(1) On July 20, 2011, Fitch Ratings introduced to the market the Viability rating for financial institutions around the globe, which reflects the same primary risks evaluated in the former Individual Rating. Fitch emphasizes that this is not a fundamental change in its approach to bank ratings or a change in opinion on the creditworthiness of the entities covered. For Bradesco, the Individual Rating 'B/C' was changed to Viability Rating 'a-'. To facilitate the transition, Fitch Ratings will maintain both ratings up to December 31, 2011.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Adjusted Net Income and Profitability

In the second quarter of 2011, Bradesco's adjusted net income stood at R$2,825 million, an increase of 3.2% or R$87 million from the previous quarter, which was primarily impacted by: (i) an increase in fee and commission income; and (ii) lower operating expenses (net of other operating income), partially offset by: (iii) increased personnel and administrative expenses; (iv) increase in allowance for loan losses; and (v) increase in income tax and social contribution expenses.

In the first half of 2011 versus the same period of the previous year, adjusted net income increased by R$961 million, or 20.9%. The main reasons for this result are described in this chapter, among which Bradesco's organic growth stands out.

Shareholders' Equity for June 2011 stood at R$52,843 million, up by 19.3% on the balance of June 2010. The Capital Adequacy Ratio stood at 14.7%, of which 12.9% was under Tier I Reference Shareholders' Equity.

Total Assets stood at R$689,307 million in June 2011, up 23.5% over June 2010, driven by the expansion of business volume. Return on Average Assets (ROAA) remained stable, hovering near 1.7%.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Efficiency Ratio (ER)

Concerning ER – in the last 12 months<sup>(1)</sup>, and quarterly ER, both indicators have remained stable in the comparison between the second quarter of 2011 and previous quarter, recording 42.7% and 42.0% respectively, even considering Bradesco's significant organic growth in the period.

It is worth mentioning that the ER calculated on an “adjusted-to-risk” basis to reflect the impact of risk in loan operations<sup>(2)</sup> also remained stable compared to the previous quarter, while posting a decrease of 2.4 p.p. in the last 12 months.

(1) Efficiency Ratio (ER) = (Personnel Expenses – Employee Profit Sharing (PLR) + Administrative Expenses) / (Financial Margin + Fee and Commission Income + Income from Insurance + Equity in the Earnings (Losses) of Unconsolidated Companies + Other Operating Income – Other Operating Expenses). Considering the ratio between: (i) total administrative costs (Personnel Expenses + Administrative Expenses + Other Operating Expenses + Tax Expenses not related to revenue generation) and (ii) revenue net of related taxes (not considering Claims Expenses from the Insurance Group), our Efficiency Ratio in the second quarter of 2011 would be 46.2%; and

(2) Including ALL expenses, adjusted for granted discounts, loan recovery and sale of foreclosed assets, among others.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Financial Margin

The R$109 million increase between the second quarter of 2011 and the first quarter of 2011 was due to:

- the increase in income from interest-earning operations by R$318 million, mainly the result of: (i) higher income from “Loan” margin; (ii) higher income from “Funding” margin; and partially impacted by (ii) lower income from “Insurance” margin; offset by:

- lower income from non-interest margin, in the amount of R$209 million, considering lower treasury/securities gains.

The financial margin posted a R$3,097 million improvement between the first half of 2011 and the same period in 2010, which corresponds to a 19.7% growth, mainly driven by:

- growth in income from interest-earning operations of R$2,947 million, mainly due to (i) higher income from “Loan” margin, resulting from increase in business volumes; (ii) higher income from “Funding” margin; and (iii) higher income from “Insurance” margin; and
- greater income from the non-interest margin, in the amount of R$150 million, due to higher treasury/securities gains.

