Table of Contents*RISK FACTORS

Investing in the Series D Debentures involves a high degree of risk. In addition to the other information contained in this prospectus supplement, the accompanying prospectus and the information incorporated by reference herein and therein, you should consider carefully the following factors relating to us and the Series D Debentures before making an investment in the Series D Debentures offered hereby. In addition to the risk factors set forth below, please read the information included or incorporated by reference under Risk Factors in the accompanying prospectus, the 2012 Form 10-K, the First Quarter Form 10-Q and the Second Quarter Form 10-Q. If any of the following risks or those incorporated by reference actually occur, our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows or prospects could be materially adversely affected, which in turn could adversely affect the market or trading price of the Series D Debentures. As a result, you may lose all or part of your original investment. The risks discussed below also include forward-looking statements, and our actual results may differ substantially from those discussed in these forward-looking statements.

The Indenture Does Not Limit the Amount of Indebtedness that MetLife, Inc. or Its Subsidiaries May Incur

Neither MetLife, Inc. nor any of its subsidiaries are restricted from incurring additional debt or other liabilities, including additional senior debt securities, under the Indenture (as defined under Description of the Series D Debentures ). At June 30, 2013, MetLife, Inc. had $15.6 billion of senior debt outstanding. If we incur additional debt or liabilities, MetLife, Inc.'s ability to pay its obligations on the Series D Debentures could be adversely affected. We expect that we will from time to time incur additional debt and other liabilities. In addition, MetLife, Inc. is not restricted from paying dividends on or issuing or repurchasing its securities under the Indenture.

There Are No Financial Covenants in the Indenture

There are no financial covenants in the Indenture. You are not protected under the Indenture in the event of a highly leveraged transaction, reorganization, change of control, restructuring, merger or similar transaction that may adversely affect you, except to the limited extent described in the accompanying prospectus under Description of the Debt Securities Consolidation, Merger, Sale of Assets and Other Transactions.

The Series D Debentures Are Not Guaranteed by Any of MetLife's Subsidiaries and Are Structurally Subordinated to the Debt and Other Liabilities of Our Subsidiaries, Which Means that Creditors of Our Subsidiaries Will be Paid from Their Assets Before Holders of the Series D Debentures Would Have Any Claims to Those Assets

MetLife, Inc. is a holding company and conducts substantially all of its operations through subsidiaries, which means that its ability to meet its obligations on the Series D Debentures depends on its ability to receive distributions from these subsidiaries. However, the Series D Debentures are obligations exclusively of MetLife, Inc. and are not guaranteed by any of its subsidiaries. As a result, the Series D Debentures are structurally subordinated to all debt and other liabilities of MetLife, Inc.'s subsidiaries (including liabilities to policyholders and contractholders), which means that creditors of these subsidiaries will be paid from their assets before holders of the Series D Debentures would have any claims to those assets. At June 30, 2013, MetLife, Inc.'s subsidiaries had $5.9 billion of total debt outstanding, which includes $2.1 billion relating to variable interest entities and excludes intercompany liabilities.

An Active After-Market for the Series D Debentures May Not Develop

The Series D Debentures do not have an established trading market. We cannot assure you that an active after-market for the Series D Debentures will develop or be sustained or that holders of the Series D Debentures will be able to sell their Series D Debentures at favorable prices or at all. Although the Remarketing Agents have indicated to us that they intend to make a market in the Series D Debentures, as permitted by applicable laws and regulations, they are not obligated to do so and may discontinue any such market-making at any time without notice. Accordingly, no assurance can be given as to the liquidity of, or trading markets for, the Series D Debentures. The Series D Debentures are not listed and we do not plan to apply to list the Series D Debentures on any securities exchange or to include them in any automated quotation system.

If a Trading Market Does Develop, Changes in Our Credit Ratings or the Debt Markets Could Adversely Affect the Market Price of the Series D Debentures

The market price for the Series D Debentures depends on many factors, including:

Our credit ratings with major credit rating agencies;

The prevailing interest rates being paid by other companies similar to us;

Our financial condition, financial performance and future prospects; and

The overall condition of the financial markets.

The condition of the financial markets and prevailing interest rates have fluctuated in the past and are likely to fluctuate in the future. Such fluctuations could have an adverse effect on the price of the Series D Debentures.

In addition, credit rating agencies continually review their ratings for the companies that they follow, including us. The credit rating agencies also evaluate the insurance industry as a whole and may change their credit rating for us based on their overall view of our industry. A negative change in our rating could have an adverse effect on the price of the Series D Debentures.
