COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Overview

Our compensation philosophy is designed to support our key objective of creating value for our stockholders by growing our revenue and earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, or EBITDA, increasing our total market capitalization and growing our share price. Our Compensation Committee is responsible for establishing and approving our executive officers' compensation.

Our Compensation Committee has established the following principles in determining the compensation of our executive officers:

to attract and retain high-performing executive talent by paying competitive compensation;

to provide rewards consistent with performance by tying both our annual cash incentive program and our long-term equity incentive program to corporate performance; and to provide equity-based long term incentives which align management and stockholder interests.

We experienced a successful first year as a public company growing our revenue 44% year over year by connecting 104 new lenders, growing our subscription business by 65% and launching several new products. For 2006, 75% of our growth was considered organic and the other 25% came from acquisitions. Our market capitalization increased by $416 million from January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2006.

We believe that our compensation philosophy and strategy serve to align our team members and focus the executive team and the whole company on our vision and the achievement of our stated strategic objectives and goals.

Compensation Processes and Criteria

The Compensation Committee has established a number of processes, some of which are described below, to ensure that our executive compensation achieves these objectives.

Peer Group Information and Benchmarking

In connection with compensation decisions, our Compensation Committee reviewed market compensation data of our peer group provided by Ernst & Young, an independent compensation consultant that is retained by and reports to the Compensation Committee. In early 2006, the Compensation Committee selected our peer group by initially reviewing industry peer companies used by equity research analysts in valuing us during our initial public offering process. Companies from that list with total revenues similar to ours were selected. For each of these companies, analyst reports and public filings were reviewed to identify additional companies in a related SIC code and that fell within a certain revenue size range. Since we have limited direct competitors that are public companies, we made an effort to focus on companies within the software industry who develop and market a product that facilitates some aspect of financial service or customer service functions for businesses. The Compensation Committee selected the following 15 companies to serve as our peer group in 2006 for purposes of benchmarking our compensation: Autobyte Inc., Digital Insight Corp., Digital River, Inc., f5 Networks Inc., Motive, Inc., RMO Software, Inc., Network Equipment Technologies, Inc., Open Solutions Inc., Radiant Systems, Inc., Salesforce.com, Inc., Tier Technologies, Inc., Websense, Inc., Witness Systems, Inc., Micromuse, Inc. and SeeBeyond, Inc.

We changed our peer group for 2007 for the following reasons: Micromuse, Inc. and SeeBeyond, Inc. were removed because they had been acquired; Network Equipment Technologies, Inc. was removed because its revenues are much lower than ours; and Blackbaud, Inc. and Talx Corporation were added because their business models are similar to ours and they are viewed by the investment community as our comparables. We use the peer group compensation data primarily to ensure that the total direct compensation for executive management is within the broad middle range of comparative pay of the peer group companies while providing an opportunity for annual cash bonus to attain the 75th percentile when we exceed our targeted performance levels. While peer group market data provides a useful starting point for compensation decisions, our Compensation Committee also takes into account factors such as level of responsibility, prior experience and individual performance in arriving at final compensation decisions.

The elements of executive compensation include base salary, annual and long term incentive plans, and annual grants of stock options and restricted common stock. Our executive compensation has a high proportion of total direct compensation delivered through pay-for-performance incentive and long-term equity compensation, equating to more compensation at risk.

Assessment of Company and Individual Performance

Our Compensation Committee, in collaboration with senior management, establishes on an annual basis specific revenue and EBITDA targets that determine the size of bonus payouts under our annual incentive bonus plan.

Individual performance directly determines total direct compensation levels for our Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers. Our Compensation Committee meets with the Chief Executive Officer at the beginning of the year to establish our Chief Executive Officer's performance objectives (both individual and company) for the year. At the end of the year, the Compensation Committee conducts a performance review of the Chief Executive Officer based on his achievement of the pre-established objectives. The overall performance of the Chief Executive Officer and the company are considered by the Compensation Committee in setting the Chief Executive Officer's compensation.

