- 8.2 The Agreeing Parties, informed of such intention to sell, will have up to 30 (thirty) consecutive days from the date on which the correspondence was received, to reply in writing to the offering party, in respect of the offer.
- 8.3 Each Agreeing Party to whom the offer is being made shall exercise the right of first refusal of the shares and rights in connection with the Agreement, allotted in proportion to the percentage of the total capital of the Company that they hold at the date of the offer. In this way, the right of first refusal shall be exercised both in respect to the common shares and the preferred shares offered, independently of the type or proportion of the common or preferred shares owned by the party receiving the offer.
- 8.4 In the event of there being a surplus of shares, due to the non-exercising of the right of first refusal over shares and rights in connection with the Agreement, these shares will be offered to the Agreeing Parties who have exercised their rights, according to the respective proportion of their shareholdings at the date of the offer, and who will have up to 15 (fifteen) consecutive days to respond, so as to turn effective the purchase of all the shares and rights offered.
- 8.5 The Agreeing Parties are not obliged to preferentially sell off any of their shares or rights in connection with the Agreement if there is no interest on the part of the other Agreeing Parties in purchasing the entire shareholding offered.
- 8.6 If there should be no interest on the part of the other Agreeing Parties in purchasing the shares and rights offered, the offering party may sell his or her holding to a third party, or parties, within up to 180 (one hundred and eighty) days from the expiry of the time limit referred to above, provided that it is offered in its entirety, adhering rigorously to the same price, payment currency and all other conditions preferentially offered to the Agreeing Parties. After the period of 180 (one hundred and eighty) days stipulated above has expired, the right of first refusal of the Agreeing Parties will again enter into force, as outlined in Chapter VIII.

8.7 Excluded from the restrictions in this present Chapter VIII are transfers of common or preferred shares or rights subject to the Agreement held by the Agreeing Parties to their parents in direct line of ascent, descendants and spouses, and also to companies with a Brazilian shareholding, already existing or that may be founded by any Agreeing Party and his or her parents in direct line of ascent and descendants, provided that it has the specific statutory purpose of holding a stake in the capital of the Company, with the obligation, through their legal representatives, without any restriction or reservation, to sign the present legal instrument, the shares issued by the Company thereby remaining part of their estate and fully subject to this Agreement.

IX - ENCUMBRANCE OF SHARES

9.1. Except for any beneficial use and trusteeship arrangement constituted prior to the signing of the present Agreement in favor of parents in direct line of ascent, descendants, or spouses, it is prohibited for any Agreeing Party, without the prior and express unanimous approval of the other parties to the Agreement, to constitute a pledge, fiduciary disposition, or any other tangible right of benefit, or offer a guarantee, on the shares or rights subject to the Agreement, or to offer them as surety.

X - RIGHT OF JOINT SALE

10.1 Any Agreeing Party having knowledge of any proposal by any other Agreeing Party or third party to buy a block of shares equal to or greater than 10% (ten percent) of the total amount of shares and rights subject to the Agreement must inform all the other Agreeing Parties, by registered mail or by hand delivery requiring the signature of the recipient, thus enabling them to participate jointly in this sale, selling their holding in proportion to their shares subject to the Agreement, pro rata to the block of shares being acquired.

10.2 In the event that the block of shares or rights being sold represents the sale of control of the Company and, indirectly, the control of Ultrapar, any Agreeing Party will have the right to sell all or part of his or her shares that are subject to the Agreement, and the acquiring third party shall also be obliged to acquire them, rigorously adhering to the same conditions, the same price and in the same payment currency.

10.3 The Agreeing Parties interested in exercising this right of joint sale of shares subject to the Agreement, provided for in Clause 10.1 and Clause 10.2 above, must advise the selling and purchasing Agreeing Parties, by registered mail or by hand delivered requiring the signature of the recipient, with a copy to be sent to the other Agreeing Parties and to the management of the Company, within 30 (thirty) days of having knowledge of the transaction.

10.4 The sale to another Agreeing Party or third party of shares or rights subject to the Agreement, having a value equal or greater than 10% (ten percent) of the total amount of shares and rights subject to the Agreement, or which represent the sale of control of the Company, shall only be effective through the simultaneous express declaration in writing by the purchaser of a commitment to also purchase, for the same price, in the same currency of payment and under the same conditions, those shares of the other Agreeing Parties who wish to sell, in accordance with the terms of Clauses 10.1 and 10.2 herein.

