Item 1. Reports to Stockholders.

The Report to Shareholders is attached herewith.

FUND DISTRIBUTIONS AND MANAGED DISTRIBUTION PLAN

The Fund has a Managed Distribution Plan to pay 7% (prior to the April dividend declaration, this rate was 10%) of the Fund's net asset value on an annualized basis. Distributions may represent earnings from net investment income, realized capital gains, or, if necessary, return of capital. The board believes that regular monthly, fixed cash payouts will enhance shareholder value and serve the long-term interests of shareholders. You should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of the distributions or from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan.

The Fund estimates that it has distributed more than its income and net realized capital gains in the fiscal year to date; therefore, a portion of your distributions may be a return of capital. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of the money that you invested in the Fund is paid back to you. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with yield or income.

The amounts and sources of distributions reported in Section 19(a) notices of the 1940 Act are only estimates and are not being provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources of the amounts for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during the remainder of its fiscal year and may be subject to changes based on tax regulations. The Fund will send shareholders a Form 1099-DIV for the calendar year that will tell you how to report distributions for federal income tax purposes.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Managed Distribution Plan at any time, without prior notice to shareholders if it deems such action to be in the best interest of the Fund and its shareholders.

August 1, 2012

Dear Fellow ZTR Shareholder:

I am pleased to provide you with the manager's report and commentary for The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. for the six-month reporting period ending June 30, 2012.

The Fund's net asset value decreased 1.81% for the quarter ended June 30, 2012, including $0.062 in reinvested distributions. For the same period, the Fund's Composite Index increased 0.01%, including reinvested dividends. The Fund's average exposure for the quarter was approximately 50% in equities, 33% in bonds and 17% in cash equivalents.

For the six months ended June 30, 2012, the Fund's net asset value gained 3.88%, including $0.154 in reinvested distributions. For the same period, the Fund's Composite Index increased 5.59%, including reinvested dividends. The Fund's average exposure for the first half of the year was approximately 48% in equities, 33% in bonds and 19% in cash equivalents.

I would also like to make you aware that the Fund successfully completed a 1-for-4 reverse stock split of issued and outstanding shares on June 27. The stock split was one of several measures approved in March by The Zweig Total Return Fund's board of directors that are intended to narrow the Fund's discount to its net asset value (NAV). The board also authorized an open-market stock repurchase program, which began in the second quarter, and approved refinements to the Fund's investment strategies and policies, which were subsequently approved by Fund shareholders. These actions, as a whole, reflect the board's confidence in the Fund and commitment to pursue opportunities that may enhance shareholder value over the long term.

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome new investors to the Fund and to thank all of our shareholders for entrusting your assets to us. We remain committed to your financial success.

Sincerely,

George R. Aylward

President, Chairman and

Chief Executive Officer

The Zweig Total Return

Fund, Inc.

MARKET OUTLOOK AND OVERVIEW

The domestic stock markets were extremely volatile in the second quarter, with 22 triple-digit daily moves compared with only 6 in the first quarter. On the final trading day, the markets surged and shaved their previous losses and notched higher gains for the first half. The restorative action followed a European summit meeting to foster greater financial integration, with a single supervisor to oversee banks in the seventeen euro nations.

Closing at 12,880.09, the Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 2.3%⁽¹⁾ on the final day to cut its second-quarter loss to 2.5%⁽¹⁾ and to raise its first-half gain to 5.42%⁽¹⁾. The same story held true for the other major exchanges. The S&P 500 climbed 2.5%⁽¹⁾ on the last day and ended at 1,362.16, off 3.3%⁽¹⁾ for the quarter but up 8.31%⁽¹⁾ for the year. Closing at 2,935.05, the Nasdaq Composite spurred 3%⁽¹⁾ on the last day, reducing its quarterly loss to 5%⁽¹⁾ and boosting its first-half advance to 12.6%⁽¹⁾.

