Wendy s/Triarc MERGER
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
6/03/08

NOTE: Updated questions and answers are noted in blue

The answers to many of these questions are discussed in more detail in the April 24, 2008 press release announcing the merger agreement between Triarc and Wendy s (available on WeNet), the preliminary proxy statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on June 2, 2008 as well as other documents that have been and will be filed with the SEC. (The following discussion is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by the Merger Agreement.)

Board of Directors Decision

1. Why did the Board select Triarc?

After a 12-month comprehensive review of strategic alternatives for Wendy s, a special committee of the board recommended, and the full board concluded, that this transaction was in the best interests of all Wendy s shareholders and other stakeholders.

2. Who is Triarc? How can we learn more about the firm?

Triarc Companies, Inc. is a holding company and, through its subsidiaries, the franchisor of the Arby ® restaurant system. There are about 3,700 Arby s restaurants primarily in the U.S., including 1,100 company owned stores. According to Nation s Restaurant News, Arby s is the 12th largest QSR chain overall. For more information, please visit Triarc s website at <http://www.triarc.com>.

3. Were there other interested bidders?

Details on the special committee process, including alternatives and other proposals considered by the Special Committee, are set forth in the preliminary proxy statement that was filed with the SEC on June 2, 2008.

4. Is the transaction conditional?

Wendy s and Triarc have executed a binding definitive agreement. The transaction is subject to the approval of Triarc and Wendy s shareholders and other customary closing conditions. The transaction is expected to close in the second half of 2008.

5. Was there a premium placed on this transaction, and if so, how much?

The deal was valued by Wendy's Board at $30.09 per share (4.25 x Triarc's 30-day trading average of $7.08), and was a 26.7% premium over Wendy's $25.32 closing price on April 23, 2008.

6. Why did Wendy's Board decide to sell the Company? Why couldn't we remain an independent company?

The Board has a responsibility to make decisions that are in the best interests of the Company and its shareholders in addition to other stakeholders. As stated in the press release announcing the transaction and the preliminary proxy statement, the merger with Triarc represents a superior value to what the Board anticipates our company would have generated as an independent company.

Management Changes

7. Is Kerrii Anderson still President and CEO?

Kerrii is committed to remain in place as CEO and President until the merger is completed.

8. What about the rest of Wendy's senior executive team?

Wendy's senior executive team will remain in place through the merger. We expect that decisions regarding the composition of the Wendy's team will be made at the appropriate time. They will also work with Roland Smith and his team during the transition to develop plans and strategies following the merger.

9. What will Kerrii and the management team do during this interim period before the transaction is closed?

They will continue implementing the Company's strategic business plan, focused on growing sales and profits in every Wendy's restaurant.

10. What are the terms of Kerrii's severance package?

Information regarding Kerrii's severance agreement is available in the preliminary proxy statement that is filed with the SEC.

11. Do other executive officers have employment agreements?

Certain executive officers do. They were entered into prior to 2008, and they include provisions upon a change of control in the Company. These arrangements are described in the preliminary proxy statement.

12. What are you doing to keep key employees during the transition?

On May 16, 2008, Kerrii and Karen Ickes sent a memo to all Company employees describing the Stay Program, enhancing Wendy's existing severance policy for employees who stay with the Company during the integration process. The new policy will remain in effect through 2009. Details are posted on WeNet.

13. Why is Roland Smith the right person to lead Wendy's?

He is an experienced business leader who has led the rejuvenation of several companies, including Arby's Restaurant Group, where he has served as CEO since April 2006. He also successfully led the operational turnarounds and financial restructurings at both American Golf Corporation and AMF Bowling Worldwide. A graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, Mr. Smith also has held management positions at KFC International, Schering-Plough, Pepsi Cola International and Proctor & Gamble. Roland has stated that he and his wife plan to acquire a home in the Columbus area.

14. What are Roland Smith's priorities for Wendy's?

We anticipate Roland will lay out his plans at the appropriate time. He held a conference call with the investment community on Apr. 30, 2008. The webcast is posted at www.Triarc.com under the investor relations section.

15. Has Roland Smith identified in what areas Wendy's needs improvement?

Roland has outlined a process that begins with listening to employees and franchisees to discover best practices and opportunities for improvement. He has already spent some time with several franchisee leaders as well as the Company leadership team.