XI - ADHERENCE TO THE AGREEMENT IN THE EVENT OF VOLUNTARY SALE

11.1 The validity of the sale of the shares and rights in connection with the Agreement to third parties is subject to the purchaser adhering to the terms of this Agreement, without exception or reserve, being automatically applied to the said party, his or her heirs and successors, irrevocably and unretractably.

XII - ADHERENCE TO THE AGREEMENT IN THE EVENT OF NON-VOLUNTARY SALE

12.1 In the event of a judicial transfer of shares issued by the Company, in connection with the Agreement, including as a consequence of an inventory or judicial separation, divorce, long-term conjugal relationship or liaison, bankruptcy, liquidation, lien, public or private auction, the judicial acquirer is obliged to adhere, without reservation or exception, to all the terms of the current Agreement.

XIII - SALE OF HOLDING COMPANY OWNED BY AN AGREEING PARTY – SPIN OFF

- 13.1 If any of the Agreeing Parties wishes to sell the control of his or her holding company, the sale of which involves the indirect transfer of shares and rights in connection with the Agreement, such Agreeing Party will be obliged to spin off the holding company, with the aim of transferring that part of the company's assets corresponding to these shares and rights to another Brazilian holding company to be hold exclusively by the Agreeing Party, his or her parents in direct line of ascent and descendants, and with the specific statutory purpose of holding a stake in the capital of the Company.
- 13.2 The shares or quotas of the special-purpose holding company resulting from the spin-off will be subject to the same restrictions of sale, transfer, and encumbrance as the shares and rights subject to the Agreement, established above.

XIV - LIQUIDITY MECHANISM – EXCHANGE OF SHARES

- 14.1 The Agreeing Party may request the executive board of the Company to entirely or partially exchange his or her shareholding in the Company, either through common or preferred shares, for preferred shares of Ultrapar.
- 14.2 The Agreeing Party will receive, in exchange, the amount of preferred shares issued by Ultrapar needed to secure directly the same stake in the capital of this latter company, in terms of common and preferred shares that he or she indirectly held in the capital of Ultrapar through the Company, in the same proportion as the shares subject to exchange. Thus, as an example, if the exchanging party's holding of common and preferred shares in the capital of the Company were to be equivalent of an indirect stake in Ultrapar of 10% (ten percent), and the whole of his or her shareholding were to be exchanged, the exchanging party would receive preferred shares, issued by Ultrapar which would secure a direct stake of 10% (ten percent) in the capital of the latter company.
- 14.3 To request such exchange, the Agreeing Party must send the executive board of the Company a request for the exchange of his or her shares, either by registered mail or by the hand delivery requiring the signature of the recipient, stating the number and class of shares to be exchanged.

- 14.4. The executive board has up to 5 (five) days from receiving the share exchange request defined in Clause 14.3 above to send correspondence informing the requesting party and all the Agreeing Parties, if the proposed exchange could result in: (i) a loss by the Company of majority control (51%) of the voting capital of Ultrapar; or (ii) violation of the percentage limit of preferred shares allowed as a percentage of all the shares issued by the Company or by Ultrapar (2/3), according to the terms of the prevailing legislation. In both hypothetical cases, the exchange of shares would obligatorily be refused by the executive board.
- 14.5 If implementing the exchange is feasible, the Company, upon due deliberation by its board of directors, must establish the most convenient method for acquiring the preferred shares of Ultrapar, opting between: (a) converting the Company's common shares issued by Ultrapar into preferred shares issued by Ultrapar; or (b) granting stock dividends of preferred shares to Ultrapar shareholders resulting from a capital increase based on reserves or profits to Ultrapar shareholders.
- 14.6 The Agreeing Parties are obliged to take action to make Ultrapar adopt the statutory and administrative measures necessary to fulfill the terms contained in the clauses above, as soon as possible, observing the legal minimum time limits and the terms of the respective bylaws.
- 14.7 Having acquired the preferred shares issued by Ultrapar, the Company will exchange all the shares issued by it that are held by the Agreeing Party carrying out the exchange.
- 14.8 The shares issued by the Company that are the subject of the exchange will be held in treasury, observing the legal limits, or cancelled or sold off, at the criteria of the board of directors of the Company.