The international markets were also generally higher for the first six months. Excluding the U.S., the Dow Jones Global Index rose 1.6%⁽¹⁾. The STOXX Europe 600 climbed 4.2%⁽¹⁾, with the German DAX leading with a 10.1%⁽¹⁾ rise. Britain's FTSE 100 gained 1.2%⁽¹⁾ and France's CAC 40 was up 2.5%⁽¹⁾. The biggest European losers included the debt-ridden Spain, where its IBEX 35 fell 16.8%⁽¹⁾, and Italy's FTSE MIB slid 5.2%⁽¹⁾. The Dow Jones Asia-Pacific Index increased 3.4%⁽¹⁾. Japan's Nikkei 225 Stock Average was up 6.5%⁽¹⁾ and China's Shanghai Composite rose 1.2%⁽¹⁾. The biggest Asian gainer was India, with its Bombay Sensex soaring 12.6%⁽¹⁾.

Stating that the U.S. economy was growing more slowly than it had forecast, the Federal Reserve (Fed) reported it would extend through the end of this year its program known as Operation Twist , which seeks to drive down long-term interest rates and reduce borrowing costs. Under this program, the Fed sells short-term securities and buys longer-term ones.

Looking to the future, the Fed has revised downward its estimates for next year's economic growth. The Fed now expects the economy to expand within a range of 2.2% to 2.8% in 2013. In April, the Fed had expected a range of 2.7% to 3.1%. Meanwhile, the Commerce Department revised its estimates of the annual growth of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in the first quarter of 2012 to 1.9% from its earlier estimate of 2.2%. The fourth- quarter GDP grew at a 3% annual rate.

Confirming the Fed's comment about the slow recovery, only 80,000 new private industry jobs were added in June, little changed from the 77,000 in May, according to the Commerce Department. The second quarter, with a total gain of 225,000 jobs, was the slowest quarterly figure since the labor market started to recover in 2010. The June unemployment rate held unchanged at 8.2%. The Fed expects the unemployment rate to range from 7.5% to 8% at the end of 2013, up from its previous estimate of 7.3% to 7.7%.

Weakness was also noted in the manufacturing area. The Institution for Supply Management, (ISM) a national trade group of purchasing agents, reported that its index of manufacturing activity fell to 49.7 in June from 53.5 in May, the first time since July 2009 that the index had dropped below 50. That is the level that separates expansion from contraction. Furthermore, its index of new orders fell to 47.8 in June from 60.1 in May, the fastest decline rate in over a decade. ISM also reported that its index of non-manufacturing activity dipped to 52.1 in June from 53.7 in May. While still indicating expansion, the reading was the lowest since January 2010. This sector had grown for thirty consecutive months.

For information regarding the indexes cited, and key investment terms used in this report see page 8.

Factory output slipped 0.4% in May, with declining production of cars and machinery, according to the Fed. It was the second decline in 3 months. Due to strong demand for transportation equipment, durable goods orders edged up 1.1% in May, the Commerce Department reported. Excluding transportation and military goods, orders were down for the month.

The housing market, which had long been in the doldrums, showed signs of coming back to life. One-family home starts increased 3.2% in May from April, the third consecutive monthly gain, according to the Commerce Department. The agency also revised its April starts to 744,000 units from the 717,000 initially reported. Sales of new homes rose 7.6% in May to a seasonally-adjusted rate of 369,000 homes, the most since April 2010, and 13.3% above year-ago levels. However sales of existing homes dipped 1.5% in May to an annual rate of 4.55 million units, according to the National Association of Realtors. The median price of a home resale rose to $182,600, up 7.9% from a year earlier and the highest price since June 2010.

The Commerce Department also reported that overall construction spending increased 0.9% in May to a seasonally-adjusted annual rate of $830.0 billion from its revised April estimate of $822.5 billion. The current level is 7% higher than the $775.8 billion last year.

Consumer spending, which drives about 70% of the U.S. economy, was flat in May at its lowest level since November, according to the Commerce Department. Revised April figures show a weak gain of 0.1%. Growth in the first quarter was a slim 1.9%. Total retail sales fell in May to $404.6 billion, slightly under March's record high of $406.2 billion and 21.6% above the recession low of March 2009.

