Edgar Filing: ATLAS AIR WORLDWIDE HOLDINGS INC - Form 8-K

(Former name or former address, if changed since last report)

Item 5. Other Events.

In conjunction with Atlas Air, Inc. ("Atlas") obtaining waivers and deferrals from its bank lenders, which were announced earlier this month, and in response to current market conditions, Atlas has commenced negotiations with some of its aircraft lessors to reduce or defer operating lease payments relating to certain 747-200 series aircraft. In that regard, Atlas has not made one lease payment and may defer others pending the outcome of the negotiations. While Atlas is optimistic that it will be successful in renegotiating the terms of such obligations to better reflect current market conditions, there can be no assurance that, absent such agreements, the lessors would not elect to exercise remedies available to them under their leases in response to any non-payments or deferrals. Except for non-payments or deferrals that have or may occur in connection with the lease negotiations described above, Atlas is current on its public debt, secured credit facilities, and other aircraft lease obligations.

Richard Shuyler, Atlas' CEO stated, "In this market climate, it is prudent for Atlas to undertake to rationalize its current fleet and seek to voluntarily restructure its lease obligations to reflect current adverse market conditions. We hope that those affected lessors will work with us to bring about the needed changes that will ultimately result in a stronger company capable of executing our business plans to the benefit of all of our creditors and stockholders."

At a Board meeting held on January 13, 2003, Atlas' Chairman Brian Rowe announced that Linda Chowdry, a director and the widow of Michael Chowdry, the founder of Atlas, was elected Vice Chairman of Atlas Air Worldwide Holdings, Inc. She is scheduled to succeed Mr. Rowe as Chairman of the Board upon his retirement on April 1, 2003. Upon Mr. Rowe's retirement, Richard Shuyler, CEO of Atlas, will assume the additional position of Vice Chairman of the Board.