For all other executive officers, the Compensation Committee receives a performance assessment and compensation recommendation from the Chief Executive Officer. The performance evaluation of the executive officers is based on achievement of pre-established objectives.

Total Compensation Review

The Compensation Committee reviews each executive's base pay, bonus and equity incentives annually with the guidance of the Compensation Committee's independent consultant. In addition to these compensation elements, the Compensation Committee reviews the deferred compensation program and payments that would be required under various severance and change-in-control scenarios.

Components of Executive Compensation for 2006

Base Salary

Base salaries are pegged at the market median and are competitive with similar positions at our peer group companies. The base salaries of all executive officers are reviewed annually against market data and adjusted to reflect individual roles and performance. Adjustments to base salary are determined based upon market trends as well as individual performance and experience. We may also increase the base salary of an executive officer during the year if a change in the scope of the officer's responsibilities justifies such consideration. In 2006, we increased the base salaries of each of our named executive officers from 2005 by approximately 3.9%.

Annual Incentive Bonus Plan

Under our annual incentive bonus plan, our cash incentives are targeted at the 50th percentile of our peer group. If we exceed our targets and achieve our stretch goals, the bonus amount is then targeted at the 75th percentile of our peer group as we wish to provide rewards consistent with performance. For 2006, we had selected the following performance metrics under our annual incentive bonus plan: an EBITDA target of $45.1 million, a corporate-wide revenue target of $158.6 million as well as separate revenue targets for each of our business units. As a result of acquisitions, the Compensation Committee increased the EBITDA target to $46.3 million and the revenue target to $165.7 million. Under this plan, no annual bonuses would have been paid had we not met our adjusted EBITDA threshold of $41.7 million. We use EBITDA as our principal metric to review and assess our operating performance and the performance of our management team as EBITDA provides useful information with respect to the performance of our fundamental business activities and is also frequently used by equity research analysts and others in the evaluation of the company. Our EBITDA for 2006 was reported in Item 7 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K. For executive officers with company-wide responsibility, we give equal weight to corporate revenue and EBITDA targets. Currently, these executive officers include Mr. O'Neil, our Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Cox, our Chief Financial Officer, and Mr. Jacobs, our General Counsel. For other executive officers who are responsible for business units, depending on position, we give different weights to corporate and business unit revenues. In each case, we also give additional weight to individual performance and attainment of individual goals. The bonus target amounts, expressed as a percentage of base salary, are established for executive officers each year, with a target range of 40% to 75% of base salary for 2006 and a maximum range of 60% to 150% of base salary for 2006, depending on position. As stated above, no bonuses are payable if we do not meet the pre-determined EBITDA threshold amount. If we exceed our EBITDA threshold amount and the respective revenue targets, we may increase or reduce the payouts by up to 5% depending on performance relative to specific subscription and transaction revenue targets. The actual reward to each executive officer is further adjusted, up or down, depending on the Compensation Committee's assessment of the individual performance of such officer. In making this assessment, the Compensation Committee also considers the input of our Chief Executive Officer with respect to all executive officers. In the case of our Chief Executive Officer, the Compensation Committee considers factors such as leadership, leadership development, talent management and succession planning. The Compensation Committee may adjust the financial metrics in appropriate circumstances. Our revenue and EBITDA in 2006 were $173.3 million and $48.0 million, respectively, surpassing our targets by 4.6% and 3.7%, respectively. Accordingly, the actual cash incentive bonuses awarded to executive officers ranged from 60% to 134% of base salary.