Indicating a lack of inflationary pressures, the Consumer Price Index (CPI) inched down 0.3% in May, according to the Labor Department, which attributed the decline mostly to the 6.8% drop in gasoline prices. Food costs were unchanged. For the twelve months ending in May the CPI rose 1.7%, slower than April's pace. Core prices, which exclude volatile energy and food, were up 0.2% in May for the third straight month. They have risen 2.3% in the past year. Meanwhile, the Producer Price Index, which measures price increases before they reach consumers, fell 1% in May, also reflecting the decline in gas prices.

There was little cheer in the report by the Conference Board, an industry research group, that its Consumer Confidence Index, which fell in May, declined again in June. The index stood at 62.0 for June (1985=100), down 6% from May's 64.4. It marked the lowest level since January.

Reflecting a sharp decline in imports, the U.S. trade deficit shrank 4.9% in April to $50.1 billion, according to the Commerce Department. Imports, which set a record high in the previous month, dropped 1.7% to $233 billion. Exports, which had also hit a new peak in March, declined 0.8% to $182.9 billion. The agency reported earlier that exports expanded at an annual rate of 4.2% in the first quarter, faster than in the previous quarter but slower than the 7.7% rise that had been estimated previously.

The economic malaise is effecting mergers and acquisitions. World-wide, the volume of announced deals in the second quarter totaled $613.5 billion, a decline of 14% from a year earlier, according to Dealogic. In the U.S., the second quarter volume totaled $188.9 billion, down 20% from last year.

Global initial public offerings were also down sharply, according to Dealogic. There were 201 deals in the second quarter compared with 428 a year ago. Volume came to $40.1 billion, down one-third from the $62.4 billion in the like 2011 period. Here the U.S. was a bright spot, with 301 deals raising $22.5 billion against 31 deals raising $9.1 billion last year. Facebook, setting a new record high, accounted for $16 billion of the total.

Stock market analysts remained far more optimistic than investors at the close of the first half. Surveyed by Investors Intelligence, 39% of analysts were bullish on June 30, 2012, while only 25% were bearish. On the same date, members of The American Institute of Investors totaled 29% bulls and 44% bears. Earlier in the year the groups were not nearly as far apart. On March 31, analysts were 50% bulls and 23% bears, while investors stood at 42% bulls and 25% bears. On June 30 last year, analysts came to 40% bulls and 27% bears with investors at 38% bulls and 30% bears.

As indicated by the above figures, the public has been bearish on the market for the past several months. Net sales of domestic equity mutual funds have been declining almost every week. Seeking safety, investors have been turning to bond funds. However, we don't know how safe these bond funds are given the current low yield.

The profit growth for the S&P 500 companies this year is now estimated at 6.5%, down from the 9.2% estimate on April 1, according to Thomson Reuters. In the first quarter of 2012, 67% of the 500 companies surpassed their estimates, 10% were in line and 23% came in below expectations. Sales of the S&P 500 companies grew 6.5% in the first quarter, the slowest pace since expansion began in late 2009. Sales had increased an average of 10.7% in the preceding eight quarters. For the coming 12-month period the sales estimate is down to 4.7%.

Based on current estimates, S&P reported that stocks in its S&P 500 Index were trading at a price/earnings ratio (P/E) of 13.9 on June 30, 2012. This compares with 13.98 on March 31, 2012 and 15.19 on June 30 last year. For the trailing twelve-month earnings, S&P reported P/Es of 14.75 on June 30, 2012, 14.5 on March 31, 2012 and 15.74 on June 30 last year. We don't consider the current valuations expensive. In fact, relative to long-term interest rates, the market might even be considered cheap. Overall, the P/Es seemed reasonable.

At this writing, the market's chief positives include the low interest rates and the Fed's position. Fed chairman Ben Bernanke has pledged to take further action as appropriate to promote stronger economic activity. The market's most negative factor is the possibility of recession, especially because of Europe's debt crisis.

