Proposal No. 2:

AMENDMENT OF THE 2001 LONG-TERM INCENTIVE PLAN

The stockholders of the Company will be asked to approve an amendment of the 2001 Long Term Incentive Plan (the Plan). The proposed amendment will increase the number of shares of Common Stock authorized for issuance on exercise of options under the Plan by 3,500,000 shares. On October 30, 2003, the Board of Directors adopted, subject to approval by the stockholders at the Meeting, the proposed amendment.

The principal features of the Plan are summarized below. Copies of the Plan will be available at the Meeting and can also be obtained by making a written request to the Company's Corporate Secretary at the address provided on the first page of this Proxy Statement. The following summary description of the Plan is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Plan.

Amendment to Plan

The Amendment to the Plan will increase the aggregate number of shares of common stock authorized pursuant to the Plan from 4,000,000 to 7,500,000, subject to antidilution adjustment. These shares will be issued and issuable pursuant to all awards in the Plan. This increase is proposed in order to provide sufficient shares under the Plan to cover new award grants and to enable the Company to attract, retain and motivate directors, employees and designated paid consultants (as defined below) by providing for or increasing their proprietary interests.

Table of Contents

Purpose of Plan.

The Plan is intended to encourage stock ownership by directors, employees and designated paid consultants of the Company and its subsidiaries in order to increase their proprietary interest in the success of the Company, and to induce new and talented employee candidates to join the Company.

Administration.

The Plan will be administered by the Board or, if the Board so determines, by the Compensation Committee (the Committee). However, except as otherwise provided below, in the case of awards to directors or officers subject to Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the Exchange Act), the Committee will have exclusive responsibility for and authority to administer the Plan unless the Board expressly determines otherwise. Subject to the foregoing and to the express provisions of the Plan, the Board or the Committee, as applicable, will have plenary authority in its sole discretion to make all determinations it deems necessary or advisable for the administration of the Plan. The membership of the Committee must at all times consist of not less than two members of the Board and must be constituted, if possible, to permit the Plan to comply with Rule 16b-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act or any successor rule (Rule 16b-3) and with the requirements of section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). The Committee will have all of the powers and duties set forth in the Plan, as well as such additional powers and duties as the Board may delegate to it. However, the Board retains the right (i) to determine whether the shares of Stock reserved for issuance upon the exercise of options, Stock appreciation rights, or as restricted stock awarded under the Plan shall be issued shares or unissued shares, (ii) to appoint the members of the Committee, and (iii) to terminate or amend the Plan.

Number of shares.

The number of shares which may at any time be made subject to options or stock appreciation rights, or which may be issued upon the exercise of options or stock appreciation rights granted under the Plan or made subject to grants of restricted stock thereunder, is currently 4,000,000 shares of the Common Stock (the Stock). All grantees in the aggregate may not currently receive in any fiscal year awards of options and/or stock appreciation rights, in the aggregate, exceeding 4,000,000 underlying shares of Stock. Each individual Grantee may not receive in any fiscal year Awards of options and/or Stock Appreciation Rights exceeding 600,000 underlying shares of Stock. Currently, no more than 600,000 shares of Stock may be granted as Awards of restricted stock, which is proposed to be increased to 1,500,000. To the extent that the aggregate fair market value of stock (determined at the time of grant of the option) for which Incentive Stock Options first become exercisable by a Grantee during a calendar year (under all option plans of the Company) exceeds $100,000, such Options shall be treated as Options that are not Incentive Stock Options.

The shares reserved for issuance pursuant to the Plan may consist either of authorized but previously unissued shares of Stock, or of issued shares of Stock which have been reacquired by the Company, as determined from time to time by the Board. If any option or stock appreciation right granted under the Plan expires, terminates or is canceled for any reason without having been exercised in full, or any restricted stock awarded thereunder is forfeited for any reason, the shares of Stock allocable to the unexercised portion of such option or stock appreciation right or to the forfeited portion of such restricted stock award may again be made subject to an option, stock appreciation right or restricted stock award under the Plan.

