The Compensation Committee, in consultation with the full Board, is primarily responsible for CEO succession planning; as part of this process, the Board will confer periodically with the CEO. In February 2017, following discussions with the Board over the course of nearly two years, Mr. Bass stepped down from his role as President and CEO. The Board hired executive search firm, Egon Zehnder, and is conducting a thorough search. We formed an Interim Office of the Chief Executive, headed by Andrew Anagnost, Chief Marketing Officer and SVP, Business Strategy & Marketing, and Amar Hanspal, Chief Product Officer and SVP, Products. Dr. Anagnost and Mr. Hanspal bring more than 50 years of combined experience at Autodesk, which has enabled a smooth transition. Mr. Bass will remain on the Board and stand for reelection at the 2017 Annual Meeting. Mr. Bass served as a special advisor, providing counsel to the Interim Office of the Chief Executive. Orderly Executive Transition. CEO Transition. 7. Identifying Mr. Bass's successor is a top priority for the Board. Our mandate is to identify a strong leader who can guide Autodesk through the next phase of growth. We are being highly selective in seeking an exceptional individual, and are evaluating both internal and external candidates.

Risk Oversight 9 Our Board, as a whole and through its committees, is responsible for the oversight of risk management. The involvement of the full Board in setting our business strategy at least annually is a key part of its oversight of risk management. The full Board receives updates from our executive officers and outside advisers regarding certain risks Autodesk faces, including litigation and various operating and corporate governance risks. Senior executive officers attend all meetings of the Board and its standing committees and are available to address any questions or concerns raised by the Board regarding risk management and any other matters. Annually, the Board holds strategic planning sessions with senior executive officers to discuss strategies, key challenges, and risks and opportunities for Autodesk.

Division of Risk Oversight Across Our Committees

Risk Oversight Process

Audit Committee: Responsible for overseeing the management of risks associated with Autodesk's financial reporting, accounting and auditing matters.

Compensation and Human Resources Committee: Oversees our executive officer succession planning and risks associated with our compensation policies and programs.

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee: Oversees the management of risks associated with director independence, conflicts of interest, composition and organization of our Board, and director succession planning.
