on a global basis, particularly in cutting-edge technology areas such as compressors for HFC-free refrigerators and vacuum insulation panels. While maintaining its two domestic factories at Kusatsu and Fujisawa, MARCO will use the advantage of its established global marketing networks to expand business in components and devices.

3) Other details of restructuring

Regarding refrigerated food display cases and other food-related equipment, MARCO will review in-house production from the perspective of optimum allocation of management resources, implementing outsourcing and OEM purchasing as deemed necessary, while placing a higher priority on vending machines and new product lines.

Implementation period and employee relocation

1) Implementation period

The aforementioned business restructuring will be implemented from December 2003 through March 2004.

2) Employee relocation

Employees affected by the business restructuring will be relocated to other divisions within MARCO or to Matsushita Home Appliances Company (an internal divisional company of MEI). However, for employees who wish to pursue careers outside of the Matsushita Group, MARCO will provide support through various initiatives, including an early retirement program, which is outlined below.

2. MARCO early retirement program

The early retirement program will provide employees seeking outside employment with a special retirement allowance, which is in addition to standard retirement benefits. MARCO will also offer assistance in the form of job searches and other support for employees choosing early retirement.

3. Effect of business restructuring on MEI's financial results

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

The aforementioned business restructuring is not expected to have any material effect on MEI's consolidated financial results forecast for the year ending March 31, 2004 (fiscal 2004). MEI announced its forecast for fiscal 2004 consolidated financial results on April 28, 2003.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FINANCIAL RESULTS

(Note: Dollar amounts for the most recent period have been translated for convenience at the rate of U.S.$1.00 = 120 yen.)

MATSUSHITA REPORTS FIRST QUARTER RESULTS

Pre-tax Income Follows Recovery Trend

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (NYSE and PCX symbol: MC) today reported its consolidated financial results for the first quarter, ended June 30, 2003, of the current fiscal year ending March 31, 2004 (fiscal 2004).

First-quarter Results¹

Consolidated group sales for the first quarter decreased 2% to 1,763.6 billion yen (U.S.$14.70 billion), from 1,793.4 billion yen in the same three-month period a year ago. Overall, a severe business environment persisted during the quarter, despite diminishing negative effects of the war in Iraq and the SARS outbreak. Consumer spending in Japan, a major factor in the domestic economy, showed no signs of recovery, while comebacks in overseas economies were impeded by stagnated growth in the United States.

Meanwhile, Matsushita designated this year as the year it would re-declare its founding, or in other words return to the basic management principles upon which the company was founded. In line with this policy, Matsushita carried out initiatives under a new autonomous business domain-based organizational structure established in early 2003, shifting its management focus to achieving accelerated growth. Specifically, Matsushita launched a new series of competitive V-products, building on the success of last year's models, aimed at achieving the top share in high-volume markets and propelling overall growth. The company also initiated simultaneous global introductions of strategic products by combining the efforts of domestic and overseas marketing divisions. Furthermore, Matsushita implemented a new management system that evaluates the performance of each business domain company on a global consolidated basis to promote highly efficient management.

Domestic sales, benefiting from the success of the company's new V-products, increased 2% to 825.1 billion yen ($6.88 billion), from 811.2 billion yen in the first quarter of the previous year. Overseas sales, however, were down 4% to 938.5 billion yen ($7.82 billion), compared with 982.2 billion yen in the first quarter of last year, due mainly to setbacks in the U.S. and Southeast Asia. On a local currency basis², overseas sales decreased 3% from the same period last year. The quarterly consolidated sales results in part reflect the effects of last year's FIFA World CupTM, which boosted sales a year ago.

Despite sales declines and intensified global competition, consolidated operating profit³ for the first quarter increased 27% to 20.0 billion yen ($167 million), from 15.7 billion yen in the same three-month period a year ago. The company attributed this increase to the continued success of V-products and various cost reduction initiatives. Income before income taxes increased 46% to 25.2 billion yen ($210 million), compared with a pre-tax income of 17.3 billion yen in the first quarter of last year, while net income was 2.7 billion yen ($22 million), down 22% from 3.5 billion yen in the same quarter of the previous year. Net income was negatively affected by such factors as an increase in minority interests, resulting from improved earnings results of several consolidated subsidiaries.

1. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003, Matsushita began consolidating certain previously unconsolidated subsidiaries of Victor Company of Japan, Ltd. (JVC). Consolidated results for the first quarter ended June 2002 referred to in this press release reflect such restatements.
2. Regarding results on a local currency basis, see Note 3 of Notes to consolidated financial statements on page 6.