Eligibility.

Awards may be granted under the Plan to such paid consultants, directors and employees of the Company or of a subsidiary as designated by the Board or the Committee. However, Incentive Stock Options, as defined below, may be awarded only to regular full-time employees of the Company or a subsidiary (including, but not limited to, employees who serve as officers or directors). As used in the Plan, paid consultant means an independent contractor retained to perform continuing and substantial services for the Company or any of its subsidiaries, and designated as a paid consultant by the Board or the Committee, whose designation shall be conclusive. As of October 22, 2003, there were five officers, six directors (other than the CEO who is an officer and a director) and approximately 2,000 employees eligible to participate in the Plan. To date there have been no options granted from the additional shares resulting from the amendment to the Plan.

Options.

The Plan is intended to authorize the Board or the Committee to grant, in its discretion, options that qualify as incentive stock options pursuant to Section 422 of the Code (Incentive Stock Options), or options that do not so qualify (as Nonstatutory Stock Options). The purchase price of each share of Stock subject to a stock option must be a stated price not less than the fair market value of such share of Stock on the date of grant, determined in accordance with the Plan. However, if an employee, at the time an Incentive Stock Option is granted to him, owns (or is deemed as a result of ownership by certain relatives or related entities to own) stock representing more than 10% of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company or of any of the subsidiaries, then the exercise price of each share of Stock subject to such Incentive Stock Option must be at least 110% of the fair market value of such share of Stock. In no event may a stock option be exercisable after the expiration of 10 years from the date of grant. However, an Incentive Stock Option granted to any employee as to whom the exercise price of each share of Stock subject thereto is required to be 110% of the fair market value of such share of Stock may not be exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date of grant. As of October 28, 2003, the closing price of the Company s common stock was $23.95.

The exercise price may be paid in cash or in shares of any class of issued and outstanding stock of the Company held for more than six months by the option holder, or partly in cash and partly in such shares of stock. If any portion of the exercise price is paid in shares of stock of the Company, such shares shall be valued at their fair market value, as determined in accordance with the Plan, as of the effective date of exercise of the Stock Option. The Board or the Committee may also permit grantees (either on a selective or group basis) to simultaneously exercise options and sell the shares of the Stock thereby acquired, pursuant to a cashless exercise arrangement or program selected by and approved in all respects in advance by the Board or the Committee.

Restricted Stock.

The Board or the Committee may place such restrictions as it deems appropriate on any shares of restricted stock awarded under the Plan. In general, the restricted stock will vest proportionately in equal installments over a period of not less than three years from the date of grant of such award, as the Board or Committee determines, subject to continued service during any such period by the recipient as a director, employee or paid consultant of the Company or any of its subsidiaries. Except as indicated below and provided in the Plan, neither the Board nor the Committee will have the authority to otherwise accelerate the vesting of an award of restricted stock. Unless unvested shares are forfeited in accordance with the terms of such agreement, the recipient thereof will have full voting rights with respect to such shares as well as the right to receive any and all distributions thereon.

Stock Appreciation Rights.

A stock appreciation right is an award granted with respect to a specified number of shares of Stock entitling the grantee to receive an amount equal to the excess of (i) the fair market value of a share of Stock on the date of exercise over (ii) the fair market value of a share of Stock on the date of grant of the stock appreciation right (the Base Price) multiplied by the number of shares of Stock with respect to which the stock appreciation right has been exercised. On and after the date of grant of any stock appreciation right hereunder, neither the Board nor the Committee will have the authority to reduce the Base Price thereof. A stock appreciation right may be granted in addition to any other award under the Plan or in tandem with or independent of any option. Upon exercise of a stock appreciation right, payment may be made in cash, in restricted stock or in shares of unrestricted Stock, or in any combination thereof, as the Board or the Committee, in its sole discretion, determines and provides in the relevant award agreement.

Termination of Employment.