Despite the growth of the average "Loan" margin rate, the annualized interest financial margin rate stood at 7.6% in the second quarter of 2011, down by 0.2 p.p. quarter-on-quarter. This performance was mainly due to: (i) the change in asset mix, of which the 10.1% growth in the average balance of the "Securities/Other" portfolio stands out; and (ii) the decrease in the average rate of "Insurance" margin, which was impacted by: (a) the lower return on assets indexed to IPCA and IGP-M; and (b) the performance of multimarket funds that were affected by the 9.0% Ibovespa depreciation in the quarter.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Fee and Commission Income

In the second quarter of 2011, fee and commission income totaled R$3,751 million, up 6.9% or R$241 million from the previous quarter. This increase is mainly due to: (i) larger credit card revenue; (ii) larger gains from underwriting and financial advisory services; (iii) increased volume of loan operations; (iv) net increase in new checking accounts; and (v) larger collection revenue.

This half-year compared to the first half of 2010, the 13.9% increase in fee and commission income was mainly due to: (i) the performance of the credit card segment, due to the growth in card base and revenues, in addition to the increase in interest held in Visavale and Cielo; (ii) the increase in income from checking accounts, which was driven by growth in business volume and a increase in checking account customer base, which posted net growth of 2.1 million accounts in the period; (iii) greater income from loan operations, mainly due to the increase in sureties and guarantees and the higher volume of contracted operations; and (iv) growth in revenue from fund management; and (v) larger revenue from charging and collections.

Summarized Analysis of Adjusted Income

Personnel Expenses

In the second quarter of 2011, the R$169 million increase from the previous quarter was composed of changes in the following portions:

- “structural” – R$105 million increase, mainly due to: (i) lower concentration of vacation periods in the second quarter 2011 and (ii) higher expenses with salaries and compulsory social charges due to the organic growth in the period, with an increase in the number of service points and the consequent hiring of a net total of 1,568 employees; and

- “non-structural” – decrease of R$64 million, chiefly related to the higher expenses with: (i) provision for labor lawsuits; and partially offset by: (ii) lower expenses with employee and management profit sharing (PLR).

This half-year growth of R$683 million compared to the first half of 2010 is mainly due to:

- R$531 million in the “structural” portion from: (i) an increase in expenses related to salaries, compulsory social charges and benefits, due to higher salary levels; (ii) and the net increase of 9,113 employees; and

- the R$152 million increase in the “non-structural” portion, basically resulting from higher expenses with: (i) recording of provisions for labor lawsuits; (ii) management and employee profit sharing (PLR); and (iii) costs with termination of contracts.

Obs.: Structural Expenses = Salaries + Compulsory Social Charges + Benefits + Private Pension Plans.

Non-Structural Expenses = Employee Profit Sharing (PLR) + Training + Labor Provision + costs with termination of contracts.

Administrative Expenses

In the second quarter of 2011, administrative expenses posted a variation of 1.2% from the previous quarter mainly due to higher expenses with: (i) outsourced services, mainly related to non-litigious charging and legal consulting services; (ii) assets maintenance and upkeep; and (iii) communication.

200 branches, 187 PAB/PAE/PAA, 6,073 Bradesco Expresso branches and 3,859 other service points, amounting to 59,473 on June 30, 2011.

The 17.3% increase in the first half of 2011 on the same period in 2010 is the result of greater expenses with: (i) outsourced services, related to: (a) partial outsourcing of credit card processing (Fidelity); and (b) variable expenses related to revenue (e.g. non-bank correspondents); (ii) advertising and marketing; (iii) increase in business and service volume; (iv) agreement amendments and (v) the expansion of the Customer Service Network by 10,319 new units:

Other Operating Income and Expenses

Other operating expenses, net of other operating income, totaled R$764 million in the second quarter of 2011, down R$158 million over previous quarter, basically a result of reversal of a provision recorded in the first quarter of 2011 to cover fluctuations arising from the revaluation of IBNR provisions and benefits to be granted – remission of Health Insurance segment.

Compared to the same period last year, the increase in other operating expenses net of other operating income in the first half of 2011, in the amount of R$548 million, is mainly the result of higher expenses with the recording of operating provisions, especially those for civil contingencies.

