Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Accelerated Share Repurchase

In connection with the increased share repurchase authorization discussed in Item 8.01 below, C.H. Robinson Worldwide, Inc. (the Company) entered into two letter agreements (the Agreements) on August 24, 2013, one with each of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC (Morgan Stanley) and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, as agent for JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association (J.P. Morgan, and together with Morgan Stanley, the Dealers), to effect an accelerated share repurchase of the Company s common stock. The material provisions of the Agreements are identical.

Under the Agreements, the Company will pay an aggregate purchase price of $500 million to the Dealers on August 27, 2013 and receive approximately 6.1 million shares from the Dealers. The final number of shares that the Company will repurchase under the Agreements at maturity of the Agreements will be determined based on a discount to the arithmetic mean of the volume-weighted average prices of the Company's common stock over the course of a calculation period. The calculation period for both Agreements is scheduled to end in April 2014, but each Dealer can accelerate the termination of the calculation period applicable to its respective Agreement. Under the terms of each Agreement, if the final number of shares to be repurchased from the relevant Dealer exceeds the number of shares previously delivered by that Dealer, the Company will receive from that Dealer a number of additional shares equal to such excess following the conclusion of the calculation period. Under the terms of each Agreement, if the final number of shares to be repurchased by the relevant Dealer is less than the number of shares previously delivered by that Dealer, the Company will deliver shares to that Dealer equal to such excess following the conclusion of the calculation period, or the Company may elect to settle any such deficit in cash.

The Agreements contain certain terms customary for agreements of this type, including provisions for adjustments upon the occurrence of certain corporate transactions or market events and the circumstances under which the Agreements may be extended, terminated or unwound early or adjusted in other respects. The description of the Agreements herein is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Agreements, which are filed as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2 hereto and are incorporated herein by reference.

Morgan Stanley and J.P. Morgan, along with their respective affiliates, have performed, and may in the future perform, various commercial banking and other financial advisory services for the Company and its subsidiaries for which they have received, and will receive, customary fees and expenses.

Note Purchase Agreement

On August 23, 2013, the Company entered into a Note Purchase Agreement with certain institutional investors (the Purchasers) named therein (the Note Purchase Agreement).

Pursuant to the Note Purchase Agreement, the Company has agreed to issue and sell, and the Purchasers have agreed to purchase, on or around August 27, 2013 and no later than August 31, 2013 and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Note Purchase Agreement, (i) $175,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the Company s 3.97% Senior Notes, Series A, due August 27, 2023 (the Series A Notes), (ii) $150,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the Company s 4.26% Senior Notes, Series B, due August 27, 2028 (the Series B Notes) and (iii) $175,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the Company s 4.60% Senior Notes, Series C, due August 27, 2033 (the Series C Notes and, together with the Series A Notes and the Series B Notes, the Notes). The Company will apply the proceeds of the sale of the Notes for any of (i) working capital, (ii) general corporate purposes and (iii) share repurchases.

The Note Purchase Agreement contains customary provisions for transactions of this type, including representations and warranties regarding the Company and its subsidiaries and various covenants, including covenants that require the Company to maintain specified financial ratios. The Note Purchase Agreement provides for customary events of default, generally with corresponding grace periods, including, without limitation, payment defaults with respect to the Notes, covenant defaults, cross-defaults to other agreements evidencing indebtedness of the Company or its subsidiaries, certain judgments against the Company or its subsidiaries and events of bankruptcy involving the Company or its material subsidiaries. The occurrence of an event of default would permit certain Purchasers to declare certain Notes then outstanding to be immediately due and payable.

Under the terms of the Note Purchase Agreement, the Notes are redeemable, in whole or in part, at 100% of the principal amount being redeemed together with a make-whole amount (as defined in the Note Purchase Agreement) with respect to each Note. The obligations of the Company under the Note Purchase Agreement and the Notes are guaranteed by C. H. Robinson Company, a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, and by C. H. Robinson Company, Inc., a Minnesota corporation and an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

The Notes will be issued by the Company to such initial purchasers in a private placement in reliance on Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act). The Notes will not be or have not been registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or an applicable exemption from registration requirements. The descriptions of the Notes and the Note Purchase Agreement herein are qualified in its entirety by reference to the Note Purchase Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.3 hereto and is incorporated by reference.

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant.

The discussion regarding the Note Purchase Agreement under Item 1.01 is incorporated herein by reference.