If an employee to whom an award has been granted under the Plan retires from employment with the Company or any of its Subsidiaries as a result of normal retirement (age 65) or terminates employment with the Company after becoming permanently disabled (both as defined in or pursuant to the Plan), any restrictions then applicable to such award will lapse and it will thereafter be exercisable (in the case of options and stock appreciation rights) or transferable (in the case of restricted stock), in whole or in part, by the person to whom granted (or his duly appointed, qualified, and acting personal representative) at any time within the remaining term of such award, unless otherwise determined by the Board or the Committee at the time of grant. If a grantee dies, any Stock Option will be exercisable by such grantee's estate or heir for its remaining term (but not more than two years). If a person to whom restricted stock has been awarded under the Plan dies prior to the lapse of all restrictions applicable to such restricted stock, any Unvested Shares held by such person on the date of his death will be forfeited, unless otherwise determined by the Board or the Committee at the time of grant. Except as otherwise provided in such person's award, or grant, if a person to whom restricted stock has been awarded under the Plan otherwise ceases to be either a director, employee or paid consultant of the Company or a subsidiary, any unvested shares of restricted stock held by such person shall be forfeited as of the last date such person was either a director, employee or paid consultant of the Company or a Subsidiary, and if a person to whom an option or stock appreciation right has been granted under the Plan otherwise ceases to be either a director, employee or paid consultant of the Company or a Subsidiary, such option or stock appreciation right will continue to be exercisable or transferable to the same extent that it was exercisable on the last day on which such person was either a director, employee or paid consultant for a period of 60 days, or for such other period as may be determined by the Board or the Committee at the time of grant, whereupon such option or stock appreciation right will terminate and will not thereafter be exercisable. However, in the event of termination of employment, termination of service as a paid consultant or removal from office as a director for Cause (as defined below), any such option will terminate ten days thereafter or after such other period as may be determined by the Board or the Committee at the time of grant. For purposes of the Plan, Cause means (a) the grantee being convicted of a felony, (b) the grantee willfully committing an act of embezzlement or malfeasance which (i) is intended to materially enrich himself at the expense of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or (ii) is otherwise intended materially to harm the Company, or (c) the grantee being rejected for an applicable license or approval by a gaming regulatory authority having jurisdiction over the Company as a result of an explicit finding of lack of suitability solely as a result of the grantee's commission of a crime or an act of embezzlement or malfeasance.

Adjustments.

In the event of any change in the number of shares of the outstanding Stock of the Company by reason of a stock split, stock dividend, combination or reclassification of shares, recapitalization or similar event, the Board or the Committee will adjust proportionally the number and kind of shares subject to the Plan, and the number, kind and per share stock appreciation right Base Price and exercise price (as the case may be) of shares then subject to unexercised options or stock appreciation rights. In the event of any merger, spin-off, split-off or other similar consolidation, reorganization or change affecting any class of stock of the Company (a Merger Event) subject to awards made under the Plan, or any distribution (other than normal cash dividends) to holders of such stock, fair and equitable provision and adjustment will be made in good faith by the Board or the Committee in respect of all unexercised options or stock appreciation rights to give proper effect to such event and preserve the value, rights and benefits of such options or stock appreciation rights. In the case of any Merger Event pursuant to which the Company is not the surviving corporation and pursuant to which the former holders of the Stock do not hold more than a majority of the voting securities of the resulting entity immediately after each Merger Event, or in connection with any acquisition by any person of more than 50% of the outstanding shares of the Stock, the Board or a Committee may provide that each option or stock appreciation right holder shall receive a cash payment (in exchange for and in cancellation of such option or stock appreciation right) equal to the difference (if positive) between the value of the per share consideration received by the holders of the stock in such Merger Event and the exercise or Base Price of such option or stock appreciation right, multiplied by the number of shares of the Stock underlying such option or stock appreciation right. In addition, in the event of any Merger Event pursuant to which all of the outstanding Stock held by the shareholders of the Company is exchanged for any lawful consideration, all unvested and unexercisable options or stock appreciation rights outstanding on the date on which shareholder approval of such Merger Event is obtained shall become fully vested and exercisable.

Amendment; Termination.

The Board at any time may amend the Plan, subject to any required regulatory approval and subject to the limitation that no amendment will be effective unless approved within 12 months after the date of the adoption of such amendment by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of the Company's Voting Stock if such amendment would, but for such approval, prevent the issuance of Incentive Stock Options under the Plan or cause the Plan to no longer comply with the requirements of Section 162(m) of the Code. The Board at any time may suspend or terminate the Plan. The Plan, unless sooner terminated, will terminate on December 11, 2011, but such termination will not affect any award theretofore granted.

Federal Income Tax Consequences

The following discussion of the Plan's federal income tax consequences is meant to be a summary of applicable federal tax law of the United States as currently in effect. State, local, and foreign tax consequences may differ, and tax laws may be amended or interpreted differently during the term of the Plan or of awards under the Plan. This discussion does not discuss all federal tax provisions that may apply to a recipient's particular tax situation, including, but not limited to federal gift tax, estate tax and alternative minimum tax issues, and such tax laws may not correspond to the federal income tax treatment described herein.

Because the federal income tax rules governing awards and related payments are complex, subject to frequent changes and depend on individual circumstances, an optionee should consult his or her own tax advisor for particular federal, as well as state and local, income and other tax consequences prior to exercising options or other awards or disposing of stock acquired pursuant to awards. In addition, if an optionee is subject to the taxation of a foreign country but is working in the United States or if a recipient otherwise believes he or she may be subject to federal taxation in the United States, such a recipient should consult a tax advisor to determine if the recipient is subject to United States federal taxation.

Nonstatutory Stock Options. A recipient will generally not realize taxable income upon the grant of a nonstatutory option, nor will the Company then be entitled to any deductions. Generally, upon exercise of nonstatutory options the recipient will realize ordinary income, and the Company will be entitled to a deduction, in an amount equal to the difference between the option exercise price and the fair market value of the stock at the date of exercise. The Company may be required to withhold taxes (including but not limited to employment and income taxes) on the ordinary income realized by an optionee upon exercise of nonstatutory options. Provided the shares received upon exercise of the nonstatutory stock option are held as a capital asset, upon the subsequent disposition of the shares, an optionee will recognize capital gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference between the proceeds received upon disposition and the recipient's basis for the shares. The recipient's basis will be equal to the sum of the price paid for the shares and the amount of income realized upon exercise of the nonstatutory stock option. Any capital gain or loss will be characterized as long-term or short-term, depending upon the holding period of the shares.

Incentive Stock Options. Except as discussed below, a recipient generally will not pay tax, and the Company will not receive a deduction, on the grant or the exercise of an incentive stock option, if a recipient exercises the option while in the employ of the Company (or one of the Company's subsidiaries) or within three months following termination of employment (or one year, if the recipient's termination was due to permanent and total disability).

If a recipient sells the shares acquired upon the exercise of an incentive stock option at any time within one year after the date the Company transfers those shares or two years after the date the Company grants the incentive stock option (such a sale being referred to as a Disqualifying Disposition), then:

if the recipient's sales price exceeds the price paid for the shares upon exercise of the incentive stock option, the recipient will recognize a capital gain equal to the excess, if any, of the sales price over the fair market value of the shares on the date of exercise, and the recipient will recognize ordinary income equal to the excess, if any, of the lesser of the sales price or the fair market value of shares on the date of exercise over the price paid for the shares upon exercise of the incentive stock option; or if a recipient's sales price is less than the price paid for the shares upon exercise of the incentive stock option, the recipient will recognize a capital loss equal to the excess of the price paid upon exercise of the incentive stock option over the sales price of the shares.

The ordinary income recognized will generally be subject to employment and income withholding taxes in addition to any other taxes that might apply.

If the recipient sells shares acquired upon exercise of an incentive stock option at any time after the shares have been held for at least one year after the date the Company transfers the shares pursuant to the exercise of the incentive stock option and at least two years after the date the Company grants the incentive stock option, then the recipient will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between the sales price and the price paid upon exercise of the incentive stock option.