Income Tax and Social Contribution

Growth in income tax and social contribution expenses, both quarter-on-quarter and year-on-year comparison, is the result of (i) an increase in taxable income in the second quarter of 2011 and in the first half of 2011; and (ii) the use of tax credit in the first quarter of 2011, as a result of the increase in the social contribution rate from 9% to 15%.

Unrealized Gains

Unrealized gains totaled R$9,377 million in the second quarter of 2011, a R$213 million decrease from the previous quarter. This was mainly due to: (i) the relative depreciation of mark-to-market of held-to-maturity securities impacted by: (a) the drop recorded in the stock market (Ibovespa -9.0%); and (b) the increase in interest rates of securities indexed to the IGP-M and IPCA, impacting their market prices, partially offset by: (ii) the increase of unrealized gains of loan and leasing operations; and (iii) the appreciation of investments, especially those in Cielo, the stocks of which appreciated by 12.7% in the quarter.

Economic Scenario

In the second quarter of the year, analysts' expectations for various international indicators of economic activity were frustrated. Several factors vie to explain the deceleration in world economic growth in recent months: (i) the moderation of household consumption in developed countries, due to the reduction in available income (reflecting the sharp rise in oil prices since the start of the year); (ii) the build in industrial inventories in many countries; (iii) the effects of the contractionist policies in emerging countries; and (iv) the local and global impacts caused by the natural disasters that hit Japan in the first half of March. Some of these factors are of a temporary nature, but structural issues remain on the radar screen, especially the depressed labor market and the deleveraging of households and governments in the G-3 (United States, Europe and Japan).

Since May, concerns with fiscal problems in countries on Europe's periphery have intensified, leading to higher volatility in financial markets. Despite the higher risks to global economic growth, the scenario continues to be characterized by increased liquidity and higher commodity prices. This situation should not change significantly in the coming months, which should favor Brazil.

On the domestic front, the mismatch between supply and demand, the deterioration in the inflation expectations of market agents, the high level of indexation in the economy and strong foreign-currency inflows continue to create important challenges for managing macroeconomic policy. The response to inflationary pressures has led conventional monetary tightening measures to be combined with other measures of a macroprudential nature and deceleration in government spending. This increased coordination of Brazil's economic policy should contribute to the convergence to the inflation to a level close to the targets over the course of 2012. During this convergence phase, economic growth in 2011 should be more moderate (at around 4.0%) than in 2010, when GDP grew by

Despite the country's indisputable vocation as an exporter, the main driver of economic growth has been, and will continue to be, domestic demand. Investment has been influenced by the high level of business confidence – as shown by the high number of investments announced – and by the opportunities associated with the sporting events that Brazil will host in 2014 and 2016 and with the pre-salt deposits. Household consumption continues to grow at a robust pace, supported by the buoyant local job market. With no signs of any overcommitment of income by borrowers and with the social mobility process continuing to advance, the outlook for Brazil's banking system remains favorable, led by the real estate market, which under current economic fundamentals has room to grow on a sustainable path.

The world's view of Brazil remains positive, which has been widely recognized by international risk-rating agencies and by the interest of global companies, which have increased their foreign direct investment in the country. The favorable long-term outlook for the domestic market and the current international scenario have kept the Brazilian real strong in relation to the U.S. dollar. The deterioration in dollar terms of the current account deficit should not lead to a reversal in this trend of a stronger local currency, since this deficit should be financed primarily by investments in production and remain relatively stable as a proportion of GDP.

Bradesco maintains its positive long-term outlook for Brazil. At the same time, the Organization maintains its belief that Brazil could reach a higher pace of potential growth in a shorter period of time if higher investments were made in the areas of education and in economic reforms that increase the efficiency of domestic production. Actions on these fronts would contribute fundamentally to creating better conditions for enabling the private sector to face global competition and continue to grow and create jobs.
