Cloud-Based Building Energy Management Company, Scientific Conservation, Inc., Signs Definitive Agreement to Acquire Servidyne, Inc. for a Price of $3.50 Per Share in an All-Cash Transaction

Extending Advanced Energy Management Solutions to More Than 400M Square Feet

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27, 2011 /PRNewswire/ Scientific Conservation, Inc. (SCI), a leading provider of energy efficiency solutions via Predictive Diagnostics and Analytics for the $5 billion commercial building market, today announced it has signed a definitive agreement to acquire Servidyne, Inc. (NASDAQ:SERV), an energy management and demand response company, for a price of $3.50 per share in an all-cash transaction.

The transaction, approved by the Boards of Directors of both companies, is expected to close on or before Q4 2011, pending Servidyne shareholder and customary regulatory approvals. Upon closing of the transaction, the combined company will take on the name SCIenergy Inc. (SCIenergy).

SCIenergy will combine Servidyne s extensive experience in Energy Efficiency, Demand Response and Facilities Maintenance with SCI s core competency in cloud-based energy management. Servidyne also has deep domain knowledge in Retro Commissioning (RCx), LEED for Existing Buildings (LEED-EBOM), and is the nine-time recipient of EPA s Energy Star Partner of the Year Award. The new company will enhance SCI s recent partnership with the United States Green Building Council (USGBC), accelerating its LEED online application development and deployment. The transaction will also help realize SCI s goal of one billion square feet of energy management for commercial real estate.

We re very impressed with the Servidyne team and reputation, and are excited about their customer base and long term relationships with commercial building owners and operators. The new company will have solid customer contracts and partnerships with many Fortune 50 companies, and is well positioned to be a recognized leader in next generation cloud-based energy management, said Russ McMeekin, CEO, SCI.

We are delighted to become part of the SCI family. The newly formed company will have tremendous capabilities in serving global customers using a scalable platform, said Todd Jarvis, President, Servidyne.