The amount by which the fair market value of shares acquired upon exercise of an incentive stock option exceeds the price paid for the shares on the date of exercise will be included as a positive adjustment in the calculation of an optionee's alternative minimum taxable income in the year of exercise. Before exercising an incentive stock option, a recipient should determine whether and to what extent exercise of an incentive stock option will result in alternative minimum tax in the year of exercise. A recipient should also consult a tax advisor about the possibility and desirability of making an election under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code upon the exercise of an incentive stock option.

Withholding Obligations. Generally, the Company will be required to withhold applicable taxes with respect to any ordinary income recognized in connection with any awards made under the Plan. A recipient may be required to pay the withholding taxes to the Company or make other provisions satisfactory to the Company for the payment of the withholding taxes as a condition to the issuing of any common stock or the paying of any benefit under the Plan. Whether or not such withholdings are required, the Company will make such information reports to the Internal Revenue Service as may be required with respect to any income attributable to transactions involving awards under the Plan.

Special Rules for Awards Held by Insiders. If a recipient is an insider (a director or officer of the Company, or other individual subject to Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934), the recipient may be required to defer the determination of the amount of income and the timing of income recognition in connection with an award under the Plan, and the beginning of the holding period for any shares received, until any period during which the recipient would be restricted from disposing of any shares received expires. A recipient will not be required to defer these determinations if he or she makes a valid Section 83(b) election. An 83(b) Election must be made within 30 days after exercise to recognize ordinary income based on the value of the shares on the date of exercise. In addition, special rules apply to an insider who exercises a stock option having an exercise price greater than the fair market value of the underlying common stock on the date of exercise. A recipient who is an insider should consult a tax advisor to determine the tax consequences of exercising options granted under the Plan and the desirability of making an election under Section 83(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Other Tax Issues. A recipient generally may not deduct investment-related interest to the extent that this interest exceeds his or her net investment income for any taxable year. Investment interest generally includes interest paid on indebtedness incurred to purchase shares of common stock. A recipient may deduct any interest disallowed under this rule in later years, subject to the same limitation.

Special rules will apply in cases where an optionee pays the exercise or purchase price of the option or applicable withholding tax obligations under the Plan by delivering previously owned shares of our common shares or by reducing the amount of shares otherwise issuable pursuant to the Plan. The surrender or reduction of such shares of our common shares will in specific circumstances result in the recognition of income with respect to such shares on a carryover basis in the shares acquired and may constitute a Disqualifying Disposition with respect to shares acquired upon exercise of an incentive stock option.

Tax Effects for the Company. The Company generally will be entitled to a deduction for federal income tax purposes equal to the amount of any ordinary income an optionee recognizes.

Table of ContentsDirectors Compensation

Arrangements with Directors: Directors of the Company who are also employees are generally not separately compensated for their services as directors. During 2003, certain changes were made to the compensation arrangements with other directors of the Company, which are now the following: (i) Chairman of the Board receives $135,000 per year for services as Chairman of the Board and all other outside directors receive $50,000 per year. In addition, each outside director receives $5,000 per year for each committee they serve on, and the chairman of each committee receives an additional $5,000 per year. In addition, with the exception of the CEO who is a director, each new director receives an option grant of 50,000 shares upon appointment to the Board of Directors and each director receives an option grant of 30,000 shares on the date of each Annual Meeting. All of these options are granted with an exercise price equal to fair market value on the grant date, vest immediately, and have ten-year terms. Additionally, all options granted to Directors of the Company remain outstanding for the full ten-year term, whether or not the director continues to be a director of the Company (unless the director resigns or is removed as a director before the expiration of the director's term, in which event the options expire 60 days after resignation or removal). Directors are also reimbursed for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred on Company business. The Company may grant directors (both employee and non-employee) additional cash compensation and options as time commitments, responsibilities and other circumstances may warrant.