On a conference call with analysts on April 30, 2008, Roland identified three priorities:

1. Re-energize the Wendy's brand
2. Improve store operations and margins at Wendy's company-owned stores
3. Achieve corporate structure efficiencies and reduce expenses

16. What does Triarc see as future growth opportunities?

Roland has stated the merger will create opportunities greater than either brand can achieve alone. The goal is to create two world class autonomous and independent brand teams and a consolidated Support Center to provide shared services to those teams.

One of the priorities of the integration process is to identify strategic growth opportunities, including but not limited to three areas that Roland mentioned on the April 30th call:

1. Daypart expansion at both brands, including breakfast, snacks and late night
2. Domestic new unit development, particularly at Arby's
3. International expansion for both brands

17. Is Roland Smith available for meetings with Wendy's employees and franchisees to discuss his vision and priorities?

Roland has met with the leaders of WNAP, FAC and WCAP, and met with corporate employees on May 1, 2008. He also sent a letter to the system on May 9th. He intends to meet with the three franchisee committees in Dublin on June 4th.

18. Will Nelson Peltz be the chairman of Triarc after the merger?

Jim Pickett will continue to be Wendy's chairman until the closing of the transaction. Wendy's board continues to have the fiduciary responsibility to oversee the Company. As for the next chairman of Triarc, a decision will be made by their Board of Directors.

19. Will Wendy's be represented on Triarc's Board of Directors?

The agreement states that after the merger two members of the Triarc Board will be designated by Wendy's.

20. What happens to Wendy's Board of Directors?

Upon completion of the merger, the new board will lead the organization.

Terms of the Transaction/Special Meeting

21. Can you explain in simple terms what Wendy's shareholders will receive?

The merger is an all-stock transaction in which Wendy's shareholders will receive a fixed ratio of 4.25 shares of Triarc shares for each share of Wendy's common stock they own.

For example, if you own 100 shares of Wendy's stock when the merger is completed and Triarc stock is valued at $8 at the time, the value would be: 100 Wendy's shares x 4.25 = 425 Triarc shares x $8 = $3,400. Of course, the value will vary, up and down, as Triarc's stock price varies.

22. What type of shares will Wendy shareholders receive?

In the merger, Wendy's shareholders will receive 4.25 shares of Triarc's Class A Common Stock for each Wendy's share they own. In addition, under the terms of the agreement, Triarc stockholders will be asked to approve an amendment to Triarc's charter that will result in a post-merger company with a single class of common stock, which will eliminate the existing dual-class structure. The future combined company will have one class of stock and is expected to trade under the NYSE symbol WEN.

23. When will the transaction be completed?

We expect the merger to be consummated after shareholders of both public companies (Wendy's and Triarc) cast their vote at their respective meeting, and after all other conditions to the closing are met, which is expected to occur in the second half of 2008. This timeframe allows for completion of a proxy statement by Wendy's and Triarc, review by and filing with the SEC, mailing to shareholders, review time for shareholders and then the eventual shareholders' meetings and votes.

24. What other approvals are needed in addition to shareholder approval?

The transaction requires the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the provisions of the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act (which occurred on May 28, 2008), and other customary closing conditions.

25. When and where will the special meeting of shareholders to approve the transaction take place?

The meeting will be held at a time and location to be determined. This information will be included in the proxy statement distributed to Wendy's and Triarc shareholders in connection with the merger.

26. What is the level of shareholder approval required?

Majority votes of shareholders of both companies as of the record date are required to approve the merger and related matters.

Organizational/Employee Specific Questions

27. Will Wendy's be incorporated into the name of the new company?

The proposed name of the combined Company is Wendy's/Arby's Group, Inc.

28. Will Wendy's continue to pay quarterly dividends?

Wendy's plans to continue to pay its customary quarterly dividend until the completion of the merger. Future dividend policy for the combined company will be decided by the new Board of Directors.

29. What other corporate organizational changes can we expect to see?

That will be up to Roland Smith and the board of the merged companies. In the meantime, our executive leadership team will be working with Roland to facilitate a smooth transition.