Consolidated Sales Breakdown by Product Category

As previously announced, Matsushita launched a new business domain-based organizational structure in January 2003, followed in April by the introduction of a new groupwide management system. Accordingly, the company has reclassified its previous four business segments (AVC Networks, Home Appliances, Industrial Equipment, and Components and Devices) into five new segments, effective April 1, 2003. The five new segments are: AVC Networks, Home Appliances, Components and Devices, JVC, and Other.

The company's first quarter consolidated sales by reclassified product category, as compared with restated prior year amounts, are summarized as follows:

AVC Networks

AVC Networks sales decreased 3% to 842.0 billion yen ($7.02 billion), from 867.2 billion yen in last year's first quarter. Within this category, sales of video and audio equipment, despite continued strong sales in flat-screen TVs and DVD recorders, decreased 8%, due mainly to sales declines in CRT TVs and audio equipment.

In information and communications equipment, brisk sales of automotive electronics and solid overseas sales of cellular phones were sufficient to offset setbacks in hard disk drives (HDDs) and facsimile machines, resulting in mostly unchanged sales overall for this category.

Home Appliances

Sales of Home Appliances edged down 1% to 291.4 billion yen ($2.43 billion), compared with 293.4 billion yen in the first quarter of the previous year. Within this category, washing machines and air conditioners recorded sales gains, but sluggish sales of compressors and housing equipment resulted in lower overall sales.

Components and Devices

Sales of Components and Devices decreased 2% to 266.7 billion yen ($2.22 billion), compared with 272.8 billion yen in the same three-month period of the previous year. Although sales of semiconductors continued to grow, general components and electric motors recorded sales declines.

JVC

Sales for JVC (Victor Company of Japan and its subsidiaries) totaled 192.6 billion yen ($1.61 billion), down 4% from 199.9 billion yen in the first quarter of the previous year. Although sales of software and media products were steady, audiovisual equipment recorded sales declines mainly in Japan and the U.S., leading to lower overall sales.

Consolidated Financial Condition

On a consolidated basis, total assets as of June 30, 2003 were 8,124.2 billion yen, an increase of 289.5 billion yen from March 31, 2003. The main reasons for this include an increase in inventories caused by seasonal factors.

Outlook for the full Fiscal Year 2004

For fiscal 2004, ending March 31, 2004, Matsushita maintained its forecast made on April 28, 2003. At that time the company forecasted fiscal 2004 sales on a consolidated basis to increase by about 1%, compared to fiscal 2003, to approximately 7,450 billion yen. The forecast for operating profit⁴ is also unchanged, expected to increase by about 18% to approximately 150 billion yen, with consolidated income before income taxes anticipated to rise to approximately 120 billion yen, up 74%. The forecast for income before income taxes includes estimated expenses of approximately 50 billion yen for restructuring charges and non-recurring income of about 20 billion yen from other items. Net income is expected to improve to approximately 30 billion yen, from a net loss of 19 billion yen in the past fiscal year.

Disclaimer Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This press release includes forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) about Matsushita and its group companies (the Matsushita Group). To the extent that statements in this press release do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Matsushita Group in light of the information currently available to them, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Matsushita Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Matsushita undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this press release. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Matsushita in its subsequent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the United States, Europe, Japan and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; currency rate fluctuations, notably between the yen, the U.S. dollar, the euro, Asian currencies and other currencies in which the Matsushita Group operates businesses, or in which assets and liabilities of the Matsushita Group are denominated; the ability of the Matsushita Group to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the ability of the Matsushita Group to realize expected benefits of various restructuring activities in its business and organization; the ability of the Matsushita Group to achieve its business objectives through joint ventures and other collaborative agreements with other companies; the ability of the Matsushita Group to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; and fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Matsushita Group has holdings; as well as future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules.

Notes to consolidated financial statements:

1. The company's consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (U.S. GAAP).
2. In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit (loss) is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies. Under U.S. GAAP, restructuring charges are usually included as part of operating profit (loss) in the statement of income.
3. Sales on a local currency basis are not measures conforming with U.S. GAAP. However, the company believes that these measures are useful to investors in promoting understanding of the company's business conditions by excluding the influence of foreign currency fluctuations.
4. The company began consolidating certain previously unconsolidated subsidiaries, primarily overseas subsidiaries of Victor Company of Japan, Ltd., a consolidated subsidiary of the company, during the year ended March 31, 2003 and restated amounts for the first quarter ended June 30, 2002.
5. From this fiscal year (fiscal 2004), the company changed its business categories to five new categories: AVC Networks, Home Appliances, Components and Devices, JVC, and Other, and discloses financial data according to these. As such, the sales breakdown data for the first quarter ended June 30, 2002 are restated in both the Sales Breakdown table and the Segment Information.
6. Comprehensive income (loss) was reported as a gain of 33,183 million yen ($277 million) for the first quarter ended June 30, 2003 and a loss of 277,335 million yen for the first quarter ended June 30, 2002. Comprehensive income (loss) includes net income (loss) and increases (decreases) in cumulative translation adjustments, unrealized holding gains (losses) of available-for-sale securities, unrealized gains (losses) of certain derivative instruments and minimum pension liability adjustments.
7. Number of consolidated companies: 393
8. Number of companies reflected by the equity method: 57
9. United States dollar amounts are translated from yen for convenience at the rate of U.S. $1.00 = 120 yen, the approximate rate on the Tokyo Foreign Exchange Market on June 30, 2003.

Note 1:

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit (loss) is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies. Under Accounting Principles Generally Accepted in the United States, restructuring charges are usually included as part of operating profit (loss) in the statement of income. The company's annual consolidated operating profit and consolidated income before income taxes for fiscal 2004 are currently forecasted to be about 150 billion yen and 120 billion yen, respectively. The difference represents estimated expenses of about 50 billion yen associated with restructuring charges and income of about 20 billion yen from other items.

Note 2:

Sales data on a local currency basis are not measures conforming with Accounting Principle Generally Accepted in the United States. However, the company believes that these measures are useful to investors in promoting understanding of the company's business conditions by excluding the influence of foreign currency fluctuations. Similarly, the company provided herein certain local currency-based data excluding the hard disk drive (HDD) business, as the company has withdrawn from production of 3.5-inch HDDs for desk top PCs and significantly reduced the business during the last fiscal year. See foreign currency rates used for consolidation in item 3.

Disclaimer Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This document includes forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) about Matsushita and its group companies (the Matsushita Group). To the extent that statements in this document do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements.

These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Matsushita Group in light of the information currently available to them, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Matsushita Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Matsushita undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this document. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Matsushita in its subsequent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the United States, Europe, Japan and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; currency rate fluctuations, notably between the yen, the U.S. dollar, the euro, Asian currencies and other currencies in which the Matsushita Group operates businesses, or in which assets and liabilities of the Matsushita Group are denominated; the ability of the Matsushita Group to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the ability of the Matsushita Group to realize expected benefits of various restructuring activities in its business and organization; the ability of the Matsushita Group to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; and fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Matsushita Group has holdings; as well as future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules.

Matsushita Announces Establishment of New Company

through Business Division

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (MEI [NYSE and PCX symbol : MC]) announced that the company has decided at its board of directors meeting held today to transfer, on October 1, 2003, its audiovisual (AV) sensor module business, currently part of the Component Device Division of MEI's internal divisional company Panasonic System Solutions Company (PSS), to Panasonic SC Device Solutions Co., Ltd. (New Company), which will be established on the same day. The New Company will be an independent company in the Semiconductor Company group. The Semiconductor Company is also an internal divisional company of MEI.

The basic terms of the business divisions/combinations decided today are outlined as follows:

1. Purpose of business division

By dividing the AV sensor module business (including cellular phone cameras, automotive cameras and Electret Condenser Microphones [ECM]) from PSS, and transferring such business to the New Company, MEI aims to improve cooperation between related divisions, thereby enhancing core competencies. The transfer is also part of efforts to establish a lean and agile organization and achieve growth and increased profitability in the relevant businesses.

2. Outline of business division

B. Method of business division

1) Method

MEI will divide a certain part of its business and the New Company (the succeeding company) will succeed the divided business.

2) Reason for adopting this method

This method was chosen because it was determined to be the most efficient means by which to transfer the relevant businesses and establish the New Company.

C. Allotment of shares

Upon the business division and transfer by MEI, the succeeding company will issue 1 new share of common stock, and allot such share to MEI.

D. Cash distribution upon business division and transfer

There will be no cash distribution in relation to the business division and transfer.

E. Rights and obligations to be succeeded

Assets, liabilities, rights and obligations involved in the business to be divided and transferred, which are considered to be mandatory for the succeeding company to operate the business to be succeeded.

F. Prospects of paying debt obligations

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

Matsushita believes that both Matsushita and the succeeding company can pay the debt obligations to be incurred as a result of the business division and transfer.
