All statements in this report that are not statements of historical fact are forward-looking statements, including any projections of earnings, revenue, sales, cash or other financial items, any statements of the plans, strategies, and objectives of management for future operations or prospects for achieving such plans, strategies or objectives, prospects for achieving FDA approval of the Toric ICL, any statements regarding expectations for success of the ICL, TICL or other products in the U.S. or international markets, prospects for returning U.S. cataract product line to profitability, any statements regarding future performance, statements of belief and any statements of assumptions underlying any of the foregoing. The risks and uncertainties include those described in our Forms 10-K and 10-Q filed with the SEC, our limited capital resources and limited access to financing, the effect a prolonged global recession may have on sales of products, especially products such as ICL used in non-reimbursed elective procedures, the challenge of fully integrating STAAR Japan into our business and managing our other foreign subsidiaries, the need to realize product development goals to improve profitability of our U.S. IOL product line, our ability to address FDA concerns over the clinical study for the Toric ICL and to overcome negative publicity resulting from warning letters and other correspondence from the FDA Office of Compliance, the willingness of surgeons and patients to adopt a new product and procedure, the effect of a possible U.S. recession on elective procedures such as refractive surgery, and the potential effect of recent negative publicity about LASIK on the demand for refractive surgery in general in the U.S. STAAR assumes no obligation to update these forward-looking statements to reflect future events or actual outcomes and does not intend to do so.