30. Are there going to be any layoffs as a result of this announcement?

Triarc has stated that the Wendy's and Arby's Brands will operate autonomously, with headquarters in Dublin and Atlanta, respectively. There will be a consolidated support center based in Atlanta that will oversee all public company responsibilities as well as other central service functions. How that support center will be staffed and what functions will be included have not been determined as yet.

While no decisions have been made, as is typical in mergers, there will be an elimination of duplicate corporate functions and a streamlining of support services.

31. Will there be a hiring freeze?

No. Approved and open positions can be filled pending normal approvals by supervisors and senior management.

32. What corporate functions will move to Atlanta?

As Roland indicated in the meeting with corporate employees, he will be working with the senior leaders of both companies to create two autonomous brands supported by a Support Center in Atlanta. While it's too early to list specific job functions moving to Atlanta, the goal is to create a lean, efficient and competitive company of top performers. An objective evaluation of performance, integrity and fairness will be the guiding principles in reaching these decisions.

33. Is it true that Triarc does not own the building or land for their office in Atlanta? If it is true, why would the consolidated Support Center be located in Atlanta instead of in Dublin since Wendy's owns the Corporate building and land?

The consolidated Support Center will be located in Atlanta because that is where Triarc is headquartered. Triarc has a long-term lease with additional space available for expansion.

34. In Roland's remarks to Wendy's corporate employees, he said Wendy's headquarters would remain in Dublin; while in his letter to the Wendy's system, he said the HQ would remain in the Columbus, Ohio area? Which is true?

Roland's letter reflects the exact wording of the Merger Agreement. As Roland stated in the meeting with corporate employees, there is no plan to move our headquarters from its current location in Dublin.

35. At any time during this transaction, would Wendy's employees be given the opportunity to relocate to Atlanta?

Yes, as Roland indicated at the corporate employees meeting, he will work with the Wendy's leadership team to develop an organization of top performers. Included in that plan will be opportunities for people to fill positions in Atlanta based on their performance and their willingness to move.

36. How do we handle requests from Triarc or Arby's for information or materials?

A process for handling requests from Triarc or Arby's will be developed and shared with you soon. Wendy's central point of contact is John Barker, SVP of Corporate Affairs. If you are asked to provide any information to Triarc or Arby's employees, you should contact John.

37. What happens to various Wendy's employees benefit plans?

The merger agreement provides that from the closing of the merger until the end of 2008 Triarc will maintain existing employee benefits as they were immediately prior to the closing, excluding equity plan benefits (which, as indicated below, have already been approved for 2008) and extended health care coverage other than pursuant to COBRA. This would include Wendy's retirement plans. Wendy's will continue with termination of the U.S. Pension Plan as we had intended.

For 2009, the merger agreement provides that Triarc will provide benefits that, in the aggregate, are not less favorable than the employee benefits (excluding extended health care coverage other than pursuant to COBRA) provided to Wendy's employees immediately prior to the closing. We do not presently know the details of what Triarc plans to do with benefits in 2009.

Each Wendy's employee shall be credited with his or her years of service with Wendy's under the corresponding employee benefit plans of Triarc. In addition, each Wendy's employee shall be immediately eligible to participate, without any waiting time, in any and all new plans to the extent coverage is comparable to the previous Wendy's benefit plans, including medical, dental, pharmaceutical and/or vision benefits. As part of the agreement, with respect to medical, dental, pharmaceutical and/or vision benefits, Triarc will waive all pre-existing condition exclusions and actively-at-work requirements for each former Wendy's employee and his or her covered dependents, unless such conditions would not have been waived under the comparable old plans of Wendy's. There are also provisions that cover the handling of deductible, coinsurance and maximum out-of-pocket requirements during the period of transition from the old Wendy's plans to new Triarc plans.

38. What about stock options?

Once the merger is completed, all Wendy's stock options awarded to employees in 2007 or earlier will become fully vested. They will be converted to stock options for Triarc, using the same 4.25 multiplier. The expiration date will remain the same (EX. 100 Wendy's stock options @ $20/ share expiring 2010 will automatically convert to 425 Triarc stock options expiring 2010). The exercise price for the new Triarc options will be the aggregate exercise price of the Wendy's stock option divided by the number of new Triarc options (in this example, $2000 ($20 x 100) divided by 425 = $4.70/ share).