Annual Equity Grants

In order to align our executive officers' interests with those of our stockholders, the Compensation Committee makes annual grants of stock options and restricted common stock each year to our executive officers, with stock options targeted to deliver approximately 50% of the total long-term incentive value and restricted common stock targeted to deliver approximately 50% of the total long-term incentive value. These annual grants are targeted at the median of the market, which is consistent with our general compensation philosophy to pay total direct compensation at the median of the market except in the case of exceptional performance. We use a mix of restricted common stock and nonqualified stock options in order to reduce dilution to our stockholders, manage compensation expense and provide upside potential. We use nonqualified stock options instead of incentive stock options in order to preserve our compensation tax deduction. The annual equity grants also serve as a retention device as they are earned through service with us over a four-year period and the options have a ten-year term. These equity grants further the long-term perspective necessary for continued success in our business. Towards this end, we have also implemented share ownership requirements for the executive team equal to multiples of their base salary, which vary from six times to one times base salary. Each executive officer is expected to attain share ownership level within five years. Stock options are not included in determining compliance with the share ownership requirement. Executive officers are expected to retain 25% of the net after-tax shares acquired pursuant to the exercise of a stock option until they achieve the minimum share ownership position. The Compensation Committee reviews each executive officer's compliance with the minimum share ownership requirement once a year. As of the end of 2006, each executive officer has met the minimum share ownership requirement.

We typically make our annual stock option grants at the first regularly scheduled meeting of the Compensation Committee of the year. Option grants to new hires are generally made at the first regularly scheduled Compensation Committee meeting that follows the date of hire. We used to price our options at the higher of the closing price of our common stock on the day preceding the date of grant or the closing price of our stock on the date of grant. On August 2, 2006, we amended our plan to use the closing price of our stock on the date of grant.

Long-Term Equity Incentive Program

In August 2006, we implemented a performance-based long-term equity incentive program and made significant grants of restricted common stock to our executive officers. These grants are targeted to deliver total direct compensation at the 75th percentile of our peer group upon the achievement of exceptional performance. These grants will be fully earned only if in the next three fiscal years: (i) we achieve 22.5% annual growth for our EBITDA and market capitalization metrics as set forth below; and (ii) if the executive officers remain continuously employed with us through January 31, 2010.

Performance Goals

	EBITDA	Market Cap
December 31, 2007	$56 million	$ 928 million
December 31, 2008	$69 million	$1,136 million
December 31, 2009	$85 million	$1,400 million

Our objective for making these restricted common stock grants is to provide significant incentives to our executive officers to achieve our corporate goal of doubling our size in terms of EBITDA and market capitalization by the end of 2009.

Table of ContentsEmployment Agreements

We have entered into employment agreements with each of our named executive officers. These agreements provide for a certain level of severance, generally two times base salary, pro rata annual cash incentive and limited accelerated vesting of equity grants (other than performance-based restricted common stock) in the event of a termination of employment by us without cause or by a named executive officer for good reason. In return, each executive covenants not to compete or solicit our employees for two years from the date of termination. Severance is stopped if the executive violates these covenants during the two-year severance period. Additionally, should a named executive officer procure subsequent employment during the period during which he or she is entitled to a severance payment, then his or her future severance payments will be reduced to the lesser of (i) 50% of the executive's salary or (ii) 50% of the executive's base compensation received for subsequent employment, commencing on the date the executive commences providing services.

The employment agreements also provide change in control benefits. In the event we were to undergo a change in control, our employment agreements provide for 36 months of accelerated vesting for time-based stock option and restricted common stock grants and full vesting of such grants in the event of termination within 12 months of the change in control. Our performance-based restricted common stock grants provide for full acceleration upon a change in control. We believe that it is fair to provide for accelerated vesting because equity grants provide such a high proportion of our total compensation. Very often, senior management lose their jobs in connection with a change of control. By agreeing up front to protect our executive officers from losing their equity in the event of a change in control, we believe we can reinforce and encourage the continued attention and dedication of our executive officers to their assigned duties without distraction in the face of an actual or threatened change in control. This protection also aligns the interests of our executive officers with that of our stockholders.

Our employment agreements also provide for a tax gross-up payment to our named executive officers in the event they become subject to the 20% golden parachute excise tax. We have agreed to this payment because it is market practice and because we believe that our named executive officers should be able to receive what they have bargained for without being subject to this punitive tax. Please see page [] for more information about our named executive officers' employment agreements.

