Item 8.01 Other Events.

On February 4, 2011, Tamir Biotechnology, Inc. (the "Company") decided to suspend its Phase II trial of Ranpirnase (Onconase®) in combination with carboplatin regimens in patients suffering from non-small cell lung cancer who have reached maximum progression after receiving two cycles of Alimta plus Carboplatin. Given the Company's limited resources and based upon the previously reported positive in vitro results, the Company will focus on the completion of in vivo studies for Dengue Fever, Yellow Fever, Cytomegalovirus (CMV), and Human Papillomavirus (HPV). The Company continues to seek financing that will be required to allow it to continue pursuing the development of Ranpirnase.