Our sentiment and tape indicators are neutral. Our monetary index, reflecting the Fed's moves, is positive. Our investment posture on equities is neutral.

BOND MARKET

Early in 2012 the U.S. economy appeared to be in a slow but stable period of economic growth, which kept the Treasury market fairly quiet. However, in late March there were indications of a slowing economy at home and abroad. Along with the ongoing European debt woes, the Treasury market began a steady rally that left the benchmark 10-year Treasury note at generational lows. The yield on the ten-year note ended the quarter at 1.65% and has recently broken below the 1.5% mark. The Fed has pledged to keep short-term rates low for an extended period, which served to encourage investors to go further out on the yield curve to get any yield at all.

The second quarter was basically a one-way trip down in yields, as there was very little favorable news on the economic front in the U.S. or elsewhere in the world. Corporate earnings expectations have also been declining and, currently, there has been a move out of stocks in a number of markets. Bonds in Europe, with the exception of Germany's, have also been under pressure as the future of the euro hangs in the air. Less fiscally sound countries, not just Greece, but also Italy and Spain, continued to suffer much higher yields as investors fled those bond markets.

U.S. Treasuries benefited from slower economic growth, as expectations of low inflation, and possibly even deflation, permeated the investment community. Furthermore, a so-called flight to quality increased demand for Treasury notes and bonds as the financial uncertainty mounted in Europe. This one-two punch has greatly strengthened treasuries.

Our bond portfolio contains a mix of corporate bonds, Treasuries, Treasury Inflation Protected Securities (TIPS), and some foreign government bonds of stable countries, such as Australia. We increased the duration of the bond portfolio slightly in light of the slowing economy (duration is a measure of sensitivity to interest rates). At this juncture, we are willing to carry a higher duration than we did in the past several months. As always, we remain flexible, ready to respond quickly as conditions evolve.

Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for the purpose of this calculation, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan. Generally, total investment return based on net asset value will be higher than total investment return based on market value in periods where there is an increase in the discount or a decrease in the premium of the market value to the net assets from the beginning to the end of such years. Conversely, total investment return based on net asset value will be lower than total investment return based on market value in periods where there is a decrease in the discount or an increase in the premium of the market value to the net asset value from the beginning to the end of such periods.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2012

(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 ORGANIZATION

The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is a closed-end, diversified management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the Act). The Fund was incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on July 21, 1988. The Fund's investment objective is to seek total return, consisting of capital appreciation and income.

NOTE 2 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principals generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates and those differences could be significant.

A. Security Valuation:

Security valuation procedures for the Fund, which include, nightly price variance, as well as back-testing such as bi-weekly unchanged price, monthly secondary source and transaction analysis, have been approved by the Board of Directors. All internally fair valued securities are approved by a valuation committee appointed by the Board. The valuation committee is comprised of the treasurer, assistant treasurer, secretary and chief compliance officer for the Fund. All internally fair valued securities, referred to below, are updated daily and reviewed in detail by the valuation committee monthly unless changes occur within the period. The valuation committee reviews the validity of the model inputs and any changes to the model. Internal fair valuations are ratified by the Board of Directors at least quarterly.

The Fund utilizes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels.

Level 1 quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2 prices determined using other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3 prices determined using significant unobservable inputs (including the valuation committee's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis is as follows:

Equity securities are valued at the official closing price (typically last sale) on the exchange on which the securities are primarily traded, or if no closing price is available, at the last bid price and are categorized as Level 1 in the hierarchy. Restricted equity securities and private placements that are not widely traded, are illiquid or are internally fair valued by the valuation committee, are generally categorized as Level 3 in the hierarchy.