Upon his promotion in 2006 to Senior Vice President, Dealer Solutions, Mr. Sundaram signed an employment agreement with the same terms as are our agreements with other named executive officers with one exception. At the time of our acquisition of certain assets of Automotive Lease Guide (alg), LLC, Mr. Sundaram's previous employer, we agreed to honor an existing arrangement that he had in regards to a promissory note owed to his former employer in order to encourage Mr. Sundaram to remain with us after the acquisition.

Additionally, Mr. Sundaram's promotion required him to move across the country to corporate headquarters in Lake Success, New York. Accordingly, we entered into a relocation agreement with Mr. Sundaram that provided, among other things, reimbursement of his moving expenses, temporary housing expenses, forfeited tuition deposits and certain expenses in connection with the purchase and sale of his primary residence, as well as a car allowance. All of these amounts are grossed up for taxes.

Perquisites

We believe that cash and equity compensation are the two key components in attracting and retaining management talent and therefore do not generally provide any substantial perquisites other than relocation expenses.

Deferred Compensation Plan

We have a deferred compensation plan that allows our executive officers to defer bonus compensation by investing it in deferred stock units based on the fair market value of our common stock on the date the bonuses would otherwise be paid. This plan provides a tax effective means of allowing our executive officers to invest in our stock and fulfills our objective of encouraging equity ownership. The first opportunity to participate in this plan was for the 2006 bonus which was paid in 2007. Accordingly, no deferrals occurred in 2006.

401(k) Plan

We maintain a 401(k) plan which covers substantially all our employees. The 401(k) plan is an essential part of the retirement package needed to attract and retain employees in our industry. The 401(k) plan permits employees to contribute up to the lesser of 20% of plan earnings or the annual dollar limit prescribed by the tax laws. We provide a matching contribution, the amount of which is determined at our discretion. For 2006, our matching contribution is 50% of each employee's contribution up to 6% of eligible pay. Our matching contribution vests incrementally over a five-year period.

Employment Agreements with Named Executive Officers

Each of our named executive officers has entered into a written employment agreement with us or one of our subsidiaries that governs the terms and conditions of his employment. Except as set forth below with regards to Mr. Blair, each employment agreement with respect to the named executive officers provides:

The initial term of employment is through June 30, 2007, and will automatically be extended for additional one-year periods unless either party notifies the other of non-extension at least 60 days prior to the end of a term.

The annual base salary for 2007 for each of the named executive officers is as follows:

	2007	2006
Mark F. O Neil	$ 510,000	$ 495,040
Robert J. Cox III	$ 280,000	$ 260,000
John A. Blair	$ 268,000	$ 260,000
Eric D. Jacobs	$ 270,000	$ 260,000
Raj Sundaram	$ 268,000	$ 260,000

Each named executive officer is eligible to receive an annual performance-based cash bonus. Each year, the amount of such bonus, if any, is determined based upon our performance relative to certain performance benchmark targets. Each named executive officer is prohibited from competing with us or soliciting our employees or customers during the term of his employment and for a period of two years thereafter, and from disclosing our confidential or proprietary information indefinitely.

In the event that a named executive officer's employment is terminated by us without cause or by the executive for good reason, the named executive officer will be entitled to continue to participate in our health and welfare benefit plans for a period of one year following termination and to continue to be paid his base salary for a period of two years following termination. Additionally, the named executive officer shall be entitled to receive a pro rata annual bonus based on the percentage of the year worked through the date of termination. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event will any named executive officer be entitled to receive any such payment or benefits after he or she violates any non-compete, non-disclosure or non-solicit covenant. Cause means any of the following: (i) the executive officer's conviction for a felony, commission of fraud or embezzlement upon us; (ii) the executive officer's commission of any willful act intended to injure our reputation, business, or business relationships; (iii) the refusal or failure to perform his duties with us in a competent and professional manner (in certain cases, with a cure period of ten business days); or (iv) the refusal or failure of the executive officer to comply with any of his material obligations under his employment agreement (in certain cases, with a cure period of ten business days). Good reason means any of the following: (i) a material breach by us of an executive officer's employment agreement or in connection with our stock incentive plans (which has not been cured within the allotted time); (ii) a material reduction of an executive officer's title or duties or the assignment to the officer of any duties materially inconsistent with his or her then current position; (iii) any material reduction in the executive officer's salary or benefits; (iv) the failure of any successor entity to assume the terms of the executive officer's employment agreement upon a change of control; (v) relocation of the officer's location a distance of at over fifty miles; or (vi) if we do not renew the executive officer's employment agreement upon its expiration.