Other Arrangements: Effective July 1, 1997, the Company entered into employment agreements (the Agreements) with Mr. DiCesare and Mr. Kirschbaum (each an Employee and collectively the Employees) pursuant to which each Employee is a New York-based employee and works on major strategic transactions involving the Company or its affiliates, including mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures, the negotiation of strategic alliances or relationships, and financings and refinancings. The Employees are not expected to be involved in the day-to-day operations of the Company, are not expected to devote full-time to the business of the Company and may engage in outside activities, although they may not directly compete with the Company. Each Agreement expires on June 30, 2004. Under the Agreements, each Employee receives a base salary currently of $176,550, subject to annual inflation increases, and annual performance bonuses (each a Bonus) based upon annual performance goals determined by the Board of Directors and the Employee (which goals will generally relate without limitation to transactions of the type mentioned above involving the Company and/or one or more of its affiliates) and a target Bonus amount (and/or an appropriate minimum amount). If a goal is achieved, the Bonuses will be payable regardless of the level of the Employee's involvement in the transaction. On termination of any Employee's Agreement for any reason (including for cause), the Company may be required to pay Bonuses to such Employee for projects begun but not completed at the termination date assuming the bonusing event is completed no later than twenty-one months after the termination date. In addition, if the Company terminates an Employee without cause, or an Employee leaves the Company's employ for good reason (as these terms are defined in the Agreements), the Employee will be entitled to receive for each remaining year of the term of the Agreements an amount equal to the highest aggregate Bonuses paid in any previous year as well as the base salary and other compensation provided for by the Agreements.

The performance goals for each Employee for fiscal year 2003 were: (i) the closing of at least one significant merger with a value of at least $60 million and (ii) the closing of a significant financing with a value of at least $50 million. On the achievement of the performance goal set forth in clause (i), each Employee was to receive a minimum Bonus of $200,000. Upon the achievement of the performance goal set forth in clause (ii), each Employee was to receive a minimum Bonus of $125,000. The Employees received no bonuses for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003. In addition to the Bonuses, the Agreements provide that the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, may grant further discretionary bonuses to the Employees. No discretionary bonuses were paid during fiscal year 2003. In May 2003, the Company agreed to utilize the services of the Employees in connection with its refinancing transaction which met the definition of significant financing. The refinancing transaction was completed in the first quarter of fiscal year 2004, and each Employee was paid $1,187,500.

Pursuant to the Agreements, an Employee may elect to restructure his relationship with the Company into that of a financial consultant or independent advisor, with compensation arrangements reflecting the nature of such relationship and the services to be provided in amounts reasonably consistent with the compensation and Bonuses payable over the term of the Agreements as contemplated therein, as determined reasonably and in good faith by the Board of Directors, but calculated and payable in a manner customary for financial consultant or independent advisor arrangements. If the Employee elects to restructure his relationship with the Company, the Company and the Employee must negotiate in good faith to establish a restructured agreement with respect to the services to be provided under the Agreements.

In addition, effective July 1, 1997, the Company has agreed to pay KIC over the term of the Agreements an annual amount, currently $990,865, subject to annual inflation increases, plus the cost of reasonable employee benefits to its support staff and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by KIC and its officers and employees to the extent related directly to the Company's business or potential business (the KIC Agreement). The KIC Agreement expires on June 30, 2004. The Company has the right to terminate the KIC Agreement upon twelve months notice if Mr. Kirschbaum's employment under his Agreement is terminated for any reason other than by the Company without cause or by the Employee for good reason (as such terms are defined in the Agreements).

Employment and Severance Arrangements

The Company is party to an employment agreement with Mr. Miodunski which generally provides for a base salary of $450,000 per year through and including December 31, 2004, participation in the Company's compensation programs for corporate officers, and participation in the Company's cash bonus program at amounts determined by the Board of Directors, and contains certain non-compete provisions. This agreement also calls for severance benefits of one year's base salary if Mr. Miodunski is terminated prior to December 2004 without cause (as defined in Mr. Miodunski's employment agreement).