Certain foreign securities may be fair valued in cases where closing prices are not readily available or are deemed not reflective of readily available market prices. For example, significant events (such as movement in the U.S. securities market, or other regional and local developments) may occur between the time that foreign markets close (where the security is principally traded) and the time that the Fund calculates its net asset value (generally, the close of the NYSE) that may impact the value of securities traded in these foreign markets. In such cases the Fund fair values foreign securities using an external pricing service which considers the correlation of the trading patterns of the foreign security to the intraday trading in the U.S. markets for investments such as American Depositary Receipts, financial futures, exchange-traded funds, and certain indexes as well as prices for similar securities. Such fair valuations are categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Because the frequency of significant events is not predictable, fair valuation of certain foreign common stocks may occur on a frequent basis.

Debt securities, including restricted securities, are valued based on evaluated quotations received from independent pricing services or from dealers who make markets in such securities. For most bond types, the pricing service utilizes matrix pricing which considers yield or price of bonds of comparable quality, coupon, maturity, current cash flows, type, and current day trade information, as well as dealer supplied prices. These valuations are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Structured debt instruments such as mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities may also incorporate collateral analysis and utilize cash flow models for valuation and are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Pricing services do not provide pricing for all securities and therefore dealer supplied prices are utilized representing indicative bids based on pricing models used by market makers in the security and are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Debt securities that are not widely traded, are illiquid, or are internally fair valued by the valuation committee are generally categorized as Level 3 in the hierarchy.

Listed derivatives, such as options, that are actively traded are valued based on quoted prices from the exchange and are categorized as Level 1 in the hierarchy. Over the counter (OTC) derivative contracts, which include forward currency contracts and equity linked instruments are valued based on inputs observed from actively quoted markets and are categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy.

Investments in open-end mutual funds are valued at their closing net asset value determined as of the close of business of the New York Stock Exchange (generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time) each business day and are categorized as Level 1 in the hierarchy.

Short-term notes having a remaining maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market and are generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy.

A summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's major categories of assets and liabilities, which primarily include investments of the Fund, by each major security type is disclosed at the end of the Schedule of Investments for the Fund. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

B. Security Transactions and Investment Income:

Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains and losses from sales of securities are determined on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date, or in the case of certain foreign securities, as soon as the Fund is notified. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. The Fund amortizes premiums and accretes discounts using the effective interest method.

C. Income Taxes:

The Fund is treated as a separate taxable entity. It is the Fund's intention to comply with the requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no provision for federal income taxes or excise taxes has been made.

The Fund may be subject to foreign taxes on income, gains on investments or currency repatriation, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Fund will accrue such taxes and recoveries as applicable based upon current interpretations of the tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which it invests.

The Fund has adopted the authoritative guidance on accounting for and disclosure of uncertainty in tax positions, which requires the Fund to determine whether a tax position is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. The Fund has determined that there was no effect on the financial statements from the adoption of this authoritative guidance. As of June 30, 2012, the tax years that remain subject to examination by the major tax jurisdictions under the statute of limitations are from the year 2008 forward (with limited exceptions).

D. Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders:

Distributions are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences may include the treatment of non-taxable dividends, market premium and discount, non-deductible expenses, expiring capital loss carryovers, foreign currency gain or loss, operating losses and losses deferred due to wash sales. Permanent book and tax basis differences relating to shareholder distributions will result in reclassifications to capital paid in on shares of beneficial interest.

The Fund has a Managed Distribution Plan to pay 7 percent of the Fund's net asset value (NAV) on an annualized basis. Distributions may represent earnings from net investment income, realized capital gains, or, if necessary, return of capital. Shareholders should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan.

E. Foreign Currency Translation:

Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the foreign currency exchange rate effective at the end of the reporting period. Cost of investments is translated at the currency exchange rate effective at the trade date. Cost of investments is translated at the currency exchange rate effective at the trade date. The gain or loss resulting from a change in currency exchange rates between the trade and settlement date of a portfolio transaction is treated as a gain or loss on foreign currency. Likewise, the gain or loss resulting from a change in currency exchange rates between the date income is accrued and paid is treated as a gain or loss on foreign currency. The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments.

