(Commission File No. 001-33072)

Colleagues,

Today I write to you to announce a transformative deal for our company – our intent to combine Leidos with Lockheed Martin’s Information Systems & Global Solutions Business (IS&GS) in a Reverse Morris Trust transaction. Once the transaction is complete, Leidos will be an industry leader with combined revenues approaching $10 billion and about 34,000 highly skilled professionals.

You will learn a lot about the benefits of this deal in the days ahead, but to start, here are a few things you should know:

Complementary capabilities and customer reach – Leidos and IS&GS offer complementary capabilities in defense, civilian government, health, and cybersecurity. The combination results in a well-balanced portfolio, deep expertise and broad offerings to many markets. IS&GS specifically adds work for Leidos in Veterans Affairs, Health and Human Services, the Federal Aviation Administration and NASA, and it also expands our airport and commercial cyber portfolios.

Compatible culture and values – Both companies enjoy a heritage of building strong customer relationships and cultures that value innovation. As a combined company, we will have the flexibility to focus investment on in-demand workforce skills and capabilities.

Market alignment and competitiveness – IS&GS is already a leading mission critical solution and services provider to federal government agencies. Combining with Leidos results in a company with a singular agility and focus on our people – who support national security priorities and citizen services.

Employee development – The combined scale/size offers more opportunity for employee development as well as an ability to compete for challenging assignments and opportunities in other parts of the business.

Extraordinary expertise Leidos and IS&GS both offer deep experience with solving important customer challenges. The combination creates an industry leader in government IT solutions and services, approaching $10 billion in revenue with about 34,000 employees. Roughly 40 percent of the employees of the planned, combined company hold security clearances, and more than 50 percent have degrees in science, technology, engineering, or math (STEM) fields.

Global footprint Together Leidos and IS&GS lead multiple groundbreaking programs that offer significant potential for domestic and global growth. IS&GS brings additional European and Australian presence to the company.

I believe that the combination of Leidos with IS&GS creates truly significant value for our shareholders and for you including more opportunities for growth and development and for all of us, the ability to better offer cost-effective solutions to our customers. We still have a lot of work ahead of us to complete the deal, but we expect the transaction to close in the second half of 2016. I've asked Bill Lay and Lee Carrick to help manage our efforts by standing up a transition team. You'll hear more about this in the days ahead. In the meantime, the businesses will continue to operate separately until the transaction closes. I know change has been constant for Leidos, but this change is a positive one that will make Leidos a more diversified leader in the markets we serve and one that will give us the scale and access to markets that will enable our further growth. I look forward to hearing your thoughts on what this means to us and working with you as we bring IS&GS onboard. In the meantime, I encourage you to review the following resources, which will be updated regularly:
