Notes to the Financial Statements

NOTE 1 - CONDENSED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared by the Company without audit. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (which include only normal recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations and cash flows at February 29, 2008 and for all periods presented have been made.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been condensed or omitted. It is suggested that these condensed financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's November 30, 2007 audited financial statements. The results of operations for the period ended February 29, 2008 are not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full years.

NOTE 2 - GOING CONCERN

The Company's financial statements are prepared using generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has had no revenues and has generated losses from operations.

In order to continue as a going concern and achieve a profitable level of operations, the Company will need, among other things, additional capital resources and to develop a consistent source of revenues. Management's plans include of investing in and developing all types of businesses related to the equine industry.

The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to successfully accomplish the plan described in the preceding paragraph and eventually attain profitable operations. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

Item 2. Plan of Operation

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements, other than purely historical information, including estimates, projections, statements relating to our business plans, objectives, and expected operating results, and the assumptions upon which those statements are based, are “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These forward-looking statements generally are identified by the words “believes,” “project,” “expects,” “anticipates,” “estimates,” “intends,” “strategy,” “plan,” “may,” “will,” “would,” “will be,” “will continue,” “will likely result,” and similar expressions. Such forward-looking statements to be covered by the safe-harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, and are including this statement for purposes of complying with those safe-harbor provisions. Forward-looking statements are based on current expectations and assumptions that are subject to risks and uncertainties which may cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements. Our ability to predict results or the actual effect of future plans or strategies is inherently uncertain. Factors which could have a material adverse affect on our operations and future prospects on a consolidated basis include, but are not limited to: changes in economic conditions, legislative/regulatory changes, availability of capital, interest rates, competition, and generally accepted accounting principles. These risks and uncertainties should also be considered in evaluating forward-looking statements and undue reliance should not be placed on such statements. We undertake no obligation to update or revise publicly any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. Further information concerning our business, including additional factors that could materially affect our financial results, is included herein and in our other filings with the SEC.

Abandonment of Vulture Mineral Claims

We were incorporated on July 19, 2006 under the laws of the State of Nevada. We acquired an option to purchase an interest in mineral claims referred to as the Vulture mineral claims. Our plan of operations was to carry out exploration work on these claims in order to ascertain whether they possess commercially exploitable quantities of copper, lead, zinc, gold, and other metallic minerals.

During our third quarter of 2007, we commenced exploration activities on the Vulture mineral claims. Specifically, we conducted a soil geochemistry program under the guidance of our geological consultant, Mr. Marvin A. Mitchell. The results of this program were discouraging. In his report, Mr. Mitchell reports that the program failed to detect significant anomalous values of exploitable minerals. As such, no additional exploration was recommended at this time.

Based on the recommendations of our consulting geologist, we have decided to abandon our exploration program on the Vulture mineral claims. As such, we will lose all interest in the option that we acquired on the property.

Plan of Operation in the Next 12 Months

During the next twelve months, we intend to conduct a review of our current operating structure and to seek out and evaluate alternative business opportunities. We have not yet identified any suitable business opportunities and there is no assurance that we will be able to do so in the future. Even if we are able to identify suitable business opportunities, there are no assurances that we will be able to acquire an interest in those opportunities or that we will have the resources to pursue such opportunities. As such, an investment in our shares at this time would be highly speculative.

Because we have not identified an alternate business opportunity, we are unable to provide an estimate of our exact financial needs for the next twelve months. We have limited working capital of $79 as of February 29, 2008. We have, therefore, ceased all business operations in an effort to minimize or eliminate all expenses until such time as we are able to identify and acquire an alternate business opportunity. We will require substantial additional financing in the near future in order to meet our current obligations and to renew our operations or begin the operations or any new business we may be able to acquire. In addition, in the event that we are successful in identifying suitable alternative business opportunities, of which there is no assurance, we anticipate that we will need to obtain additional financing in order to pursue those opportunities.

Because we do not currently have a specific business plan and have not identified any suitable alternative business opportunities, our ability to obtain additional financing is substantially limited. If sufficient financing is not available or obtainable, we may not be able to continue as a going concern and investors may lose a substantial portion or all of their investment. We currently do not have any financing arrangements in place and there are no assurances that we will be able to acquire financing on acceptable terms or at all. If we are able to identify a suitable alternative business opportunity, we will seek appropriate financing arrangements at that time.

Results of Operations for the three months ended February 29, 2008 and February 28, 2007 and period from inception on July 20, 2006 to February 29, 2008

We did not earn any revenues from inception through the period ending February 29, 2008. We do not anticipate earning revenues until such time that we are able to secure a successful business opportunity.

We incurred $2,928 in operating expenses for the three months ended February 29, 2008, compared with $12,550 for the three months ended February 28, 2007, and $42,748 from our inception on July 20, 2006 to February 29, 2008. The operating expenses for the three months ended February 29, 2008 included solely professional fees in the amount of $2,928. The operating expenses for the three months ended February 28, 2007 included professional fees in the amount of $12,500 and general and administrative expenses of $50. The operating expenses for the period from our inception on July 20, 2006 to February 29, 2008 included professional fees in the amount of $23,553, and general and administrative expenses in the amount of $19,195. The professional fees consisted of legal fees and accounting fees.

Table of Contents

We incurred a net loss of $2,928 for the three months ended February 29, 2008. We incurred a net loss of 12,550 for the three months ended February 28, 2007. We incurred a net loss of $42,748 from our inception on July 20, 2006 through the period ending February 29, 2008. Our losses for all periods are attributable to operating expenses.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We had cash of $580 as our only current asset as of February 29, 2008. We had current liabilities of $3,328 as of February 29, 2008. We therefore had a working capital deficit of $2,748 as of February 29, 2008.

We have not attained profitable operations and are dependent upon obtaining financing to pursue any business opportunity. Our auditors stated in their report that they have substantial doubt we will be able to continue as a going concern.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of February 29, 2008, there were no off balance sheet arrangements.

Going Concern

Our financial statements are prepared using generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. We have not yet established an ongoing source of revenues sufficient to cover our operating costs and allow us to continue as a going concern. The ability of us to continue as a going concern is dependent on us obtaining adequate capital to fund operating losses until we become profitable. If we are unable to obtain adequate capital, we could be forced to cease operations.

In order to continue as a going concern, we will need, among other things, additional capital resources. Management's plans to obtain such resources for us include (1) obtaining capital from management and significant shareholders sufficient to meet its minimal operating expenses, and (2) seeking out and completing a merger with an existing operating company. However, management cannot provide any assurances that we will be successful in accomplishing any of our plans.

Our ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon our ability to successfully accomplish the plans described in the preceding paragraph and eventually secure other sources of financing and attain profitable operations. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if we are unable to continue as a going concern.

Table of Contents

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

We carried out an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) as of February 29, 2008. This evaluation was carried out under the supervision and with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Donald L. Sampson. Based upon that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of February 29, 2008, our disclosure controls and procedures are effective. There have been no changes in our internal controls over financial reporting during the quarter ended February 29, 2008.

Disclosure controls and procedures are controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act are recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports filed under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Limitations on the Effectiveness of Internal Controls

Our management does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal control over financial reporting will necessarily prevent all fraud and material error. Our disclosure controls and procedures are designed to provide reasonable assurance of achieving our objectives and our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective at that reasonable assurance level. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management override of the internal control. The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Over time, control may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.