The Company is party to an employment agreement with Mr. Lerner which generally provides for a base salary (currently $230,000 per year), participation in the Company's compensation programs for corporate officers, participation in the Company's cash bonus program at amounts determined by the Board of Directors, and severance benefits of six months' base salary if Mr. Lerner is terminated without cause.

Board of Directors Report on Executive Compensation

The Compensation Committee currently consists of Messrs. André, Haddrill, Kirschbaum, Robbins, and Verner. A formal charter for the Compensation Committee was adopted by the Board of Directors in 1998. This charter provides for the following duties to be carried out by this Committee:

Review and approve executive compensation philosophy.

Approve all executive compensation plans and structures.

Approve annual and long term incentive performance metrics; determine and approve payouts.

Approve compensation for the Company's management executive committee (consisting of certain members of senior management) as well as the Senior Vice Presidents of Bally Gaming and Systems.

Approve plan payouts to the members of the management executive committee that are outside of approved parameters.

Review key appointments and promotions.

Recommend approval for all management incentive plans, including stock options, to the Board of Directors, and approve new change-in-control or special retention plans.

Approve bonus criteria, incentives, including stock options, and payouts for employee-directors.

The Company's compensation formulas for certain executives during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003, were largely determined based on pre-existing contractual arrangements in place from the previous fiscal periods. The Compensation Committee believes as a general matter, but particularly with respect to senior executive officers, that the most effective method of compensation, and the method that most closely aligns management's interest with those of the Company's stockholders, is long-term compensation tied to the creation of stockholder value. The Compensation Committee believes that this method of compensation should constitute a significant portion of an executive's compensation. Thus, it has been the Company's policy where feasible and consistent with competitive market conditions to attempt to restrain base cash compensation while providing incentives for management to increase stockholder value. The Company hopes to achieve this goal through the use of (i) long-term stock options (that will not result in value to the holder unless the price of the Company's Common Stock has appreciated) and (ii) cash bonuses tied to performance criteria (such as achievement of specific strategic, operational, or financial tasks or targets, such as cash flow return on assets and operating income) which the Board of Directors believes will result in increases in stockholder value. Stock option grants to management have exercise prices equal to the share price at the time of grant and have a term of ten years. The Board of Directors believes the compensation philosophy outlined above has the greatest probability of achieving significant returns to stockholders.

The Board of Directors' compensation determinations have been and continue to be affected by various competitive factors including the requirements to attract top-flight employees to the Company. The Company believes that it will continue to be constrained by these competitive factors as there continues to be demand from competing businesses to attract management talent of the type the Company desires to recruit.

Mr. Miodunski's salary as CEO for fiscal year 2003 was $450,000, and he was paid a bonus of $522,000. The bonus paid Mr. Miodunski included $495,000 earned upon the achievement of certain financial objectives set by the Compensation Committee, and a subjective bonus awarded by the Compensation Committee of $27,000. Additionally, during fiscal year 2003 Mr. Miodunski was awarded a stock option grant covering 100,000 shares, which vests in one-third increments beginning one year from the date of grant.

Report of the Audit Committee

The Audit Committee is comprised of four members of the Board of Directors and operates under a written charter previously adopted by the Board. All of the members of the Audit Committee are independent as defined under Rule 4200 (a)(15) of the National Association of Securities Dealers listing standards. The Audit Committee reviews the Company's financial reporting process on behalf of the Board. Management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the reporting process. The Company's independent accountants are responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of the Company's audited financial statements to generally accepted accounting principles. The Audit Committee hereby reports as follows:

1. The Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements with the Company's management.
2. The Audit Committee has discussed with Deloitte & Touche LLP, the Company's independent auditors, among other things, the matters required to be discussed by SAS 61 (Communication with Public Audit Committees).
3. The Audit Committee has received the written disclosures and the representations from Deloitte & Touche LLP required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), and has discussed with Deloitte & Touche LLP their independence.
4. Based on the review and discussion of the above information, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors of the Company, and the Board has approved, that the audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003, for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