F. Derivative Financial Instruments:

Disclosures on derivatives instruments and hedging activities are intended to improve financial reporting for derivative instruments by enhanced disclosure that enables the investors to understand how and why a fund uses derivatives, how derivatives are accounted for, and how derivative instruments affect a fund's results of operations and financial position. Summarized below is a specific type of derivative instrument used by the Fund.

Options Contracts

An options contract provides the purchaser with the right, but not the obligation, to buy (call option) or sell (put option) a financial instrument at an agreed upon price. The Fund may purchase or write listed covered and uncovered put and call options on portfolio securities for hedging purposes or to facilitate the rapid implementation of investment strategies if the Fund anticipates a significant market or market sector advance. The Fund is subject to equity price risk in the normal course of pursuing its investment objectives. The Fund may use options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of equities or for yield enhancement.

When the Fund purchases an option, it pays a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as an asset. When the Fund writes an option, it receives a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as a liability. The asset or liability is adjusted daily to reflect the current market value of the option. Holdings of the Fund designated to cover outstanding written options are noted in the Schedules of Investments. Purchased options are reported as an asset within Investment securities at value before written options on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Options written are reported as a liability within Written options outstanding at value. Changes in value of the purchased option is included in unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) on investments on the Statement of Investments. Changes in value of written options is included in unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) on written options.

If an option expires unexercised, the Portfolio realizes a gain or loss to the extent of the premium received or paid. If an option is exercised, the premium received or paid is recorded as an adjustment to the proceeds from the sale or the cost basis of the purchase. The difference between the premium and the amount received or paid on effecting a closing purchase or sale transaction is also treated as a realized gain or loss. Gain or loss on purchased options is included in net realized gain/(loss) on investment transactions on the Statement of Operations. Gain or loss on written options is presented separately as net realized gain/(loss) on written options transactions.

The risk in writing call options is that the Fund gives up the opportunity for profit if the market price of the security increases and the option is exercised. The risk in writing put options is that the Fund may incur a loss if the market price of the security decreases and the option is exercised. The risk in buying options is that the Fund pays a premium whether or not the option is exercised. The use of such instruments may involve certain additional risks as a result of unanticipated movements in the market. Writers (sellers) of options are subject to unlimited risk of loss, as the seller will be obligated to deliver or take delivery of the security at a predetermined price which may, upon exercise of the option, be significantly different from the then-market value.

NOTE 7 CAPITAL STOCK AND REINVESTMENT PLAN

At June 30, 2012, the Fund had one class of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which 500,000,000 shares are authorized and 35,918,138 shares are outstanding.

Registered shareholders may elect to have all distributions paid by check mailed directly to the shareholder by Computershare as dividend paying agent. Pursuant to the Automatic Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan (the Plan), shareholders not making such election will have all such amounts automatically reinvested by Computershare, as the Plan agent, in whole or fractional shares of the Fund, as the case may be. During the periods ended June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, there were no shares issued pursuant to the Plan.

Pursuant to the Board approved stock repurchase program, the Fund may repurchase up to 5% of its outstanding shares in the open market at a discount to NAV through March 31, 2015. The Fund started its buyback of shares on April 11, 2012. From the period of April 11, 2012 through June 30, 2012, the Fund repurchased 105,548 shares at an average price of $12.40. NOTE 8 REVERSE STOCK SPLIT

Prior to the opening of trading on the NYSE on June 27, 2012, the Fund implemented a 1 for 4 reverse stock split. The Fund's shares are trading on a split-adjusted basis under a new CUSIP number (989837208). The net effect of the Fund's reverse stock split was to decrease the number of the Fund's outstanding common shares and increase the net asset value per common share by a proportionate amount. While the number of the Fund's outstanding common shares declined, neither the Fund's holdings nor the total value of shareholders' investments were affected. Immediately after the reverse stock split, each common shareholder held the same percentage of the Fund's outstanding common shares that he or she held immediately prior to the reverse stock split, subject to adjustments for fractional shares resulting from the split. Capital share activity referenced on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets, and per share data, including the proportionate impact to market price, in the Financial Highlights table have been restated to reflect the reverse stock split.

