Item 8.01 Other Events.

On March 25, 2011, the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) issued a notice of its determination to review in its entirety the initial determination of the Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) in Eastman Kodak Company's (Kodak) Section 337 action against Apple Inc. (Apple) and Research In Motion Limited (RIM). The ALJ's initial determination found the Kodak patent claim at issue invalid and not infringed. The ITC ordered additional briefing from the parties on certain of the ALJ's findings.

The final decision in this case, based on the deliberation of the full ITC, is expected by May 23, 2011.

As previously reported, on January 14, 2010, Kodak filed a complaint with the ITC against Apple and RIM for infringement of patents related to digital camera technology. In the ITC case captioned, In the Matter of Certain Mobile Telephones and Wireless Communication Devices Featuring Digital Cameras and Components Thereof, Kodak is seeking a limited exclusion order preventing importation of infringing devices including iPHONES and camera enabled BLACKBERRY devices.