39. What about Restricted Stock Units?

Once the merger is completed, all Wendy's Restricted Stock Units awarded to employees in 2007 or earlier will become fully vested. They will be converted into restricted units of Triarc Class A common Stock, using the same 4.25 multiplier. The Wendy's default method of selling a portion of the restricted stock units to cover applicable taxes shall remain in effect.

40. What about Performance Units?

All performance units become vested as if all performance objectives had been satisfied at the highest level by the Company and the grantee, and will be settled in cash within 30 days after the closing date.

41. Will the combined company still offer a Dividend Reinvestment Plan?

As Roland indicated in his message to the Wendy's family, Triarc intends to look at the benefits of Triarc and Wendy's, and let the best idea win. But, at this point in time, it is simply too early to give a definitive answer about any particular benefit or program, including the DRP.

42. Will there be an equity award for 2008?

The 2008 annual grant was approved by the Compensation Committee of Wendy's Board of Directors (April meeting) and will be explained to participants in the near future.

43. What should employees do while the sale is being completed?

Stay focused on the business and the things they can control.

44. If employees leave before the deal is completed, how does it affect benefits?

Guidelines outlined in Wendy's Policies and Procedures Manual apply.

45. Will Wendy's Severance Policies remain in effect?

Wendy's severance policy has been enhanced for 2008 (details are posted on WeNet under Wendy's Stay Program). For 2009, the merger agreement provides that Triarc will provide benefits that, in the aggregate, are not less favorable than the employee benefits (excluding extended health care coverage other than pursuant to COBRA) provided to Wendy's employees immediately prior to the closing.

46. One of the strategies for Arby's has been to acquire franchised restaurants. Do you see this same strategy for Wendy's, or do you see Company restaurants being acquired by franchisees?

The immediate strategic priority will be to improve restaurant level margins on Wendy's company owned units. Arby's buys from and also sells to franchisees from time to time with an overall strategic objective of increasing system-wide unit growth and market penetration.

47. Are there any provisions in the merger agreement that prevent Company markets from being sold to Franchisees after the closing?

No, and it's premature to speculate if any markets will be sold.

48. What about entering into long-term contracts with outside vendors?

We want to keep our business moving forward, but you should check with your department head and senior management before entering into long-term contracts. You should also review any projects requiring significant capital expenditures or major changes to your department budgets. He or she, in turn, will consult with the executive leadership team.

49. Will Wendy's International Foundation go away?

We hope to maintain Wendy's Foundation and continue to, in Dave's words, give back to the community.

50. How about support for the Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption?

The Wendy's family, particularly the franchise community, has a long tradition of supporting our signature cause, the Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption, and we hope to continue this effort. The Foundation is an independent, public charity. Nelson Peltz, Peter May and Ed Garden have announced their intention to give $1 million to DTFA following the closing of the transaction.

51. What about continuation of the Wendy's Political Action Committee?

Wendy's International, Inc. Political Action Committee is a completely voluntary program funded by personal (not corporate) contributions donated by Wendy's eligible U.S. franchisees and employees. The funds are used for political purposes. We would expect these activities to continue.

52. Will Wendy's have a fall Update meeting?

Yes, it is planned for September 22-23, in San Antonio, TX. Details will be shared in the future.

53. What happens to Pasta Pomodoro?

We own a 29% interest in Pasta Pomodoro, and it has not yet been determined what will happen with this asset.

54. Will there be any combination of Arby's Purchasing Cooperative and Wendy's Supply Chain?

This is something that will be determined following the successful completion of the merger.

55. What is the future of the New Bakery?

Roland has emphasized that maintaining Wendy's heritage for quality is an important part of Triarc's plan. The Triarc team has acknowledged hearing many positive comments about the New Bakery and is looking forward to working with the bakery team. However, it's really too soon to provide specifics about the future plans for the New Bakery.

About Arby's

56. What percentage of Arby's system is franchised?

Approximately 70 percent.

57. How many people work at Arby's corporate headquarters in Atlanta?

Approximately 400 people.

58. How can I learn more about Arby's and Triarc?

More information is available on Triarc's website at <http://www.triarc.com>.