NOTE 9 CREDIT RISK AND ASSET CONCENTRATIONS

In countries with limited or developing markets, investments may present greater risks than in more developed markets and the prices of such investments may be volatile. The consequences of political, social or economic changes in these markets may have disruptive effects on the market prices of these investments and the income they generate, as well as the Fund's ability to repatriate such amounts.

The Fund may invest a high percentage of its assets in specific sectors of the market in its pursuit of a greater investment return. Fluctuations in these sectors of concentration may have a greater impact on the Fund, positive or negative, than if the Fund did not concentrate its investments in such sectors.

At June 30, 2012, the Fund held 36% of its total investments in U.S. Government securities (includes 10% of U.S. Treasury Bills which are Short-term investments).

NOTE 10 REGULATORY EXAMS

Federal and state regulatory authorities from time to time make inquiries and conduct examinations regarding compliance by Virtus and its subsidiaries (collectively the Company) with securities and other laws and regulations affecting their registered products.

There are currently no such matters which the Company believes will be material to these financial statements.

NOTE 11 FEDERAL INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Previously, net capital losses were carried forward for eight years and treated as short-term losses. As a transition rule, the Act requires that post-enactment net capital losses be used before pre-enactment net capital losses.

NOTE 12 SUBSEQUENT EVENT EVALUATIONS

Management has evaluated the impact of all subsequent events on the Fund through the date the financial statements were issued, and has determined that there are no subsequent events that require recognition or disclosure in these financial statements.

BOARD CONSIDERATION AND APPROVAL OF

INVESTMENT ADVISORY AGREEMENT

Pursuant to Section 15(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act), the Board of Directors (the Board) of The Zweig Total Return Fund, Inc. (the Fund), including a majority of the Directors who have no direct or indirect interest in the investment advisory agreement and are not interested persons of the Fund, as defined in the 1940 Act (the Independent Directors), are required to annually review and approve the terms of the Fund's investment advisory agreement (the Advisory Agreement) with Zweig Advisers LLC (the Adviser). In this regard, the Board reviewed and approved during the most recent six month period covered by this report the Advisory Agreement, as proposed to be amended to calculate the management fee based on managed assets, which include all assets attributable to borrowing, rather than net assets .

More specifically, at a meeting held on February 6, 2012, the Board, including the Independent Directors, considered the factors and reached the conclusions described below relating to the selection of the Adviser and consideration of approval of the Advisory Agreement.

1. Nature, Extent and Quality of Services. The Independent Directors considered the nature, extent and quality of the services performed by the Adviser, including portfolio management, supervision of Fund operations and compliance and regulatory filings and disclosures to shareholders, general oversight of other service providers, review of Fund legal issues, assisting the Directors in that capacity and other services. The Independent Directors concluded that the services are extensive in nature and that the Adviser delivered an acceptable level of service.

2. Investment Performance of the Fund and Adviser. The Independent Directors considered the investment performance for the Fund over various periods of time as compared to its Lipper, Inc. performance group and performance universe, and concluded that the Adviser was delivering acceptable performance results consistent with the long-term investment strategies being pursued by the Fund. The Independent Directors also considered the performance of the portfolios of other Virtus equity mutual funds now being managed by the Fund's portfolio managers and found that performance to be consistent with the performance being achieved by the Fund's equity portfolio.

3. Costs of Services and Profits Realized by the Adviser.

(a) Costs of Services to Funds: Fees and Expenses. The Independent Directors considered the Fund's management fee rate and expense ratio relative to the Fund's Lipper, Inc. expense group, including the anticipated effect on the net assets of the proposed change in the advisory fee should the Fund engage in borrowing. The Independent Directors concluded that those fees are acceptable based upon the qualifications, experience, reputation and performance of the Adviser. The Independent Directors also concluded that the expense ratio of the Fund was within an acceptable range relative to its Lipper, Inc. expense group.