executive for good reason, the named executive officer shall be credited with twenty-four months of accelerated vesting with respect to any options or other equity-based awards granted under the 2001 Stock Option Plan or 2005 Incentive Award Plan. Upon a change of control, the named executive officer shall automatically be credited with thirty-six months of accelerated vesting with respect to any options or other equity-based awards granted under the 2001 Stock Option Plan or 2005 Incentive Award Plan. Further, in the event that, within twelve months following a change of control, a named executive officer's employment is terminated, he experiences a material negative change in his compensation or responsibilities or he is required to be based at a location more than 50 miles from his current work location, any remaining unvested options or other equity-based awards granted under the 2001 Stock Option Plan or 2005 Incentive Award Plan shall become fully vested. Change of control means any of the following: (i) certain transactions or series of transactions in which a third party directly or indirectly acquires more than 50% of the total combined voting power of our securities (other than through registered public offerings, employee benefit plans and transactions with affiliates); (ii) over a two year period, our directors who were nominated by our stockholders or elected by our board cease to constitute a majority of our board; (iii) a merger, consolidation, reorganization, business combination, sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of our assets or the acquisition of assets or stock of another entity, in which our voting securities outstanding immediately before the transaction cease to represent at least a majority of the combined voting power of the successor entity's outstanding voting securities immediately after the transaction, or after which a person or group beneficially owns voting securities representing 50% or more of the combined voting power of the successor entity; provided, however, that no person or group shall be deemed to beneficially own 50% or more of combined voting power of the successor entity solely as a result of the voting power held in us prior to the consummation of the transaction; or (iv) our stockholder's approval of a liquidation or dissolution. In the case of those named executive officers who have entered into employment agreements with one of our subsidiaries rather than with the parent company, change of control also means the occurrence of any of the above with respect to such subsidiary.

Each named executive officer is entitled to a gross-up payment that, on an after-tax basis, is equal to the taxes imposed on the severance payment under the named executive officer's employment agreement in the event any payment or benefit to the named executive officer is considered an excess parachute payment and subject to an excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code.

In the event that any of our named executive officers procures subsequent employment during the period during which they are entitled to a severance payment, then their future severance payments shall be reduced to the lesser of (i) 50% of the executive's salary or (ii) 50% of the executive's base compensation received for subsequent employment, commencing on the date the executive commences providing services in his new capacity.

The following provisions of Mr. Blair's employment agreement differ from those of our other named executive officers:

Mr. Blair's contract has a term of five years from May 25, 2005.

In the event that Mr. Blair's employment is terminated by us without cause or by him for good reason, he shall be credited with twelve months of accelerated vesting with respect to any stock options. Additionally, the vested portion of his stock options shall remain exercisable for nine months following the date of termination of his employment.

Messrs. Blair and Sundaram have the following additional provisions in their employment agreements:

They each receive a monthly payment equal to 1/12 of $1,200,000 multiplied by the prime interest rate plus 1%, up to a maximum rate of 7% until the note described in the subsequent bullet point is issued.

They are each eligible to receive additional compensation payable in the form of a note based on the fiscal performance of certain data products. The note, when and if issued, will accrue interest monthly and is payable in full on June 30, 2010, although it can be prepaid at any time at our option.

They each signed a separate Unfair Competition and Nonsolicitation Agreement in which they agreed not to solicit from or compete with our ALG business for a period of 10 years from May 25, 2005.