XV - VALIDITY AND SUCCESSION

- 15.1 The current Shareholders' Agreement is effective from the date of signing and will be in force for 2 (two) years, this Shareholders' Agreement may be renewed, by unanimous agreement, within the Company itself, or in the event of the deliberate winding up of the same, in its most recent version, also by the unanimous agreement of the Agreeing Parties, within Ultrapar.

- 15.2 The current Shareholders' Agreement can be terminated at any time upon deliberation by Agreeing Parties representing at least 80% (eighty percent) of the common shares issued by the Company related to this Agreement.
- 15.3 The current Agreement applies, in all its terms and conditions, to the heirs and successors of the Agreeing Parties.

XVI - SPECIFIC EXECUTION

- 16.1 Any non-fulfillment by the Agreeing Parties, their heirs and successors, of any of the obligations stipulated in this Agreement, will result in the specific execution of the obligation to do and to declare their willingness to do through the procedure of self-regulation set out in paragraphs 8 and 9 of article 118 of Law 6,404, 1976, as well as the judicial execution set out in paragraph 3 of the same article 118 of Law 6,404, 1976, and in articles 461, 461-A, 466-A to 466-C, 632 and subsequent articles of the Code of Civil Procedure.
- 16.2 For the implementation of article 118 of Law 6,404, 1976, a copy of the current Agreement will, on the initiative of any of the Agreeing Parties, be filed at the head offices of the Company and Ultrapar, which must rigorously observe all its terms.
- 16.3 The obligations resulting from this Agreement will be annotated in the books of the Company and Ultrapar by the financial institution charged with the task, these annotations constituting an impediment to the carrying out of any corporate acts or business in violation of that agreed upon in this instrument, the Company and Ultrapar thus being legitimately authorized, in such an event, to refuse to register such acts or business, and as a consequence, to refuse the transfer of ownership or title of any rights over the shares and rights encompassed in this covenant, as well as, in particular, the exercising of the voting right thereby derived from them.

XVII - GENERAL PROVISIONS

- 17.1 The current Agreement replaces and supplants any other previous agreement signed by the Agreeing Parties in the Company. However, the terms of the shareholders' agreement signed at

Ultrapar by the Agreeing Parties, on 22 March 2000, which covers direct and indirect controlling shareholders, remain wholly and fully in force.

- 17.2 The Agreeing Parties, from this date, may not sign any other shareholders' agreement, either between themselves or with any future shareholders of the Company or Ultrapar.
- 17.3 Any invalidation, inefficacy or nullity of any of the clauses in the current Agreement will not imply, ipso facto, invalidation, inefficacy or nullity of the others.
- 17.4 The tolerance of any of the Agreeing Parties in regard of possible delays, on the part of the others, in fulfilling the obligations herein assumed will not imply any new adjustment to the terms contained in this legal instrument, or renouncement of the rights empowered by them and thus attributed.
- 17.5 The current Agreement may only be altered through a written instrument, signed by all the Agreeing Parties, such change thus becoming an integral part of the current Agreement, in the form of an annex.
- 17.6 The Agreeing Parties hereby commit themselves to ensuring that the resulting necessary changes are made to the bylaws of the Company and Ultrapar, as a result of the consummation of this Agreement and its execution, throughout the period that it remains in force.
- 17.7 In the case of omissions, doubts, questions or conflicts between Agreeing Parties, these must be submitted to a single arbitrator, unanimously designated by the Agreeing Parties, who will commit themselves to respecting, without restriction or reservation, the decision handed down by the arbitrator.

If the necessary unanimous agreement is not reached on the appointment of a single arbitrator, the issues arising will be determined by arbitration procedure carried out according to the rules of the Brazil-Canada Chamber of Commerce, in São Paulo, in Portuguese, and under the application of the Brazilian Law and, being duly in agreement, the Agreeing Parties hereby sign the 23 (twenty three) counterparts of this agreement, in identical content and form, in the presence of two undersigned witnesses.