(b) Profitability and Costs of Services to Adviser. The Independent Directors considered the Adviser's overall profitability and costs. The Independent Directors also considered whether the amount of profit is a fair entrepreneurial profit. The Independent Directors concluded that the Adviser's profitability was at an acceptable level in light of the quality of the services being provided to the Fund.

4. Extent of Economies of Scale as Fund Grows. The Independent Directors considered whether there have been economies of scale with respect to the management of the Fund and whether the Fund has appropriately benefited from any economies of scale. The Independent Directors noted that economies of scale may develop for certain funds as their assets increase and their fund-level expenses decline as a percentage of assets, but that closed-end funds such as the Fund typically do not have the ability to substantially increase their asset base as do open-end funds. The Independent Directors concluded that the Fund has appropriately benefited from any economies of scale.

5. Whether Fee Levels Reflect Economies of Scale. The Independent Directors also considered whether the management fee rate is reasonable in relation to the asset size of the Fund and any economies of scale that may exist, and concluded that, given the Fund's closed-end structure, it was. At the same time, the Directors agreed that it would be appropriate to monitor this issue in the event that the assets of the Fund were to increase substantially via a rights offering or some other means.

6. Other Relevant Considerations.

(a) Adviser Personnel and Methods. The Independent Directors considered the size, education and experience of the Adviser's staff, its fundamental research capabilities and approach to recruiting, training and retaining portfolio managers and other research and management personnel, and concluded that in each of these areas it was structured in such a way to support the level of services being provided to the Fund.

(b) Other Benefits to the Adviser. The Independent Directors also considered the character and amount of other incidental benefits received by the Adviser and its affiliates from their association with the Fund. The Independent Directors concluded that potential fall-out benefits that they may receive, such as greater name recognition or increased ability to obtain research or brokerage services, appear to be reasonable, and may in some cases benefit the Fund.

(c) Asset Allocation Services. The Independent Directors considered that the Board decided not to renew the Servicing Agreement between the Adviser and Zweig Consulting, the Fund's subadviser, under which Zweig Consulting provided certain research and analysis to the Adviser and determined the asset allocations to equities, fixed income securities and cash. The Independent Directors considered that the Adviser would be assuming responsibility for asset allocation decisions, and that additional resources of the Adviser are expected to be called upon to support both that function and various investment strategies that the Adviser intends to employ, depending upon market conditions, to seek to enhance the current yield of the Fund. The Independent Directors further noted that the Adviser expected to enter into a research and consulting agreement with respect to the Fund under which Zweig Consulting would provide general market analysis and other research services to the Adviser, but not asset allocation advice.

Conclusions

In considering the Advisory Agreement, as proposed to be amended, the Independent Directors did not identify any factor as all-important or all-controlling and instead considered these factors collectively in light of the Fund's surrounding circumstances. Based on this review, it was the judgment of the Independent Directors that re-approval of the Advisory Agreement, as proposed to be amended, was in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders. As a part of their decision-making process, the Independent Directors noted their belief that a long-term relationship with a capable, conscientious adviser is in the best interests of the Fund. The Independent Directors considered, generally, that shareholders invested in a Fund knowing that the Adviser managed that Fund and knowing the Adviser's investment management fee schedule. As such, the Independent Directors considered, in particular, whether the Adviser managed the Fund in accordance with its investment objectives and policies as disclosed to shareholders, and concluded that the Fund was so managed.

Upon conclusion of their review and discussion, the Independent Directors unanimously agreed to recommend the continuation of the Advisory Agreement and to submit for shareholder approval an amendment to the Advisory Agreement to change the basis of compensation from net assets to managed assets. The Independent Directors noted their belief that the Adviser's compensation should continue to accurately reflect the full size and scope of the Fund's portfolio and therefore recommended approval by shareholders of the amendment to the Advisory Agreement that provides compensation to the Adviser for the effort and resources necessary to manage leveraged assets in the event the Adviser were to implement leverage.
